Journey of Hope: Love, Marriage, and Overcoming Infertility at 40 Samantha Fitts, Ed.D.,2020-08-16 There are some women who don't have a desire to get married and have children. However, Samantha was not one of them. Many women in their late 30s and early 40s postpone marriage or childbearing to obtain their education, establish their careers, and become financially secure. Unfortunately, this sometimes leads to difficulties in finding Mr. Right or conceiving or both. This can be an arduous and heartbreaking time of life when it seems lifelong hopes and dreams of family may not be possible. Samantha delayed marriage until the age of 36 after she'd pursued advanced degrees and established her career, not entirely by choice, since Mr. Right hadn't entered her life sooner. At times she wondered if it would ever happen. Once married, she and her husband wanted kids right away, only to suffer a miscarriage and the devastating diagnosis of infertility. In this book, Samantha shares her extraordinary journey of hope. You will discover how her faith in God and perseverance led her to the right husband and overcoming infertility to have their first baby at 40. Don't give up on your dreams; whatever they are, you still have time. Author Dr. Samantha Fitts is an educator, specialist, special education, literacy, education leadership, and adult learning professional, development presenter, and motivator. She has been in education for over twenty years. She is extremely passionate about helping others reach their professional and personal goals in life. Adult Baby Science Fiction (Nappy Version) Barry Oliver, Martin Coster, 2024-03-29 Science fiction allows us to explore otherwise impossible storylines, and as adult babies, we don't deserve a little bit of that. Stories of diapers and adult babies in places and times that don't really exist in our world. This compendium has two full novels: one of another world full of sentient animals where diapered regression can save it from destruction, while the other explores another world of diapered life available through the wonder of Virtual Reality. Then there is a story of travelling the multiverse in diapers as a sissy baby. And, of course, there has to be a story about magic. A compendium for everyone who wants something less predictable and more inspiring in our ABDL world.

Barren in the Promised Land Elaine Tyler May, 1997 Chronicling astonishing shifts in public attitudes toward reproduction, May reveals the intersection between public life and the most private part of our lives: sexuality, procreation, and family.

Trying to Conceive Genevieve Morton, 2013-01-24 Getting pregnant isn't easy. Have you spent months and months upside down riding an imaginary bike or scissor-kicking the ceiling? Or spent hours thinking, maybe I'm not ovulating, or maybe you're not aiming it right? Well, you're not alone. One in six couples experience some kind of fertility problem, and the average couple takes over six months to conceive. Author Genevieve Morton and her husband Ben started trying for a baby when she was 34. After 18 months of trying to get pregnant without success they realised that a positive pregnancy test might be harder than they thought. Sperm tests, a laparoscopy and a few ultrasounds proved nothing, leaving them with that most unsatisfactory of categorisations: unexplained infertility. If you're considering IUI (Intrauterine Insemination) or IVF (In Vitro Fertilization) or you're wondering what zinc can do for your partner's fertility, Trying to Conceive is the book for you. It brings you conception tips, advice, and first-hand insights from other people who have experienced only too well the emotional rollercoaster of trying to conceive. An honest and fun guide to coping with life while trying to conceive, Trying to Conceive is your A-Z survival guide if you're trying for a baby. Helping you cope with the drawn-out conception process and crucially written by someone who has been through the trials of unexplained infertility, Trying to Conceive gets you through the emotional, psychological, and physical experience of trying to conceive. Combining personal stories with medical advice, it's an easy-to-read, approachable guide to getting pregnant, including tips on how to ensure healthy ovulation, reduce the risk of impeding fertility, and deal with the stress of well-meaning pregnant friends. Trying to Conceive isn't overloaded with scientific medical language you don't understand. It isn't scary. It won't make you feel old or desperate either. Think of it more as your caring, wise, empathetic best friend guiding you through the difficulty of how to get pregnant.

On the Road to Baghdad, Or, Traveling Biculturalism Gönül Pultar, 2005. About the Book: This is a collection of essays on fiction written in English, Spanish, and Bengali that has emerged recently. This fiction is seen to reflect biculturalism, that is, the amalgam of two cultures that are both hegemonic in their own ways. This approach provides insight into the works discussed by uncovering elements of the seemingly other, non-Euroculture, and elevates both cultures to the same level. Authors discussed in the essays include Black British Caryl Phillips, Chicana Sandra Cisneros, Chinese American Maxine Hong Kingston, Cuban American Dolores Prida, Danish Izak Dinesen, Greek Americans Nikos Papandreou and Catherine Temma Davidson, Kenyan Ngugi wa Thiong'o, Japanese American John Okada, New Zealander Patricia Grace, Peruvian Jos Maria Arguedas, Turkish American Gneli Gn and contemporary English language Indian authors Vikram Chandra, Chitra B. Divakaruni, Attia Hosain, Manju Kapur, Arundhati Roy, Salman Rushdie, as well as Rabindranath Tagore. Praise: Perhaps only a decade ago such an ambitious world-spanning project would have seemed absurd outside a congress of anthropologists or bankers. Today it represents a state-of-the-art sensibility reflecting the efforts of an equally various geocultural assembly of scholars. The implications for a community of readers not only interested in but competently sensitive to such far-flung narrative geographies is equally stunning.
