Choiseul Island Social Structure:

Choiseul Island Social Structure H. W. Scheffler, 2023-11-15 Choiseul Island Social Structure offers a comprehensive exploration of the social organization and cultural practices of Choiseul Island in the British Solomon Islands Protectorate primarily focusing on the Yarisi area Based on extensive fieldwork conducted over 18 months between 1958 and 1961 this anthropological study reconstructs the societal framework as it was around 1900 offering insights into both past traditions and their lingering influences on the present By examining the continuity and changes in Choiseulese society the author navigates complex issues like the interplay of historical narratives cultural norms and lived experiences The book also tackles the challenges of studying non unilineal or ambilateral kin groups offering a detailed analysis of how such societies manage overlapping genealogical networks and maintain discrete social groupings This scholarly work critically addresses theoretical debates about descent kinship and social processes aiming to link cultural ideologies with real world social actions By redefining terminologies and methodologies the study sheds light on the cognatic descent problem and contributes significantly to anthropological discussions on descent groups in the Pacific With its careful synthesis of historical and contemporary data the book not only provides a vivid portrayal of Choiseulese social life but also advances broader understandings of kinship systems and social dynamics It is an invaluable resource for anthropologists historians and anyone interested in the complexities of Pacific Island cultures This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1965 Choiseul Island Social Structure Harold W. Scheffler, Strategies and Norms in a Changing Matrilineal Society Ladislav Holý, 1986 Analyzes the changes in the kinship patterns of the Toka of South Zambia as they shifted their form of production from hoe agriculture to ox drawn plowing Confronts several theoretical issues of current anthropology including the nature of descent and the distinction and relationship between descent groups and categories Rules, Exceptions, and Social Order Robert B. Edgerton, 2022-09-23 This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1985 Structure and Process in a Melanesian Society A.H. Carrier, J.G. Carrier, 2012-10-12 First Published in 1991 In the 1980s many anthropologists rejected the classic concern with the structure and logic of social organisation and embraced instead a concern with process with the fluidity of events and individual strategy Through its analysis of a Melanesian society and the ways it has changed in the twentieth century this book addresses the relationship between the classic structural approach and the more recent processual one The society analysed is Ponam located on a small island in Papua New Guinea The book describes Ponam kinship and ceremonial exchange and so compliments the authors analysis of Onam economic organisation in Wage Tarde and Exchange in Melanesia Like its companion volume this book locates Ponanm in its broader social political and economic environment

World Military History Annotated Bibliography Barton Hacker,2004-12-01 Military institutions and methods of warfare in the non Western world from antiquity through the early 20th century provide the chief subjects of this annotated bibliography of works published before 1967 Especially rich in references to periodical literature it emphasizes military organization and relationships between military and other social institutions rather than wars and battles The bibliography comprises seven parts 1 general and comparative topics including works on the social cultural and biological causes of war 2 the ancient world 3 western Eurasia since antiquity 4 eastern Eurasia since antiquity 5 sub Saharan Africa and Oceania 6 pre Columbian America and 7 Indians in post contact America Pacific Forest Judith Bennett,2021-10-25 This book addresses the contending views of the uses of Solomon Island forest Ranging from an examination of the interaction between the first settlers and their forest the book goes on to analyse the attitudes of the British administrators planters and missionaries The colonial government sought to protect the resource but neglected to consider the wishes of the forest s inhabitants in planning for its future economic use The independent governments failed to protect the dwindling forest on customary land in the face of accelerating demands from their own people and of Asian based logging companies while non governmental organisations and aid donors have tried to invoke a more conservative regime of forest use Melanesians and Missionaries Darrell L. Whiteman,2002-05-10 In Melanesians and Missionaries one of the best of the younger generation of missionary anthropologists demonstrates that a commitment to the missionary enterprise on the part of a solid scholar facilitates rather than hinders the anthropological study of a missionary topic This is better anthropology because Dr Whiteman is able to probe more deeply into his topic and demonstrates that he understands and appreciates both Melanesians and missionaries Charles H Kraft Professor of Anthropology School of World Mission Fuller Theological Seminary Pasadena From Primitive to Postcolonial in Melanesia and Anthropology Bruce Knauft,2025-10-01 What have anthropologists taught us about Melanesia one of anthropology s most important and intensively studied world regions In this book Professor Bruce Knauft draws together and critically reanalyzes what we know about major features of Melanesian cultural history warfare and politics gender bodily practices and spirituality as discerned from more than a century of academic study From Primitive to Postcolonial in Melanesia and Anthropology is arguably the most comprehensive single reassessment of Melanesia as an ethnographic world area to have been published in several decades Written for students as well as professional scholars this work further broadens our understanding by analyzing the history of Melanesian ethnography and relating this history to the larger relationship between Melanesia as a contemporary world area and anthropology as a field of contemporary human study Bruce M Knauft is Professor of Anthropology Emory University and the author of three previous books as well as some thirty journal articles and chapters Knauff's interests span a wide range of issues in the anthropology of Melanesia and he is articulate with general issues of cultural theory and anthropological history

