Christ And Context The Confrontation Between Gospel And Culture:

Christ and Context Hilary Regan, Alan J. Torrance, 2016-10-06 There is a growing awareness of cultural diversity and plurality on the one hand and shared responsibility for our planet on the other The sense of cultural identity exposes the wealth and richness of our heritage but also introduces its risks like the proliferation of often violent independence and separatist movements A sense of shared responsibility represents the hope to avoid ecological catastrophe and highlights the problems of inequality poverty and suffering Is our understanding of cultures and contexts affected or even dramatically transformed by our perception of Christ and Trinitarian theology This series of essays addresses the issues of cultural plurality and diversity poverty sexist and racist oppression and ecological crisis and aims to discuss the place of Christ in our understanding of human contextuality Authors include Gustavo Guti rrez J rgen Moltmann Johann Metz Janet Martin Soskice and John de Gruchy

An Immigration of Theology Simon C. Kim, 2012-05-03 The theological reflections of Virgilio Elizondo and Gustavo Gutierrez are examples of the ecclesial fruitfulness of the second half of the twentieth century Following the directives of Pope John XXIII and the Second Vatican Council Elizondo and Gutierrez present the Gospel message in relevant terms to their own people by engaging the world as the Church of the poor Inspired by this moment in Church history while at the same time recognizing the plight of their people in their poor and marginal existence Elizondo and Gutierrez discovered a new way of doing theology by asking a specific set of questions based on their local context By investigating where God is present in the border crossers of the southwestern United States and the poorest of the poor in Latin America both theologians have uncovered a hermeneutical lens in rereading Scripture and deepening our understanding of ecclesial tradition Elizondo s mestizaje and Gutierrez s preferential option for the poor arose out of a theology of context a theological method that takes seriously the contextual circumstances of their locale By utilizing the common loci theologici of Scripture and tradition in conjunction with context and their own experience Elizondo and Gutierrez illustrate through their theologies how every group must embrace their own unique theological reflection

Reason, Truth, and Theology in Pragmatist Perspective Paul D. Murray, 2004 In this work Paul Murray explores which style of rationality is most appropriate to Christian theology in the contemporary pluralist postfoundationalist postmodern context At its heart is a fresh consideration of the American pragmatist tradition focussing on the writings of Richard Rorty and Nicholas Rescher Where Rorty correctly diagnoses the failures of foundationalist objectivism Rescher s pragmatic idealism is presented as healing the ills in Rorty s own neo pragmatism The significant resonance between Rescher s view of rationality and Christian understanding of the trinity is explored In turn Donald MacKinnon s influential writings are presented as exemplifying just such an approach to theology Murray both articulates an enriched form of Christian postliberalism committed to receiving and learning from other traditions of thought and practice and probes the claim that the dynamics of human rationality can be expected to reflect the Trinitarian dynamics of God s being Paul Murray presents us here with an exhaustive and insightful study of recent pragmatic theory in which he sets up rhythms of healing and completion as well as interrogation particularly remarkable is his exploration of Christianity as the deep and in some sense final interlocutor of pragmatic tradition I strongly recommend this book Olivier Davis Professor of Christian Doctrine King's College London This is a mature wide ranging work that by uniting the intellectual and the practical carries both rational and ethical conviction It does equal justice to the classic teachings of Christianity and to the challenges to rethink them in dialogue with modern and postmodern approaches The result is a conception of Christianity both generously orthodox and deeply engaged with contemporary life and thought It is especially good to see the profound contribution of Donald MacKinnon understood and developed with such perception and relevance David F Ford Regius Professor of Divinity University of Cambridge Paul Murray is currently Lecturer in Systematic Theology within the Department of Theology at the University of Durham England He has previously held posts at St Cuthbert's Seminary Ushaw College Durham and Newman College of Higher Education Birmingham Essays of his exploring issues in philosophical theology science and theology and contemporary Roman Catholic theology have appeared in leading journals and edited collections This is his first monograph

Christology in Cultural Perspective Rev. Dr. Colin J. D. Greene, 2015-10-14 Christology defines the very heart of the Christian faith Traditionally the study of the person and work of Christ has been understood largely as an exercise in biblical exegesis or historical and doctrinal analysis Rarely if ever has Christology focused on the changing cultural paradigms that have deeply influenced the development of human knowledge and self understanding This unique volume by Colin Greene reverses that trend and in line with developments in modern cultural theory explores the interlaces between successive cultural contexts and the story of Jesus to which the Scriptures bear witness Starting with an examination of the three main Christological trajectories that have dominated the history of Christology cosmological Christology political Christology and anthropological Christology Greene proceeds to concentrate on the subtle and complex linkages between Christology and the sociopolitical paradigms that have bolstered the epistemological assumptions of modernity Greene's wide ranging study closes with a creative exploration into how Christology might once again provide us with a Christ centered vision of reality

The Logic of Intersubjectivity Darren M. Slade, 2020-08-27 To survey harsh criticisms against Brian Douglas McLaren 1956 readers gain the inaccurate impression that he is a heretical relativist who denies objective truth and logic While McLaren's inflammatory and provocative writing style is partly to blame this study also suspects that his critics base much of their analyses on only small portions of his overall corpus The result becomes a caricature of McLaren's actual philosophy of religion What is argued in this book is that McLaren's philosophy of religion suggests a faith based intersubjective relationship with the divine ought to result in an existential appropriation of Christ's religio ethical teachings When subjectively internalized this appropriation will lead to the assimilation of Jesus kingdom priorities thereby transforming the believer's identity into one that actualizes Jesus kingdom ideals The hope of this book is that by tracing McLaren's philosophy of Christian religion future researchers will not only be able to comprehend and perhaps empathize with McLaren's line of reasoning but they will also possess a more nuanced discernment of where they agree and disagree with his overall rationale

