Bloody Buna Lida Mayo, 1979 The War Against Japan, 1941-1945 John J. Sbrega, 2015-06-12 With over 5 200 entries this volume remains one of the most extensive annotated bibliographies on the USA's fight against Japan in the Second World War Including books articles and declassified documents up to the end of 1987 the book is organized into six categories Part 1 presents reference works including encyclopedias pictorial accounts military histories East Asian histories historiographies Part 2 covers diplomatic political aspects of the war against Japan Part 3 contains sources on the economic and legal aspects of the war against Japan Part 4 presents sources on the military aspects of the war embracing land air and sea forces Religious aspects of the war are covered in Part 5 and Part 6 deals with the social and cultural aspects including substantial sections on the treatment of Japanese minorities in the USA Hawaii Canada and Peru Anything, Anywhere, Anytime Sam McGowan, 2012-01-04 In December 1941 US Army pilots began hauling passengers and cargo around the Philippines after the Japanese attack on Clark Field thus beginning one of the most important air force missions of World War II As America geared up to fight the war dozens of what came to be known as troop carrier squadrons were activated and equipped usually with Douglas C 47 and C 53 version of the DC 8 transport Beginning in New Guinea US Army troop carrier crews became a crucial part of the effort to turn the tide of war In Europe troop carrier squadrons supported Army airborne forces and provided logistical support for air force squadrons During the Battle of the Bulge troop carrier crews kept the 101st Airborne Division supplied After the war troop carrier squadrons supplied the besieged city of Berlin Troop carrier crews supported UN forces in Korea then supported French efforts in Indochina where their successors would become crucial to US efforts in the 1960s and early 1970s This is their story Sanananda: a Bastard of a Place David W. Cameron, 2024-12-04 With the Australian troops crossing of the Kumusi River in mid November 1942 after pushing the Japanese back along the Kokoda Track to the north coast of Papua New Guinea the time had come to face the entrenched Japanese at their beachhead at Gona Buna and Sanananda The end of the Kokoda Campaign in mid November 1942 marked a turning point for the Australians but the fighting was far from over Within days the battles for the Japanese beachheads would commence The fighting for the Japanese beachheads was among the fiercest of the whole Pacific War and the first combined large scale operation between Australian and American troops against the Japanese By the 3rd January 1943 the Japanese beachheads at Gona and Buna were finally in Australian and American hands after almost two months of desperate fighting One beachhead however remained to be taken the best defended not only in terms of its deep defence and network of supporting bunkers and slit trenches but also by its large deep swamps and jungle Hundreds of men had already been killed Australian and American in trying to take Sanananda It was recognised that this beachhead was the worst of the three battlefields Isolated pockets of Australians and Americans confronted well dug in and camouflaged positions often on small islands in the fetid and crocodile infested swamps It would be another three weeks before Sanananda fell to the Australian and American forces It was appropriately described by Sergeant Bill Spencer 2 9th Battalion as A bastard of a place The War in the Pacific Duane Ryan,US Army Military History Institute,1978 The Allied Neutralisation of Rabaul Jon Diamond,2025-01-30 Details the 1943 1944 Allied strategy to neutralize Japan s Rabaul stronghold through fierce aerial sieges and targeted landings in the Pacific Fierce Pacific ground sea and aerial combat raged between the Allies and Imperial Japan to halt the latter s inexorable advance in 1942 1943 After the American victory at Guadalcanal in February 1943 Admiral Halsey s South Pacific Area SPA naval and amphibious forces battled through the Solomon Islands building new and acquiring extant Japanese airfields Simultaneously General Douglas MacArthur s Southwest Pacific Area SWPA Australian American ground forces supported by General George Kenney s US Fifth Air Force and other Allied air squadrons captured Japanese installations in Papua New Guinea before campaigning along Northeast New Guinea s northern coast ousting or bypassing enemy installations there Using newly built Papuan airfields the Allies gained air superiority over New Guinea and also interdicted Japanese maritime supply lines Yet the main Japanese southwest Pacific bastion at Rabaul on the northeastern tip of New Britain the largest island of the Bismarck Archipelago remained In March 1943 realizing an amphibious assault and ground campaign against Rabaul s naval and army bases would be too costly the US Joint Chiefs of Staff decided to neutralise Rabaul with a joint SPA and SWPA aerial siege rather than capture it This IOW volume recounts this strategy during 1943 and 1944 and the December 1943 amphibious landings by the US 1st Marine Division and US Sixth Army units at Cape Gloucester and Arawe respectively which successfully isolated the Japanese fortress and satellite bases