The Character of Kinship Jack Goody, 1975-10-02 In his editorial introduction Jack Goody explains that his aim has been to provide essays dealing with general themes rather than ethnographic conundrums or descriptive minutiae in the hope of achieving reconsideration of some central problem areas including those examined by an earlier generation of anthropologists and still raised by scholars outside the discipline itself

Focality and Extension in Kinship Warren Shapiro, 2018-04-20 When we think of kinship we usually think of ties between people based upon blood or marriage But we also have other ways nowadays called performative of establishing kinship or hinting at kinship many Christians have in addition to parents godparents members of a trade union may refer to each other as brother or sister Similar performative ties are even more common among the so called tribal peoples that anthropologists have studied and especially in recent years they have received considerable attention from scholars in this field However these scholars tend to argue that performative kinship in the Tribal World is semantically on a par with kinship established through procreation and marriage Harold Scheffler long time Professor of Anthropology at Yale University has argued by contrast that procreative ties are everywhere semantically central i.e. focal that they provide bases from which other kinship ties are extended Most of the essays in this volume illustrate the validity of Scheffler's position though two contest it and one exemplifies the soundness of a similarly universalistic stance in gender behaviour This book will be of interest to everyone concerned with current controversy in kinship and gender studies as well as those who would know what anthropologists have to say about human nature The study of kinship once ruled the discipline of anthropology and Hal Scheffler was one of its magisterial figures This volume reminds us why Scheffler's powerful analyses of kinship systems often conflicted with the views of his more relativist contemporaries He cut through the fog of theory to emphasise the human essentials namely the importance of the social bonds rooted in motherhood and fatherhood Anthropology in its decades long retreat from the serious study of kinship has lost a great deal This volume points the way to a restoration Peter Wood National Association of Scholars

Prophets of Melanesia G. W. Trompf, Keith W. Carley, 1977

Pintupi Country, Pintupi Self Fred R. Myers, 1991-05-02 The Pintupi a hunting and gathering people of Australia's Western Desert were among the last Aborigines to come into contact with white Australians Anthropologist Fred Myers who has been working with the Pintupi since 1973 presents an innovative study of this small scale spatially dispersed egalitarian society His comprehensive ethnography focuses on contradictions between indigenous ideas of individual autonomy and those of relatedness a tension mediated in politics spatial relations and the mythological construction of The Dreaming Myers sophisticated analysis shows how these contradictions shape Pintupi personhood despite the duress of recent relocation in settlements these Aboriginal people struggle to define themselves in terms of this cultural logic

