Background of American History E.P. Cheyney, 2018-09-20 Reproduction of the original European Background of American History by E P Cheyney A History of European Literature Walter Cohen, 2017 Walter Cohen argues that the history of European literature and each of its standard periods can be illuminated by comparative consideration of the different literary languages within Europe and by the ties of European literature to world literature World literature is marked by recurrent systematic features outcomes of the way that language and literature are at once the products of major change and its agents Cohen tracks these features from ancient times to the present distinguishing five main overlapping stages Within that framework he shows that European literature s ongoing internal and external relationships are most visible at the level of form rather than of thematic statement or mimetic representation European literature emerges from world literature before the birth of Europe during antiquity whose Classical languages are the heirs to the complex heritage of Afro Eurasia This legacy is later transmitted by Latin to the various vernaculars The uniqueness of the process lies in the gradual displacement of the learned language by the vernacular long dominated by Romance literatures That development subsequently informs the second crucial differentiating dimension of European literature the multicontinental expansion of its languages and characteristic genres especially the novel beginning in the Renaissance This expansion ultimately results in the reintegration of European literature into world literature and thus in the creation of today s global literary system The distinctiveness of European literature is to be found in these interrelated trajectories The Oral Traditional

Lindberg-Wada, Margareta Petersson, Stefan Helgesson, 2011-12-22 Literary History Towards a Global Perspective is a research project funded by the Swedish Research Council Vetenskapsr det Initiated in 1996 and launched in 1999 it aims at finding suitable methods and approaches for studying and analysing literature globally emphasizing the comparative and intercultural aspect Even though we nowadays have fast and easy access to any kind of information on literature and literary history we encounter more than ever the difficulty of finding a credible overall perspective on world literary history Until today literary cultures and traditions have usually been studied separately each field using its own principles and methods Even the conceptual basis itself varies from section to section and the genre concepts employed are not mutually compatible As a consequence it is very difficult if not impossible for the interested layperson as well as for the professional student to gain a clear and fair perspective both on the literary traditions of other peoples and on one's own traditions The project can be considered as a contribution to gradually removing this problem and helping to gain a better understanding of literature and literary history by means of a concerted empirical research and deeper conceptual reflection The contributions to the four volumes are written in English by specialists from a large number of disciplines primarily from the fields of comparative literature Oriental studies and African studies in Sweden All of the literary texts discussed in the articles are in the original language Each one of the four volumes is devoted to a special research topic

9/11 in European Literature Svenja Frank, 2017-11-28 This volume looks at the representation of 9/11 and the resulting wars in European literature In the face of inner European divisions the texts under consideration take the terror attacks as a starting point to negotiate European as well as national identity While the volume shows that these identity formations are frequently based on the construction of two Others the US nation and a cultural ethnic idea of Muslim communities it also analyses examples which undermine such constructions This much more self-critical strand in European literature unveils the Eurocentrism of a supposedly general humanistic value system through the use of complex aesthetic strategies These strategies are in itself characteristic of the European reception as the Anglo Irish British Dutch Flemish French German Italian and Polish perspectives collected in this volume perceive of the terror attacks through the lens of continental media and semiotic theory

Background for Love Helen Wolff, Marion Detjen, 2025-05-06 A lush autobiographical story of young love 1930s C te d Azur and rising fascism in Nazi Germany by the famed publisher of Calvino Pasternak and Gunter Grass In a giddy rush a young woman and her older lover leave 1930s Berlin for a summer vacation on the C te d Azur As they drive along stunning bays linger over sumptuous meals and steal kisses on the street they seem marvelously in sync each enchanted by the other But as she observes her lover's wandering eye and rigid world view the woman decides to leave in search of a cottage of her own near Saint Tropez There amid the vineyards and lemon trees she will forge startling new connections and pass an unforgettable summer of independence and freedom Background for Love is an irresistible autobiographical novel by the great publisher Helen Wolff who together with her husband Kurt Wolff Kafka's first publisher set up Pantheon Books in America after fleeing

