first meeting Not everyone knew each other but it didn't matter No one knew how to do this thing but that didn't matter either In 1993 the Right Reverend Frank K Allan 8th Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Atlanta was keeping an interested eye on the rapid development of a northern suburb known as Johns Creek He began to think about the Christian souls who were settling there putting down roots to begin a new life and raise their children in a new city Where would they worship How would they express their Christian faith What could he do meet their needs The Good Tree is the story of a group of parishioners from Saint David's Episcopal Church in Roswell who got together to build a mission church in nearby Alpharetta Beginning with prayer and enthusiasm and guided by the inspirational Father Noel Burtenshaw the founding of a new mission church was a deeply spiritual and yet very human journey for all concerned The Good Tree describes that journey from its unexpected beginnings through the first twenty five years of highs and lows twists and turns including the difficult period that followed the ordination of Canon Gene Robinson as Bishop of New Hampshire If you ever wondered how a church building comes to be in a particular place at a particular time or if you are interested in exploring the expression of Christianity in the modern world or if you are simply interested in reading an inspiring story about a group of ordinary people with a determined Christian purpose then you will enjoy reading The Good Tree

Eyes of Compassion: Learning from Thich Nhat Hanh Forest, Jim, 2021-05-19 A personal portrait of the life and teachings of Vietnamese Zen master Thich Nhat Hanh Biking for Consciousness Dada Vimalashananda, 2012-01-07 Biking for Consciousness does not mean only moving on a bicycle and doing meditation on the way It is a way of enforcing a warm relationship among fellow human beings that are caught in the dry race of surviving for money I have been blogging since May 2010 when I started to work at the project Biking for Consciousness Blogging is an amazing experience that I wish to continue At the same time the technology available today allows to transform a blog in a printed book It means that you can consolidate your on going diary at any point in a printed presentable form A book is an accomplishment in the sense that it has a word END There is a different flavor in it I will continue blogging at <http://dadavima.blogspot.com> The Message Only the warm human relationships among people of any creed or nationality can help human society to find its balance

International Perspectives on Pilgrimage Studies John Eade, Dionigi Albera, 2015-04-10 Although research on contemporary pilgrimage has expanded considerably since the early 1990s the conversation has largely been dominated by Anglophone researchers in anthropology ethnology sociology and religious studies from the United Kingdom the United States France and Northern Europe This volume challenges the hegemony of Anglophone scholarship by considering what can be learned from different national linguistic religious and disciplinary traditions with the aim of fostering a global exchange of ideas The chapters outline contributions made to the study of pilgrimage from a variety of international and methodological contexts and discuss what the metropolis can learn from these diverse perspectives While the Anglophone study of pilgrimage has largely been centred on and located within anthropological contexts in many other linguistic and academic traditions areas such as folk studies ethnology and economics have been highly influential Contributors show that in many traditions the study of folk beliefs and practices often marginalized within the Anglophone world has been regarded as an important and central area which contributes widely to the understanding of religion in general and pilgrimage specifically As several chapters in this book indicate folk based studies have played an important role in developing different methodological orientations in Poland Germany Japan Hungary Italy Ireland and England With a highly international focus this interdisciplinary volume aims to introduce new approaches to the study of pilgrimage and to transcend the boundary between center and periphery in this emerging discipline

Stop Drifting, Start Rowing Roz Savage, 2013-10-15 In 2007 Roz Savage set out to row 8 000 miles across the Pacific Ocean alone Despite having successfully rowed across the Atlantic the previous year the Pacific presented the former office worker with unprecedented challenges and overpowering currents both in the ocean water and within herself Crossing Earth s largest ocean alone might seem a long way removed from everyday life yet the lessons Roz learned about the inner journey the ocean and the world are relevant to all of us She shares tales of the ups and downs of her voyage across the waves while offering insights on how to find happiness through a meaningful and rewarding life
