Babylonian Historical Literary Texts:

Babylonian Historical-Literary Texts Albert Kirk Grayson, 1975-12-15 Early Assyriologists were lured to Babylonian studies by the light which cuneiform text shed on ancient history and the Bible and for later scholars this is still the attraction. The Age of Discovery is not past and one can still read literature that has been unseen by the eyes of man for millennia. There are myriads of tablets lying in the ancient ruins of Iraq, Iran, Syria and Turkey waiting for the excavator's spade. In museums there are quantities of inscriptions that have not yet been made public. Legends of the Kings of Akkade Joan Goodnick Westenholz, 1997-01-01 The most impressive legacy of the Dynasty of Akkade ca 2310-2160 B.C.E. was the widespread popular legends of its kings. Dr. Westenholz offers an annotated edition of all the known legends of the Akkadian kings with transliteration, translation and commentary. Of particular interest to biblical scholars is the inclusion of The Birth Legend of Sargon which is often compared to Moses in Exodus.

History, Texts and Art in Early Babylonia Piotr Steinkeller, 2017-06-12 These essays represent a summation of Piotr Steinkeller's decades-long thinking and writing about the history of third millennium BCE Babylonia and the ways in which it is reflected in ancient historical and literary sources and art as well as of how these written and visual materials may be used by the modern historian to attain if not a reliable record of history a comprehensive picture of how the ancients understood their history. The book focuses on the history of early Babylonian kingship as it evolved over a period from Late Uruk down to Old Babylonian times and the impact of the concepts of kingship on contemporaneous history writing and visual art. Here comparisons are drawn between Babylonia and similar developments in ancient Egypt, China and Mesoamerica. Other issues treated is the intersection between history writing and the scholarly lexical and literary traditions in early Babylonia and the question of how the modern historian should approach the study of ancient sources of historical nature. Such a broad and comprehensive overview is novel in Mesopotamian studies to date. As such it should contribute to an improved and more nuanced understanding of early Babylonian history.

Ancient Israelite Literature in Its Cultural Context John H. Walton, 1994-07 This book surveys within the various literary genres cosmologies, personal archives and epics, hymns and prayers, parallels between the Bible and Ancient Near Eastern literature.

The Apocalyptic Imagination John J. Collins, 1998-03-26 The Apocalyptic Imagination by John Collins is one of the most widely praised studies of Jewish apocalyptic literature ever written. This second edition represents a complete rewriting and a new chapter on the Dead Sea Scrolls.

Assyrian and Babylonian Chronicles Albert Kirk Grayson, 2000 Originally published Locust Valley, N.Y. August 1975. Jewish Cultural Encounters in the Ancient Mediterranean and Near Eastern World Mladen Popović, Myles Schoonover, Marijn Vandenberghe, 2017-01-23 The essays in this volume originate from the Third Qumran Institute Symposium held at the University of Groningen, December 2013. Taking the flexible concept of cultural encounter as a starting point, the essays in this volume bring together a panoply of approaches to the study of various cultural interactions between the people of ancient Israel Judea and Palestine and people from other parts of the ancient Mediterranean and Near Eastern world In order to study how cultural encounters shaped historical development literary traditions religious practice and political systems the contributors employ a broad spectrum of theoretical positions e g hybridity m tissage frontier studies postcolonialism entangled histories and multilingualism to interpret a diverse set of literary documentary archaeological epigraphic numismatic and iconographic sources

Imagining Religion Jonathan Z. Smith, 2024-07-31 With this influential book of essays Jonathan Z. Smith has pointed the academic study of religion in a new theoretical direction one neither theological nor willfully ideological Making use of examples as apparently diverse and exotic as the Maori cults in nineteenth century New Zealand and the events of Jonestown Smith shows that religion must be construed as conventional anthropological historical and as an exercise of imagination In his analyses religion emerges as the product of historically and geographically situated human ingenuity cognition and curiosity simply put as the result of human labor one of the decisive but wholly ordinary ways human beings create the worlds in which they live and make sense of them These seven essays display the critical intelligence creativity and sheer common sense that make Smith one of the most methodologically sophisticated and suggestive historians of religion writing today Smith scrutinizes the fundamental problems of taxonomy and comparison in religious studies suggestively redescribes such basic categories as canon and ritual and shows how frequently studied myths may more likely reflect situational incongruities than vaunted mimetic congruities His final essay on Jonestown demonstrates the interpretive power of the historian of religion to render intelligible that in our own day which seems most bizarre Richard S. Sarason Religious Studies Review