The Architect of Victory Peter J. Dean,2011-04-21 Lieutenant General Sir Frank Berryman is one of the most important yet relatively unknown officers in the history of the Australian Army Despite his reputedly caustic personality and noted conflicts with some senior officers Berryman was crucial to Australia s success during the Second World War But did the man known as Berry the Bastard deserve his reputation Bold calculating and talented Berryman was at the forefront of operations that led to the defeat of the Japanese and his operational planning secured Australia s victories at Bardia Tobruk and in New Guinea during the Pacific War With access to rare private papers Peter Dean charts Berryman s special relationships with senior US and Australian officers such as MacArthur Chamberlin Blamey Lavarack and Morshead and explains why the man poised to become the next Chief of General Staff would never fulfil his ambition West Point History of World War II

United States Military Academy,2016-11-08 Reader s Digest Endowed Book Fund Naval Warfare 1919-45 Malcolm H. Murfett,2008-11-04 Naval Warfare 1919 45 is a comprehensive history of the war at sea from the end of the Great War to the end of World War Two Showing the bewildering nature and complexity of the war facing those charged with fighting it around the world this book ranges far and wide sweeping across all naval theatres and those powers performing major as well as minor roles within them Armed with the latest material from an extensive set of sources Malcolm H Murfett has written an absorbing as well as a comprehensive reference work He demonstrates that superior equipment and the best intelligence ominous power and systematic planning vast finance and suitable training are often simply not enough in themselves to guarantee the successful outcome of a particular encounter at sea Sometimes the narrow difference between victory and defeat hinges on those infinite variables the individual s performance under acute pressure and sheer luck Naval Warfare 1919 45 is an analytical and interpretive study which is an accessible and fascinating read both for students and for interested members of the general public

World War II in the Pacific Stanley Sandler, 2003-12-16 Stanley Sandler one of America s most respected and best known military historians has brought together over 300 entries by some 200 specialists in the field to create the first encyclopedia specifically devoted to the Pacific Theatre of World War II Extending far beyond battles and hardware the coverage ranges from high policy making grand strategy and the significant persons and battles of the conflict to the organization of the Allied and Japanese divisions aircraft armor artillery psychological warfare warships and the home fronts covering the interactions of each topic along the way

America's First Battles, 1776-1965 Charles E. Heller, William A. Stofft, 1986-12-16 This volume a collection of eleven original essays by many of the foremost U S military historians focuses on the transition of the Army from parade ground to battleground in each of nine wars the United States has fought Through careful analysis of organization training and tactical doctrine each essay seeks to explain the strengths and weaknesses evidenced by the outcome of the first significant engagement or campaign of the war The concluding essay sets out to synthesize the findings and to discover whether or not American first battles manifest a characteristic rhythm America s First Battles provides a novel and intellectually challenging view of how America has prepared for war and how operations and tactics have changed over time The thrust of the book the emphasis on operational history is at the forefront of scholarly activity in military history

A Guide to the Study and Use of Military History John E. Jessup (Jr.), John E. Jessup, Robert W. Coakley, 1979 This Guide to the Study and Use of Military History is designed to foster an appreciation of the value of military history and explain its uses and the resources available for its study It is not a work to be read and lightly tossed aside but one the career soldier should read again or use as a reference at those times during his career when necessity or leisure turns him to the contemplation of the military past

A Guide to the Study and Use of Military History John E. Jessup, 1979 Special Bibliographic Series US Army Military History Research Collection, 1977

A Military History of Australia Jeffrey Grey, 1999-06-28 This book represents an expanded edition of one of the most acclaimed overviews of Australian military history available A Military History of Australia covers the major theatres of war in which Australia was engaged from Gallipoli to the Gulf War with particular attention to the Second World War and the war in the Pacific Yet the author extends the story back to the Australian colonies when the military were not only sent overseas to assist Britain in colonial wars but when armed conflict took place on Australian soil between indigenous Australians and the European settlers In addition the book discusses the evolution of defence policy in peace and war and the impact of war and the military on civilian society It maps the development of the Australian armed forces as institutions and the relationship of military policy to civil government The author considers the role war played in the development of Australian society and the Australian ethos Gentle Knight Leslie Anders,1985 Gona's Gone! David W.