Nazi Germany In the fascinating companion essay historian Marion Detjen the author's great niece delves into Helen's path to writing and the autobiographical context of the novel in her early life with Kurt Helen is remembered as a great publisher a multilingual reader who brought authors such as Italo Calvino and Georges Simenon to English speaking readers only now is her own reputation as a writer coming to the fore Recently recovered from the archive and translated for the 1st time by Tristram Wolff the author's grandson this is a fast paced highly intense and emotionally gripping novel of passion and self discovery The Italian Renaissance in Its Historical Background Denys Hay, Moving Pictures, Still Lives James Tweedie, 2018 Moving Pictures Still Lives revisits the cinematic and intellectual atmosphere of the late twentieth century Against the backdrop of the historical fever of the 1980s and 1990s the rise of the heritage industry a global museum building boom and a cinematic fascination with costume dramas and literary adaptations it explores the work of artists and philosophers who complicated the usual association between tradition and the past or modernity and the future Author James Tweedie retraces the archaeomodern turn in films and theory that framed the past as a repository of abandoned but potentially transformative experiments He examines late twentieth century filmmakers who were inspired by old media especially painting and often viewed those art forms as portals to the modern past In detailed discussions of Alain Cavalier Terence Davies Jean Luc Godard Peter Greenaway Derek Jarman Agnès Varda and other key directors the book concentrates on films that fill the screen with a succession of tableaux vivants still lifes illuminated manuscripts and landscapes It also considers three key figures Walter Benjamin Gilles Deleuze and Serge Daney who grappled with the late twentieth century's characteristic concerns including history memory and belatedness It reframes their theoretical work on film as a mourning play for past revolutions and a means of reviving the possibilities of the modern age and its paradigmatic medium cinema during periods of political and cultural retrenchment Looking at cinema and the century in the rear view mirror the book highlights the unrealized potential visible in the history of film as well as the cinematic phantoms that remain in the digital age The Magic Red Carpet and the Groovy Wallpaper David Gallagher, 2013-03-17 The Magic Red Carpet and the Groovy Wallpaper is the first of many ghostly and scary tales involving magic mystery and a generally Kafkaesque atmosphere

Edith Wharton and Cosmopolitanism Meredith L. Goldsmith, Emily J. Orlando, 2016-09-16 Edith Wharton and Cosmopolitanism explores Edith Wharton's relation to the concept of cosmopolitanism as it extended toward her politics her aesthetics and her vision of cultural differences Essays explore Wharton's cosmopolitan ideas and ideals influences such as American art historian Charles Eliot Norton her attitudes toward transatlanticism and globalization and her art historical discoveries in Europe Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 2012 Young Europe and the Birth of Modern Nationalism in the Slavic World Anna Procyk, 2019-10-25 Giuseppe Mazzini's Young Europe and the Birth of Modern Nationalism in the Slavic World examines the intellectual currents in Eastern Europe that attracted educated youth after the Polish Revolution of 1830 1 Focusing on the political ideas brought to the Slavic world from the West by Polish migr conspirators Anna Procyk explores the core message that the Polish revolutionaries carried a message based on the democratic principles espoused by Young Europe's founder Giuseppe Mazzini. Based on archival sources as well as well documented publications in Eastern Europe, this study highlights that the national awakening among the Czechs, Slovaks, and Galician Ukrainians was not just cultural as is typically assumed but political as well. The documentary sources testify that at its inception, the political nationalism in Eastern Europe founded on the humanistic ideals promoted by Mazzini was republican, democratic in nature, and that the clandestine groups in Eastern Europe were cooperating with one another through underground channels. It was through this cooperation during the 1830s that the better educated Poles and Ukrainians in the political underground tied to Young Europe became aware that the interests of their nations bound together by the forces of history and political necessity were best served when they worked closely together.

Women and Gender in Central and Eastern Europe, Russia, and Eurasia Mary Zirin, Irina Livezeanu, Christine D. Worobec, June Pachuta Farris, 2015-03-26 This is the first comprehensive multidisciplinary and multilingual bibliography on Women and Gender in East Central Europe and the Balkans Vol 1 and The Lands of the Former Soviet Union Vol 2 over the past millennium. The coverage encompasses the relevant territories of the Russian, Hapsburg, and Ottoman empires, Germany, and Greece, and the Jewish and Roma diasporas. Topics range from legal status and marital customs to economic participation and gender roles, plus unparalleled documentation of women writers and artists and autobiographical works of all kinds. The volumes include approximately 30,000 bibliographic entries on works published through the end of 2000, as well as web sites and unpublished dissertations. Many of the individual entries are annotated with brief descriptions of major works, and the tables of contents for collections and anthologies. The entries are cross-referenced, and each volume includes indexes.

The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 1, 600-1660 George Watson, Ian Roy Willison, 1974-08-29 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 1 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature. The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis, articulation, and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition. The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade, to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available, and to re-shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries.

Hidden Multilingualism in 19th-Century European Literature Jana-Katharina Mende, 2023-08-21 The disparagement of multilingualism is a European development of the 18th and 19th centuries in which one national language and national literature were advocated, established, and institutionalised. Multilingual writers made use of the creative potential of several languages even then. However, they often adapted to an increasingly monolingual book market which made their individual multilingualism invisible. This is evident in literary historiography which established a monolingual national canon Researching hidden multilingualism is often difficult since multilingual texts by multilingual writers were often not published or were published in a monolingual version sources are scarce Literary histories of the time often do not mention multilingualism Furthermore many multilingual writers were members of minority groups women Jewish Non European and thus often neglected The volume offers methods and theories to systematically approach this hidden material as well as case studies on authors and national literatures in a multilingual context It thus contributes to the restructuring of a multilingual transnational literary history that is applicable to different philologies
