Rudolf Serkin Stephen Lehmann, Marion Faber, 2003 This book is the first biography of 20th century pianist Rudolf Serkin providing a narrative of Serkin's life with emphasis on his European roots and the impact of his move to America. Based on his personal papers and correspondence as well as extensive interviews with friends, family, and colleagues, the authors focus on three key aspects of Serkin's work, particularly as it unfolded in America: his art and career as a pianist, his activities as a pedagogue, including his long association with the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, and his key role in institutionalizing a redefinition of musical values in America through his work as artistic director of the Marlboro Music School and Festival in Vermont. A candid and colorful blend of narrative and interviews, it offers a probing look into the life and character of this very private man and powerful musical personality.

Where the Dark and the Light Folks Meet Randall Sandke, 2023-06-14 Where the Dark and the Light Folks Meet tackles a controversial question: Is jazz the product of an insulated African American environment, shut off from the rest of society by strictures of segregation and discrimination, or is it more properly understood as the juncture of a wide variety of influences under the broader umbrella of American culture? This book does not question that jazz was created and largely driven by African Americans, but rather posits that black culture has been more open to outside influences than most commentators are likely to admit. The majority of jazz writers, past and present, have embraced an exclusionary viewpoint. Where the Dark and the Light Folks Meet begins by looking at many of these writers from the birth of jazz history up to the present day to see how and why their views have strayed from the historical record. This book challenges many widely held beliefs regarding the history and nature of jazz in an attempt to free jazz of the socio-political baggage that has shrouded it.

Marga Richter Sharon Mirchandani, 2012-11-16 This is the first full-length introduction to the life and works of significant American composer Marga Richter, born 1926, who has written more than one hundred works for orchestra, chamber ensemble, dance, opera, voice, chorus, piano, organ, and harpsichord. Still actively composing in her eighties, Richter is particularly known for her large-scale works performed by ensembles such as the London Philharmonic Orchestra and the Civic Orchestra of Chicago, and for other pieces performed by prominent artists, including pianist Menahem Pressler, conductor Izler Solomon, and violinist Daniel Heifetz. Interspersing consideration of Richter's musical works with discussion of her life, her musical style, and the origins and performances of her works, Sharon Mirchandani documents a successful composer's professional and private life throughout the twentieth century. Covering Richter's formative years, her influences, and the phases of her career from the 1950s to the present, Mirchandani closely examines Richter's many interesting attractive musical works that draw inspiration from distinctly American Irish English and Asian sources Drawing extensively on interviews with the composer Mirchandani also provides detailed descriptions of Richter's scores and uses reviews and other secondary sources to provide contexts for her work including their relationship to modern dance to other musical styles and to 1970s feminism Chasin' the Bird Brian Priestley, 2007-05 Priestley offers new insight into Parker's career beginning as a teenager single mindedly devoted to mastering the saxophone through his death at 34 in such wretched condition that the doctor listed his age as 53 Goldberg Variations and Other Bach
