for boxing's entire history but this time it was special. Most of the decade's major fights took place at boxing's spiritual home Madison Square Garden and most of the deals that made or ruined the lives of the era's many fine fighters were done on a famous strip of pavement across the road from the Garden. Jacobs Beach. And the man ruling that strip of pavement was a charming Italian murderer called Frankie Carbo. Lost in the Fifties, Wheeler Dixon examines the lost films and directors of the 1950s. Contrasting traditional themes of love, marriage and family, the author's 1950s film world unveils once-taboo issues and television shows such as Captain Midnight are juxtaposed with the cheerful world of I Love Lucy. Death and the Dolce Vita Stephen Gundle, 2020-01-16 A brilliant methodical investigation of a murder scandal that convulsed the Roman political and social establishment in the 1950s. Financial Times On April 9, 1953, twenty-one-year-old Wilma Montesi went missing from her family home in Rome. Thirty-six hours later, her body was found washed up on a neglected public beach. Some said it was suicide; others, a tragic accident. But as the police tried to close the case, darker rumors bubbled to the surface. Could it be that the mysterious death of this quiet conservative girl was linked to a drug-fueled orgy involving some of the richest and most powerful men in Italy? Death and the Dolce Vita, a hybrid of history and police detection, brilliantly recreates the details of the Montesi affair in light of the postwar economic miracolo italiano that inspired Fellini's classic film of libertine frivolity. As well as being a thriller, it provides an excellent account of the virtues and misdeeds of Europe's most foxy political class. Ian Thompson, The Guardian UK. An intense claustrophobic narrative of murder, mystery and scandal worthy of a Verdi opera, a page-turning narrative that explores its extraordinary characters and even more extraordinary cover-ups, evasions and dissemblage reaching to the top of Italian political life. The Scotsman UK. The Penniless Press, 2003. New Statesman, 2002. A Short History of Film Wheeler Winston Dixon, Gwendolyn Audrey Foster, 2008-03-01 The history of international cinema is now available in a concise, conveniently sized and affordable volume. Succinct yet comprehensive, A Short History of Film provides an accessible overview of the major movements, directors, studios and genres from the 1880s to the present. More than 250 rare stills and illustrations accompany the text, bringing readers face-to-face with many of the key players and films that have marked the industry. Beginning with precursors of what we call moving pictures, Wheeler Winston Dixon and Gwendolyn Audrey Foster lead a fast-paced tour through the invention of the kinetoscope, the introduction of sound and color between the two world wars, and ultimately the computer-generated imagery of the present day. They detail significant periods in world cinema, including the early major industries in Europe, the dominance of the Hollywood studio system in the 1930s and 1940s, and the French New Wave of the 1960s. Special attention is also given to small independent efforts in developing nations and the corresponding more personal independent film movement that briefly flourished in the United States; the significant filmmakers of all nations; censorship and regulation, and how they have affected production everywhere; and a wide range of studios and genres. Along the way, the authors take great care to incorporate the stories of women and other minority filmmakers who have often been overlooked in other texts.

Compact and easily readable this is the best one stop source for the history of world film available to students teachers and general audiences alike A Short History of Film, Third Edition Wheeler Winston Dixon, Gwendolyn Audrey Foster, 2018-03-30 With more than 250 images new information on international cinema especially Polish Chinese Russian Canadian and Iranian filmmakers an expanded section on African American filmmakers updated discussions of new works by major American directors and a new section on the rise of comic book movies and computer generated special effects this is the most up to date resource for film history courses in the twenty first century After Taste: Cultural Value and the Moving Image Julia Vassilieva, Constantine Verevis, 2014-01-02 In the wake of the debates over high low culture distinction spilling into the effective dismantling of the boundary that once separated them the past decade has seen the explosion of bad taste production on screen Starting with paracinema or badfilm a movement that has grown up around sleazy excessive or poorly executed B movies and has come to encompass disreputable and unworthy films this trend has been evident in various formats on television and in video art low budget and straight to TV films amateur and home movies The proliferation of trash on screen can be seen as delivering the final blow to the vexed issue of taste More importantly it prompts a reconsideration of some critical issues surrounding production circulation understanding and teaching of bad objects in the media This collection of essays written by international film and television scholars provides detailed critical analysis of the issues surrounding judgements of cultural value and taste feeling and affect cultural morals and politics research methodologies and teaching strategies in the new landscape of after taste media Addressing global and local developments from global Hollywood to Australian indigenous film and television through auteurs Sergei Eisenstein to Jerry Bruckheimer on to examples such as Twilight to Sukiyaki Western Django the essays in this book offer a range of critical tools for understanding the recent shifts affecting cultural aesthetic and political value of the moving image This book was originally published as a special issue of Continuum Journal of Media Cultural Studies Elia Kazan Brian Neve, 2008-10-30 In 1999 Elia Kazan 1909 2003 received an honorary Oscar for lifetime achievement it was a controversial award for in 1952 he had given testimony to the HUAC Committee for which he was ostracized by many That Oscar also acknowledged Kazan s remarkable contribution to American and world cinema making such films as On the Waterfront and A Streetcar Named Desire Kazan s life in the cinema is due a reassessment one that is presented expertly and gracefully by Brian Neve in this book drawing on previously neglected and some hitherto untapped sources Focussing in particular on the producer director s post On the Waterfront New York based independent work and on his key artistic collaborations including those with Tennessee Williams John Steinbeck and Budd Schulberg Neve gives a fascinating reassessment of Kazan s famed technique with such actors as Marlon Brando and James Dean and his lifetime concern to provoke and photograph authentic behaviour He reveals a pattern through the films of personally resonant themes relating for example to ethnicity and the American immigrant myth He reviews Kazan s style from the colour and wide screen of East of Eden to the creative use of location in his American South films including Baby Doll. He debates the reception of Kazan's work and the controversy which dogged his career of his 1952 Congressional testimony. These elements and more make this a very readable and memorable fresh portrayal of the film career of this ever fascinating director. Working with an impressively wide variety of archival material including Kazan's personal papers and notebooks, Brian Neve here offers a solidly researched, insightful and historically grounded portrait of Elia Kazan, his working methods, his 19 feature films from A Tree Grows in Brooklyn (1945) to The Last Tycoon (1976) and his place in the cinematic and social world of his age. Chuck Maland, Professor of Cinema Studies, American Studies, University of Tennessee.

Dolce vita Stephen Gundle, 2012-11-07. Quando Wilma Montesi viene trovata morta a Torvajonica, la Questura di Roma tenta di archiviare il caso in tutta fretta come morte accidentale. Ma lo scandalo scoppia, lo stesso e si espande fino a lambire la politica tra i presunti colpevoli c'è infatti Piero Piccioni, figlio di Attilio, erede designato di De Gasperi. Il processo infiamma la stampa e dalle gallerie di Via Margutta ai locali di Via Veneto tra nobili attori, paparazzi e avventurieri si moltiplicano mezze testimonianze e sensazionali rivelazioni. Con il piglio narrativo di un romanziere o di un regista, Stephen Gundle ricostruisce il caso e i suoi colpi di scena sullo sfondo dell'Italia della Dolce vita, una storia ancora viva nella memoria nazionale come una sinistra avvisaglia di molti mali a venire.
