Donald Malcolm Reid, 2002-02-12 Egypt's rich and celebrated ancient past has served many causes throughout history in both Egypt and the West Concentrating on the era from Napoleon's conquest and the discovery of the Rosetta Stone to the outbreak of World War I this book examines the evolution of Egyptian archaeology in the context of Western imperialism and nascent Egyptian nationalism Traditionally histories of Egyptian archaeology have celebrated Western discoverers such as Champollion Mariette Maspero and Petrie while slighting Rifa'a al-Tahtawi Ahmad Kamal and other Egyptians This exceptionally well illustrated and well researched book writes Egyptians into the history of archaeology and museums in their own country and shows how changing perceptions of the past helped shape ideas of modern national identity Drawing from rich archival sources in Egypt the United Kingdom and France and from little known Arabic publications Reid discusses previously neglected topics in both scholarly Egyptology and the popular Egyptomania displayed in world's fairs and Orientalist painting and photography He also examines the link between archaeology and the rise of the modern tourist industry This richly detailed narrative discusses not only Western and Egyptian perceptions of pharaonic history and archaeology but also perceptions of Egypt's Greco-Roman Coptic and Islamic eras Throughout this book Reid demonstrates how the emergence of archaeology affected the interests and self-perceptions of modern Egyptians In addition to uncovering a wealth of significant new material on the history of archaeology and museums in Egypt Reid provides a fascinating window on questions of cultural heritage how it is perceived constructed claimed and contested     The Elephantine Papyri in English

Goodwin, 1999 Economists historically have had very little to say about art In the latter part of the twentieth century however difficult issues such as pricing and art valuation the influence of the fashionable on pricing and the nature of auction all began to be explored Economic Engagements with Art suggests that taste and fashion in art need not be mysterious or outside rational discourse and that these matters can be studied by economists to the benefit of the discipline      The Political Situation in Egypt During the Second Intermediate Period, C. 1800-1550 B.C. K. S. B. Ryholt, Adam Bülow-Jacobsen, 1997 The Second Intermediate Period designates the 250 year period 1800-1550 BC which separates the two glorious periods of the Middle Kingdom and the New Kingdom During the 19th century BC an invasion by Canaanite tribes into the Delta took place Around 1800 BC these people proclaimed their own king and the Delta thus became independent from the rest of Egypt Egypt remained split between the Canaanitic rulers in North and the native Egyptian Kings in the South for the rest of the Second Intermediate Period The division of Egypt brought about an economic decline and the entire period is characterized by a lack of royal monuments This circumstance has greatly hampered any attempts to establish a chronology of the period and as a consequence it has been very difficult to date many sources which are relevant for the social and political situation of the period The Second Intermediate Period has therefore remained one of the most obscure periods of Egypt's ancient history The dissertation is a new attempt to establish a chronology for the Second Intermediate Period and define the different kingdoms their territories and political relations The study consists of four main chapters three appendixes a catalogue of sources bibliography and indices Included is a catalogue of all the historical sources about 1500 known to certify the names of the Egyptian kings of the Second Intermediate Period Each source is described in terms of type origin and present location followed by bibliographical references
