Background Of Our War:

Pictorial History of our War with Spain Trumbull White, 2018-04-05 Reproduction of the original Pictorial History of our War with Spain by Trumbull White      History of Our War with Spain James Rankin Young, Joseph Hampton Moore, 1898      History of the War in Afghanistan Sir John William Kaye, 1851 The First Anglo Afghan War began in early 1839 when the British undertook an invasion of Afghanistan from India with the aim of overthrowing the Afghan ruler Amir Dost Mohammad Khan and replacing him with the supposedly pro British former ruler Shah Shuja The British were at first successful They installed Shah Shuja as ruler in Jalalabad and forced Dost Mohammad to flee the country But in 1841 Dost Mohammad returned to Afghanistan to lead an uprising against the invaders and Shah Shuja In one of the most disastrous defeats in British military history in January 1842 an Anglo Indian force of 4 500 men and thousands of followers was routed by Afghan tribesmen The British then sent a larger force from India to exact retribution and to recover hostages before finally withdrawing in October 1842 History of the War in Afghanistan is a two volume study of the war based on unpublished letters and journals by British political and military officers who served in the conflict The author Sir John William Kaye 1814 76 was a onetime officer in the army of the East India Company who resigned in 1841 to devote himself full time to the writing of military history The book begins with a detailed analysis of the events of 1800 1837 that led up to the war and of the Great Game of Central Asia the rivalry between Russia and Britain for influence in the region that spurred British intervention in Afghanistan This is followed by detailed accounts of the major battles and military campaigns Kaye joins other authors in concluding that the war was a disaster for Britain No failure so total and overwhelming as this is recorded in the page of history No lesson so grand and impressive is to be found in all the annals of the world Kaye also wrote a novel based on the war Long Engagements a Tale of the Affghan Rebellion 1846 and several other major historical works including The Life and Correspondence of Major General Sir John Malcolm 1856 and the three volume The History of the Sepoy War in India 1857 8 published in 1864 76      The Illustrated History of the War Against Russia Edward Henry Nolan, 1857      Our War on Ourselves Willem H. Vanderburg, 2011-01-01 Willem H Vanderburg s Our War on Ourselves explores the type of war we have unleashed on our lives by emphasizing discipline based processes      History of the War in Afghanistan Kaye, 1851      Our War Too Margaret Paton-Walsh, 2002 In the late 1930s a number of American women especially those allied with various peace and isolationist groups protested against the nation s entry into World War II While their story is fairly well known Margaret Paton Walsh reveals a far less familiar story of women who fervently felt that American intervention was absolutely necessary Paton Walsh recounts how the United States became involved in the war but does so through the eyes of American women who faced it as a necessary evil Covering the period between 1935 and 1941 she examines how these women functioned as political actors even though they were excluded from positions of power through activism in women s organizations informal women s networks and even male dominated lobbying groups In the Great

Debate over whether America should enter the war some women favored aid to the Allies not because they hoped for war but because they hoped aid would forestall more direct U S involvement but also because they believed war was preferable to a Nazi victory Paton Walsh shows that this activism involved some of the most prominent women of their day Elizabeth Cutter Morrow whose son in law Charles Lindbergh was an isolationist spokesman supported the revision of the Neutrality Acts to allow the sale of arms to the Allies and expressed her support in a national radio broadcast Soon other women joined this debate Esther Brunauer of the AAUW journalist Dorothy Thompson and organizations like the League of Women Voters and National Women s Trade Union League broke from the pacifist tradition to advocate American aid for the Allied cause Focusing on the conflict in Europe Paton Walsh shows how these women grasped the implications of the Lend Lease program for America s entry into the war but supported it nevertheless By late 1941 the Women s Division of the Fight for Freedom Committee had been established no longer merely advocating aid to Britain to keep American boys out of battle this organization supported direct American involvement in the war as a means of stopping Nazi oppression While most historians have focused on women s pacifism Paton Walsh connects women more directly to world events and shows how those interventionists reformulated maternalist ideas to justify and explain their beliefs Our War Too is a story of American women trying to reconcile the irreconcilable to preserve both their principles and their peace It expands our understanding of women as political actors and thinkers about foreign policy as it sheds new light on American public opinion over the build up to the war

 By a coincidence of singular interest in Central Asian affairs the completion of the Orenburg Tashkent railway occurred simultaneously with the evacuation of Lhasa by the troops of the Tibetan Mission the two events measuring in a manner the character of the policies pursued by the respective Governments of Great Britain and Russia in Mid Asia Moreover if consideration be given to them and the relation of each to contemporary affairs appreciated it becomes no longer possible to question the causes which have determined the superior position now held in Asia by our great opponent If this situation were the result of some sudden cataclysm of nature by which Russia had been violently projected from her territories in Europe across the lone wastes of the Kirghiz steppe into and beyond the region of the Pamirs or over the desert sands of the Kara Kum to the southern valleys of the Murghab river our periodic lament at the mastery of Central Asia by Russia would be more comprehensible But unfortunately the forward advance of Russia to the borders of Persia along the frontiers of Afghanistan to the north eastern slopes of the Hindu Kush has been gradual so gradual indeed that as each successive step became accomplished we have had time to register recognition of the fact in bursts of indignant chatter accompanied as is not unusual with us by a frothy clamour of empty threats Unluckily noisy outcry has been mistaken for action but from the moment when Russia first moved into Trans Caspian territory there appears to have been nothing but vague realisation of the acute possibilities with which the situation in Central Asia from that hour became impressed As time passed and the several phases vanished our indifference and supineness have increased until no chapter in the history of our Imperial affairs offers more melancholy reading than that which deals with the period covering the peaceful penetration of Asia by Russia In order to secure sufficient momentum for her descent railways were needed and while the line so lately completed between Orenburg and Tashkent is a more material factor in the situation than hitherto has been recognised the laying of the permanent way between Samarkand and Termez Askhabad and Meshed approximately gauges the duration of the interval separating Russia from the day when she will have rounded off her position in Mid Asia Just now therefore and for ten years to come strategic requirements should alone be permitted to influence the arrangement of our policy in High Asia Commercial developments within the vexed sphere of the Russian and British territories in this region should be regulated by circumstances which actually inherent in our Asiatic position have been too long ignored No question of sentiment no considerations of trade influenced the creation of railway communication between Orenburg and Tashkent the construction of the Murghab Valley line or the extension of the Trans Caspian system from Samarkand to Osh Strategy steely and calculating required Mid Russia to be linked with Mid Asia the irresistible expansion of empire following not so much the line of least resistance as the direction from which it would be placed in position for the next move Continents have been crossed kingdoms annihilated and provinces absorbed by Russia in her steady inimical progression towards the heart of Central Asia until there is nothing so important nor so intimately associated with our position in Afghanistan to day as the intricate perplexities which have emanated from this untoward approach From time to time attempts have been made to effect an adjustment of the points at issue The result has been unsatisfactory since the patchwork application of pen and paper has come as a rule in response to some accomplished coup upon the part of our astute opponent Indeed there is nothing in the result of any of these compromises which can be said to do credit to our knowledge of the existing situation Indifference coupled with a really lamentable ignorance distinguishes the conditions if not the atmosphere under which these rectifications of frontier and modifications of clauses in previously accepted treaties have been carried out But now that we have witnessed the joining of the rails between Orenburg and Tashkent let us put an end to our absurd philandering and appraising properly the true position of affairs let us be content to regard all further extension of the Russian railway system in Mid Asia as the climax of the situation To do this we must understand the points at issue and to day in Central Asia there are many causes which of themselves are sufficient to direct attention to them