Sensing Disaster Dr. Matthew Lauer, 2023-03-07 In 2007 a three story high tsunami slammed the small island of Simbo in the western Solomon Islands Drawing on over ten years of research Matthew Lauer provides a vivid and intimate account of this calamitous event and the tumultuous recovery process His stimulating analysis surveys the unpredictable entanglements of the powerful waves with colonization capitalism human animal communication spirit beings ancestral territory and technoscientific expertise that shaped the disaster s outcomes Although the Simbo people had never experienced another tsunami in their lifetimes nearly everyone fled to safety before the destructive waves hit To understand their astonishing response Lauer argues that we need to rethink popular and scholarly portrayals of Indigenous knowledge to avert epistemic imperialism and improve disaster preparedness strategies In an increasingly disaster prone era of ecological crises this provocative book brings new possibilities into view for understanding the causes and consequences of calamity the unintended effects of humanitarian recovery and mitigation efforts and the nature of local knowledge

Native Cultures of the Pacific Islands Douglas L. Oliver,2021-05-25 Even before Western contact the Pacific Islanders inhabited nearly every island north and east of Australia a thousand distinctive peoples This overview of the cultures of the Pacific Islands treats their physical setting prehistory activities and social relations before European influences subjected them to radical changes It is intended mainly for college level students in courses dealing with the region but Native Cultures of the Pacific Islands will also be enjoyed by those interested in the Pacific Islands and by visitors to the Pacific The book is an abridgement of the author s larger two volume work Oceania The Native Cultures of Australia and the Pacific Islands Native Cultures of the Pacific Islands contains a number of maps and illustrations from the larger work

Payback G. W. Trompf,1994-07-14 In this ambitious study the first monograph on religion and the logic of retribution Professor Trompf shows how various aspects of payback both negative and positive provide the best indices to an understanding of Melanesian views of life The book explores the reasons why people pay back and opens up a whole new dimension in the cross cultural study of human consciousness The author conducts his readers through the most complex anthropological pageant on earth illustrating his arguments from western New Guinea to Fiji

Archaeologies of Island Melanesia Mathieu Leclerc,James Flexner,2019-08-08 The island world of Melanesia ranging from New Guinea and the Bismarcks through the Solomons Vanuatu and New Caledonia is characterised more than anything by its boundless diversity in geography language and culture The deep historical roots of this diversity are only beginning to be uncovered by archaeological investigations but as the contributions to this volume demonstrate the exciting discoveries being made across this region are opening windows to our understanding of the historical processes that contributed to such remarkably varied cultures Archaeologies of Island Melanesia offers a sampling of some of the recent and ongoing research that spans such topics as landscape exchange systems culture contact and archaeological practice authored by some of the leading scholars in Oceanic archaeology Professor Patrick Vinton Kirch Professor of Anthropology University of Hawai i Island Melanesia is a remarkable region in many respects from its great ecological and linguistic diversity to the complex histories of settlement and interaction spanning from the Pleistocene to the present Archaeological research in Island Melanesia is currently going through a vibrant phase of exciting new discoveries and challenging debates about questions that apply far beyond the region This volume draws together a variety of current perspectives in regional archaeology for Island Melanesia focusing on Vanuatu the Solomon Islands New Caledonia and Papua New Guinea It features both high level theoretical approaches and rigorous data driven case studies covering recent research in landscape archaeology exchange and material culture and cultural practices

Incest Avoidance and the Incest Taboos Arthur P. Wolf, 2014-04-16 Why do most people never have sex with close relatives And why do they disapprove of other people doing so Incest Avoidance and Incest Taboos investigates our human inclination to avoid incest and the powerful taboo against incest found in all societies Both subjects stir strong feelings and vigorous arguments within and beyond academic circles With great clarity Wolf lays out the modern assumptions about both concluding that all previous approaches lack precision and balance on insecure evidence Researchers he calls constitutionalists explain human incest avoidance by biologically based natural aversion but fail to explain incest taboos as cultural universals By contrast conventionalists ignore the evolutionary roots of avoidance and assume that incest avoidant behavior is guided solely by cultural taboos Both theories are incomplete Wolf tests his own theory with three natural experiments bint amm cousin marriage in Morocco the rarity of marriage within Israeli kibbutz peer groups and minor marriages in which baby girls were raised by their future mother in law to marry an adoptive brother in China and Taiwan These cross cultural comparisons complete his original and intellectually rich theory of incest one that marries biology and culture by accounting for both avoidance and taboo
