Back to the Future J. Bowyer Bell,1996 The Irish Protestant Churches in the Twentieth Century Alan Megahey,2000-08-17 This book is unique in recording the history of all the Protestant churches in Ireland in the twentieth century though with particular focus on the two largest the Presbyterian and the Church of Ireland It examines the changes and chances in those churches during a turbulent period in Irish history relating their development to the wider social and political context Their structures and beliefs are examined and their influence both in Ireland and overseas is assessed

Northern Ireland's '68 Simon Prince,2018-08-21 The Troubles may have developed into a sectarian conflict but the violence was sparked by a small band of leftists who wanted Derry in October 1968 to be a repeat of Paris in May 1968 Like their French comrades Northern Ireland s sixty eighters had assumed that street fighting would lead to political struggle The struggle that followed however was between communities rather than classes In the divided society of Northern Ireland the interaction of the global and the local that was the hallmark of 1968 had tragic consequences Drawing on a wealth of new sources and scholarship Simon Prince s timely new edition offers a fresh and compelling interpretation of the civil rights movement of 1968 and the origins of the Troubles The authoritative and enthralling narrative weaves together accounts of high politics and grassroots protests mass movements and individuals and international trends and historic divisions to show how events in Northern Ireland and around the world were interlinked during 1968 Race and Ethnic Relations Martin Marger,2000 This is the only race and ethnic relations text available that combines international materials with the traditional material that focuses on American racial and ethnic issues This text offers instructors an opportunity to introduce comparative content in their courses while not sacrificing an American focus The Northern Ireland Conflict on the Margins of History Kenneth Funston, Cillian McGrattan, 2025-05-01 Assessing the impact of paramilitary violence on border Protestants in Northern Ireland remains a critically overlooked part of the region's history. Remembered through a framework of memory that blurs the boundary between victim and perpetrator, existing scholarship often disempowers border Protestants by obscuring their experience under the Provisional IRA's campaign. This re-examination of the conflict illuminates how the Troubles impacted the Protestant community's physical, economic, and cultural presence in the border counties. Combining oral history with a broader assessment of the Provisional campaign, this book presents a compelling case study for viewing this violence as a form of ethnic cleansing.

Consociational Power-Sharing in Northern Ireland Timofey Agarin, Rupert Taylor, 2025-09-12 Consociational Power Sharing in Northern Ireland from leading scholars in the field explores the evolution and challenges of consociational power sharing in Northern Ireland for politics and societal relations. Contributors to this book highlight that scholarship on consociational democracy anticipates political stability and continuous integration in post-conflict societies. However, over 25 years on from the Good Friday Agreement, concerns remain about the adequacy of consociational power sharing to ensure a fully functional form of government capable of providing stability and of addressing deeper political and social issues. While violence is absent, ethno-national identities remain in a state of a fragile equilibrium, and aspirations for significant progress on key issues like truth, justice, mutual respect, and socio-political inclusion have not been met. The reasons as to why this is so and what can be done to rectify it are central to the arguments that animate this timely book. Consociational Power Sharing in Northern Ireland will be of great interest to students and scholars in political science, law, and constitutionalism, nationalism, and ethnicity, and those interested in related topics in sociology and criminology. It will also appeal to practitioner communities related to power sharing, political representation, and constitutional politics.

A Troubled Sleep James Waller, 2021 Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork, comparative research, and over 110 hours of face-to-face interviews with a diverse range of political, academic, civil society, and community actors across Northern Ireland, Waller revisits one of the world's most deeply divided societies to analyze Northern Ireland's current vulnerabilities and points of resilience as an allegedly post-conflict society.

The Long Road to Peace in Northern Ireland Marianne Elliott, 2007-01-01 The ratification of the Good Friday Agreement in 1998 was the culmination of a lengthy and contentious peace process that involved the efforts of a committed team of political actors. In 2001, Marianne Elliott brought together a collection of essays by many of these pivotal figures in The Long Road to Peace in Northern Ireland, an invaluable resource for students, scholars, and politicians. Now Elliott, one of the most prominent chroniclers of Irish history, presents a fully updated edition with new essays commissioned to explore the events of the past five years. A period that saw successes such as the decommissioning of the Provisional IRA but also a rise in drug trafficking and organized crime, as a generation of men who have done nothing other than serve as paramilitaries are now finding their skills most valued as criminals. With contributions from U.S. Senator

George J Mitchell Sir David Goodall Jan Egeland Lord Owen and Peter Mandelsohn the second edition of The Long Road to Peace in Northern Ireland is an illuminating record of the ongoing peace process and its consequences told by the people directly involved in its evolution Northern Ireland United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs. Subcommittee on Europe, 1972 Combating Terrorism in Northern Ireland James Dingley, 2008-10-13 The essays in this volume unite analysis and practice in exploring both the conflict in Northern Ireland and the internationally applicable counter terrorism lessons which can be drawn from the response to it Refugees and Forced Displacement in Northern Ireland's Troubles Niall Gilmartin, Brendan Ciarán Browne, 2022-10-15 Though forced displacement constituted a central and pervasive feature of the Northern Ireland Troubles effecting tens of thousands of citizens remarkably it has been afforded little more than a footnote or fleeting reference in most accounts of the conflict This book seeks to end the silence surrounding this neglected and ubiquitous aspect of the conflict Based on 88 in depth qualitative interviews with victims and survivors and extensive secondary research this fascinating study provides the first comprehensive examination of forced displacement in Northern Ireland The analysis presented captures the unique perspectives of those forcibly uprooted over the course of the 30 year conflict and places on historical record their stories and experiences This thought provoking work challenges and broadens prevailing understandings of conflict related violence harm and loss in Northern Ireland to demonstrate the centrality of forced movement territory and demographics to the roots and subsequent trajectory of the Troubles In doing so it shows that to fully understand the eruption and outplaying of the Troubles and its elusive peace engagement with and understanding of the legacy of forced displacement is crucial Anti-Catholicism in Northern Ireland, 1600-1998 J. Brewer, G. Higgins, 1998-09-07 Anti Catholicism forms part of the dynamics to Northern Ireland s conflict and is critical to the self defining identity of certain Protestants However anti Catholicism is as much a sociology process as a theological dispute It was given a Scriptural underpinning in the history of Protestant Catholic relations in Ireland and wider British Irish relations in order to reinforce social divisions between the religious communities and to offer a deterministic belief system to justify them The book examines the socio economic and political processes that have led to theology being used in social closure and stratification between the seventeenth century and the present day Divided Cities Jon Calame, Esther Charlesworth, 2011-11-29 In Jerusalem Israeli and Jordanian militias patrolled a fortified impassable Green Line from 1948 until 1967 In Nicosia two walls and a buffer zone have segregated Turkish and Greek Cypriots since 1963 In Belfast peaceline barricades have separated working class Catholics and Protestants since 1969 In Beirut civil war from 1974 until 1990 turned a cosmopolitan city into a lethal patchwork of ethnic enclaves In Mostar the Croatian and Bosniak communities have occupied two autonomous sectors since 1993 These cities were not destined for partition by their social or political histories They were partitioned by politicians citizens and engineers according to limited information short range plans and often dubious motives How did it happen How can it be avoided Divided Cities explores the logic of violent urban