Cameron,2023-08-02 With the Australian troops crossing of the Kumusi River in mid November 1942 after pushing the Japanese back along the Kokoda Track to the north coast of Papua New Guinea the time had come to face the entrenched Japanese at their beachheads at Gona Sanananda and Buna The Japanese were determined to fight to the last man in the defence of these critical positions The first beach to be captured by the Australians was Gona which fell on 9 December after bitter fighting This however was not the end of the fighting around this beachhead as just west of Gona on the opposite side of Gona Creek a larger Japanese Force had been landed which was intent on not only reinforcing Gona but also Sanananda and Buna both located east of Gona The fighting west of Gona Creek would be just as brutal and deadly as the fighting to take the Gona Beachhead Even so after this fighting Australian and American troops operating together for the first time in the Pacific War were still bogged down in the battles to take Sanananda and Buna the fighting at these beachheads would continue into January 1943 Routledge Handbook of the Global History of Warfare Kaushik Roy,Michael W.

Charney,2024-01-23 This handbook examines key aspects of the development of the global history of warfare and the changing patterns of warfare over time Although scholarship has long eschewed a chronological narrative of the evolution of warfare that privileges the Western experience global histories of warfare have had difficulty avoiding an overemphasis on the West The present volume is a collection of themes rather than a history per se it provides important perspectives on the emergence of warfare as a global historical experience from the ancient past to the present day Drawing together numerous experts it tells a broader more inclusive story of the global human experience with wars and warfare The 35 chapters are organised in eight thematic parts Part I Origins of Warfare Part II Politics and Armed Forces in the Pre Modern Era Part III Steppe Nomads of Eurasia Part IV Naval Warfare and Piracy in the Pre Industrial World Part V The Impact of Gunpowder Part VI Transition from Industrial to Total War Part VII Wars of Decolonisation and Cold War Part VIII Postmodern New Wars These Parts offer an overview of the global experience of warfare to help readers understand how the wars and the militaries we see today have been shaped by historical developments across the globe This handbook will be of great interest to students of military history naval history strategic studies and world history in general Australian Heroes of World War II

Mark Johnston,2025-10-01 Leading military historian Mark Johnston tells stories of the courage of individual soldiers across every battle in which Australians fought in World War II When Australians defended against Rommel's tanks at Tobruk and Alamein tackled paratroopers landing among them on Crete attacked French Foreign Legionnaires in Syrian forts held off Japanese tanks in Malaya fought hand to hand on the Kokoda Track and took on well hidden and tenacious Japanese in countless grim jungle clad locations brave individuals risked everything to bring victory Australian soldiers performed acts of remarkable bravery in the roles of stretcher bearers and snipers in victories and defeats and in desert and jungle Such astounding deeds were often rewarded with medals but many brave deeds went unrecognised and whether acknowledged or not the heroes often paid a heavy price for their courageous acts in the form of physical injury psychological trauma or death Australian Heroes of World War II features hundreds of stories that have been rarely if ever told and that are guaranteed to amaze Mark Johnston shows again why he is the premier historian of the Australian Army in WWII Peter Stanley Mark Johnston has produced a study of battlefield bravery that is both erudite and a page turner It is the story of ordinary Australians in extraordinary situations Karl James An outstanding contribution to our understanding of Australia's experience of war and a wonderful tribute to ordinary men whose remarkable deeds need to be remembered and honoured David Horner

Saving Port Moresby David W. Cameron, 2022-09-21 Commemorating the 80th Anniversary of the Battles in New Guinea David W. Cameron one of Australia's leading military historians new Kokoda Campaign series will take you from the Battle for Isurava to Port Moresby and finally the retaking of Kokoda For the first time these significant battles of Australian troops are comprehensively explored After taking Kokoda Plateau in late July 1942 Japanese forces entered the Owen Stanley Range their mission was to capture Port Moresby After the battles for Deniki and Isurava the Japanese pushed south through the mountains The Australians were in a determined fighting withdrawal After a delaying action at Templeton's Crossing they took up a position along Mission Ridge south of Efogi Village After two days of bloody hand to hand fighting in a battle known as Butcher's Corner the Australians were again forced to withdraw After further delaying actions fewer than 300 Australians took up a position on Ioribaiwa Ridge just 50 kilometres north of Port Moresby They were reinforced by the 25th Brigade After a week of fighting the Japanese cut through the 25th forcing the Australians to fall back to Imita Ridge the last defensible ridge in the Owen Stanleys immediately behind lay Port Moresby