In Search of History John Van Seters, 1997 The primary concern of the book is to understand the origins and nature of history writing in ancient Israel The investigation is undertaken against the background of history writing in the Near Eastern and classical worlds Professor Van Seters begins with a broad survey of all the historiographic material relevant for the study of Israel's own writing of history He then turns his attention to the question of Israel's historiography by focusing particularly on the Deuteronomistic Historian the first Israelite historian

Art and Immortality in the Ancient Near East Mehmet-Ali Ataç, 2018-03-08 Far from being a Judeo-Christian invention apocalyptic thought had its roots in the ancient Near East and was expressed in its art

Joshua 24 as Poetic Narrative William T. Koopmans, 1990-04-01 Joshua 24 has long been recognized as a crucial chapter for source critical studies and for the reconstruction of Israel's early history The present volume summarizes and evaluates previous often contradictory efforts to explain Joshua 24 on the basis of literary criticism the role of covenant concepts in Israel's history writing form critical comparisons with treaty texts archaeological approaches to the Shechem traditions structural analysis and textual criticism a comprehensive and formidably documented volume

Wiseman,1991-03-21 This new examination of the region of Nebuchadrezzar II of Babylon 605 562 BC includes revised interpretations of the Babylonian Chronicles for his reign especially for the years of the campaigns against the West and the capture of Jerusalem Excavations at Babylon are used to give a view of the city in Neo Babylonian times including the royal Hanging Gardens and the ziggurat The varied literary genres current in this city of learning in the sixth century BC including dreams and prophecies and the role of hostages exiles and prisoners of war are used to throw light on the life of the Jewish exiles there An assessment of the character of Nebuchadrezzar as a military and political leader religious devotee and legal administrator is attempted on the basis of textual evidence Scripture in Context II William W. Hallo,James C. Moyer,Leo G. Perdue,1983 In the summers of 1978 and 1980 William W Hallo directed two National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Seminars both of which had the title Biblical History in its Near Eastern Setting These seminars conducted at Yale University have now resulted in two related collections of essays This second collection Scripture in Context II had its origins in the 1980 seminar Both seminars investigated in chronological sequence the major phases of ancient Near Eastern history and focused on the history literary traditions and religion of ancient Israel within the context of her cultural environs A major concern was to recognize and explore the implications of the way in which the native biblical and extra biblical literary traditions rendered account of themselves The methodology followed in the seminars and the resulting essays is the contextual approach This approach to the study of biblical history literature and religion is concerned not only to discover illuminating and insightful parallels between biblical and extrabiblical sources but also to note and recognize the implications of significant and important differences Jacket Zikir Šumim Stol,Veenhof,George L. van Driem,Krispijn,2024-07-15 Fictional Akkadian Autobiography Tremper Longman,1991 That autobiography in ancient literature is fictional has long been recognized The purpose of Longman's study is to delineate the genre of fictional autobiography in Akkadian texts with similar texts from other ancient Near Eastern cultures Included are the texts of all relevant fictional Akkadian autobiographies as well as an appendix containing English translations of them The results of the study are of interest to Assyriologists but also have implications for students of comparative literature and the Bible Judeans in Babylonia Tero Alstola,2019-12-16 In Judeans in Babylonia Tero Alstola presents a comprehensive investigation of deportees in the sixth and fifth centuries BCE By using cuneiform documents as his sources he offers the first book length social historical study of the Babylonian Exile commonly regarded as a pivotal period in the development of Judaism The results are considered in the light of the wider Babylonian society and contrasted against a comparison group of Neirabian deportees Studying texts from the cities and countryside and tracking developments over time Alstola shows that there was notable diversity in the Judeans socio economic status and integration into Babylonian society Cuneiform Parallels to the Old Testament, Second Edition Robert W.
