Backgrounds To Patterns Of Negro Segregation:

Backgrounds to Patterns of Negro Segregation Charles Spurgeon Johnson, 1943 Abiding Courage Gretchen Lemke-Santangelo, 2000-11-09 Between 1940 and 1945 thousands of African Americans migrated from the South to the East Bay Area of northern California in search of the social and economic mobility that was associated with the region's expanding defense industry and its reputation for greater racial tolerance Drawing on fifty oral interviews with migrants as well as on archival and other written records Abiding Courage examines the experiences of the African American women who migrated west and built communities there Gretchen Lemke Santangelo vividly shows how women made the transition from southern domestic and field work to jobs in an industrial wartime economy At the same time they were struggling to keep their families together establishing new households and creating community sustaining networks and institutions While white women shouldered the double burden of wage labor and housework black women faced even greater challenges finding houses and schools locating churches and medical services and contending with racism By focusing on women Lemke Santangelo provides new perspectives on where and how social change takes place and how community is established and maintained An African American Dilemma Zoë Burkholder, 2021 Presenting a revealing historical perspective on today's charged schooling choices An African American Dilemma illuminates the tensions between school integration and separation that have shaped the long history of black struggles for equal education and civil rights in the North Handbook of the Sociology of Racial and Ethnic Relations Hernan Vera, Joe R Feagin, 2007-08-03 The study of racial and ethnic relations has become one of the most studied aspects in sociology and sociological research In both North America and Europe many traditional cultures are feeling threatened by immigrants from Latin America Africa and Asia Sociology is at the hub of the human sciences concerned with racial and ethnic relations Since this discipline is made of multiple paradigms and methodological orientations it has been able to make relevant contributions to disciplines ranging from individual psychology social psychology and psychiatry to economics anthropology linguistics cultural studies health care delivery and education Handbook of the Sociology of Racial and Ethnic Relations Pinar Batur, Joe R. Feagin, 2018-06-11 The study of racial and ethnic relations has become one of the most written about aspects in sociology and sociological research In both North America and Europe many traditional cultures are feeling threatened by immigrants from Latin America Africa and Asia This handbook is a true international collaboration looking at racial and ethnic relations from an academic perspective It starts from the principle that sociology is at the hub of the human sciences concerned with racial and ethnic relations The Plessy Case Charles A. Lofgren, 1988-09-08 In 1896 the U S Supreme Court case Plessy v Ferguson upheld equal but separate accommodations for the white and colored races on all passenger railways within the state of Louisiana In this account with implications for present day America Lofgren traces the roots of this landmark case in the post Civil War South and pinpoints its moorings in the era's constitutional legal and intellectual doctrines After reviewing de facto racial separation and the shift

by southern states to legislate transportation segregation he shows that the Fourteenth Amendment became a ready vehicle for legitimating classification by race At the same time scientists and social scientists were proclaiming black racial inferiority and lower courts were embracing separate but equal in ordinary law suits Within this context a group of New Orleans blacks launched a judicial challenge to Louisiana's 1890 Separate Car Law and carried the case to the Supreme Court where the resulting opinions by Justices Henry Billings Brown and John Marshall Harlan pitted legal doctrines and expert opinion about race against the idea of a color blind Constitution Throughout his account Lofgren probes the intellectual premises that shaped this important episode in the history of law and race in America an episode that still raises troubling questions about racial classification and citizenship revealing its dynamics and place in the continuum of legal change

What Has This Got to Do with the Liberation of Black People? Robert C. Smith, Cedric Johnson, Robert G. Newby, 2014-03-01 A compelling intellectual and political study of a leading post civil rights era African American political theorist and strategist It is rare that a major leader of a protest movement also becomes an accomplished scholar who provides valuable insight into the movement in which he participated Yet this was precisely what Ronald W Walters 1938-2010 did Born in Wichita Kansas the young Walters led the first modern sit in protest during the summer of 1958 nearly two years before the more famous Greensboro sit in of 1960 After receiving a doctorate from American University Walters embarked on an extraordinary career of scholarship and activism Shaped by the civil rights and black power movements and the African and Caribbean liberation struggles Walters was a pioneer in the development of black studies and black science in political science A public intellectual as well as advisor and strategist to African American leaders Walters founded numerous organizations that shaped the post civil rights era A must read for scholars students pundits political leaders and activists What Has This Got to Do with the Liberation of Black People is a major contribution to the historiography of the civil rights and black power movements African American intellectual history political science and black studies They Rode with Forrest and Wheeler John E. Fisher, 2005-09-08 Thomas Burr Fisher was one of five brothers who served between them in the Fourth and Eleventh Tennessee Cavalry Regiments Confederate States Army with remarkable devotion Using Fisher's two memoirs one untitled written in 1915 and Life on the Common Level written in 1921 his correspondence records and other material along with the wartime diary of his brother William Fisher and extensive original research the history of the Western Cavalry is recounted here

Class, Race, and the Civil Rights Movement Jack M. Bloom, 2019-07-09 Revised and updated the award winning historical analysis of the civil rights movement examining the interplay of race and class in the American South In Race Class and the Civil Rights Movement sociologist Jack M Bloom explains what the civil rights movement was about why it was successful and why it fell short of some of its objectives With a unique sociohistorical analysis he argues that Southern racist practices were established by the agrarian upper class and that only when this class system was undermined did the civil rights movement become possible He also demonstrates how the movement was the culmination of political struggles beginning in the Reconstruction era and influenced by the New Deal policies of the 1930s Widely praise when it was first published 1987 Race Class and the Civil Rights Movement was a C Wright Mills Second Award winning book and also won the Gustavus Myers Center Outstanding Book Award In this second edition Bloom updates his study in light of current scholarship on civil rights history He also presents an analysis of the New Right within the Republican Party starting in the 1960s as a reaction to the civil rights movement

Smith,2008-11-13 What causes police brutality and why are minority citizens the primary victims Social scientists often attribute the behavior to poorly managed police departments bad cops or the interests of the powerful in controlling minorities perceived as criminal threats Malcolm D Holmes and Brad W Smith contend that these explanations fail to identify key causes of police misconduct particularly the use of excessive force Focusing on the interaction of ordinary social psychological processes and the disadvantaged conditions of minority neighborhoods Holmes and Smith develop an integrated model of police brutality that takes into account contemporary theory and research on social identity stereotypes and emotions factors that produce intergroup tensions and may trigger unwarranted acts of aggression Their approach overcomes existing theoretical difficulties and raises the question of how this complex social problem might be effectively addressed The Social-economic Background of Negro Youth in California ...
