From the Mountains to the Bay Ethan S. Rafuse, 2022-12-09 From January to July of 1862 the armies and navies of the Union and Confederacy conducted an incredibly complex and remarkably diverse range of operations in the Commonwealth of Virginia Under the direction of leaders like Thomas Stonewall Jackson George McClellan Joseph E Johnston John Rodgers Robert E Lee Franklin Buchanan Irvin McDowell and Louis M Goldsborough men of the Union and Confederate armed forces marched over mountains and through shallow valleys maneuvered on and along great tidal rivers bridged and waded their tributaries battled malarial swamps dug trenches and constructed fortifications and advanced and retreated in search of operational and tactical advantage In the course of these operations the North demonstrated it had learned quite a bit from its setbacks of 1861 and was able to achieve significant operational and tactical success on both land and sea This enabled Union arms to bring a considerable portion of Virginia under Federal control in some cases temporarily and in others permanently Indeed at points during the spring and early summer of 1862 it appeared the North just might succeed in bringing about the defeat of the rebellion before the year was out A sweeping study of the operations on land and sea From the Mountains to the Bay is the only modern scholarly work that looks at the operations that took place in Virginia in early 1862 from the Romney Campaign that opened the year to the naval engagement between the Monitor and Merrimac to the movements and engagements fought by Union and Confederate forces in the Shenandoah Valley on the York James Peninsula and in northern Virginia as a single comprehensive campaign Rafuse draws from extensive research in primary sources to provide a fast paced complete account of operations throughout Virginia while also incorporating findings of recent scholarship on the factors that shaped these campaigns The work provides invaluable insights into the factors and individuals who shaped these operations how they influenced the course of the war the relationships between political leaders and men in uniform and how all these factors affected the development and execution of strategy operations and tactics Out of the Mountains