Rethinking Media, Religion, and Culture Stewart M. Hoover, Knut Lundby, 1997-01-31 This book links the growing connections between media culture and religion into a coherent theoretical whole. It examines amongst others the effect on cultural practices and the increasing autonomy and individualized practice of religion. Christians and Christianity in India

Today Lalsangkima Pachuau, Allan Varghese Meloottu, 2024-11-12 This collection provides a panoramic view of the many facets of contemporary Indian Christianity. Examining this subject through historical theological and missional lenses the essays here explore the main themes driving Indian Christian life and thought today. Among the issues analyzed are Indian Christianity's theological foundations, ecclesiology, worship practices and public theology as well as the interreligious and political environment of contemporary India.

Seditious Theology Mark Johnson, 2016-04-01 Seditious Theology explores the much analysed British punk movement of the 1970s from a theological perspective. Imaginatively engaging with subjects such as subversion, deconstruction, confrontation and sedition, this book highlights the stark contrasts between the punk genre and the ministry of Jesus while revealing surprising similarities and in so doing demonstrates how we may look at both subjects in fresh and unusual ways. Johnson looks at both punk and Jesus and their challenges to symbols, gestures of revolt, constructive use of conflict and the shattering of relational norms. He then points to the seditious pattern in Jesus' life and the way it can be discerned in some recent trends in theology. The imaginative images that he creates provide a challenging image of Jesus and of those who have relooked radically in recent years at what being a seditious follower of Christ means for the church. Introducing both a new partner for theological conversation and a fresh way of how to go about the task, this book presents a powerful approach to exploring the life of Christ and a new way of engaging with both recent theological trends and the more challenging expressions of popular culture.

Wording a Radiance Daniel W. Hardy, 2014-07-23 Presents a theology of the Spirit and of the Eucharistic foundations of the Church. This title offers the last testament of an ecclesial theologian. The Chinese Christology of T. C. Chao Yongtao Chen, 2016-09-19 This volume offers a careful analysis of the contextual Christology of T. C. Chao, one of the most important Chinese theologians and Chinese church leaders in the first half of the twentieth century. At the core of Chao's Christology is the encounter between Christianity and the Chinese people, in particular the Chinese Christians. In response to the rapid social changes in China between 1910-1950, he attempted to develop a relevant theology by focusing on the characteristics of Christianity and at the same time aiming to understand Christianity within its Chinese context.

The Gagging of God D. A. Carson, 2009-09-01 The Gold Medallion Award winning book that presents a persuasive case for Christ as the only way to God in light of contemporary religious pluralism. A great majority of social commentators attempting to define modern Western culture land on a common characteristic: pluralism. This isn't unique to secular culture. Many modern approaches to Christian hermeneutics or biblical interpretation have given credence to contemporary pluralism What began as a refreshing restraint and humility in modern theology has fallen more and more into irresoluteness It s no secret that the contemporary challenges to Christianity are complex and serious Yet far from simple fear mongering or cultural warmongering The Gagging of God takes a hard look at the background and intricacy of pluralism postmodernity and hermeneutics and equips thoughtful Christians to have intelligent culturally sensitive and passionate fidelity to the gospel of Jesus Christ In his contemplative even handed approach Carson provides a structure of Christian thought capable of facing the philosophies of today and piercing their surface It invites Christians to grapple responsibly with urgent questions of biblically grounded theology spirituality and the defining lines of Christianity along with its range of challenges from without and within The Gagging of God offers an in depth look at the big picture shows how the many ramifications of pluralism are all parts of a whole and provides a systematic Christian response

Theology as Hope Ryan A. Neal, 2009-01-01 Hope is the leitmotiv of Jurgen Moltmann s theology Not merely one aspect of his project hope is the whole of it the supreme doctrine interpenetrating all others Indeed hope is his method The present study is both historical and developmental while also being analytical and interrogative This chronological exploration seeks to show the nature composition and development of Moltmann s doctrine of hope as the distinctive doctrine of his theology implicating all others Part I establishes Moltmann s doctrine of hope as grounded in God s faithfulness in the cross and resurrection Part II investigates major doctrines in his project in light of this ground This design seeks to take advantage of the chronological approach while also integrating the best elements of a topical approach

The New Heaven and New Earth Raymond R. Hausoul, 2020-04-09 There is a growing focus on the Christian confession of God s completed kingdom the new heaven and the new earth This theme has time and again seduced people into elaborate fantasies that stimulated the senses How can we talk about it meaningfully Raymond R Hausoul relates systematic theology to biblical theology by comparing three theologians the Catholic theologian Karl Rahner the Protestant J rgen Moltmann and the Reformed Gregory Beale This leads to reflections on differences between matter space and time of the new heaven and new earth and those of our present reality The hope for renewal and resurrection is thus linked to the prophecies of the new Jerusalem the tree of life and the resurrection body Global Justice, Christology and Christian Ethics Lisa Sowle Cahill, 2013-01-17 Global realities of human inequality poverty violence and ecological destruction call for a twenty first century Christian response which links cross cultural and interreligious cooperation for change to the Gospel This book demonstrates why just action is necessarily a criterion of authentic Christian theology and gives grounds for Christian hope that change in violent structures is really possible Lisa Sowle Cahill argues that theology and biblical interpretation are already embedded in and indebted to ethical political practices and choices Within this ecumenical study she explores the use of the historical Jesus in constructive theology the merits of Word and Spirit Christologies the importance of liberation and feminist theologies as well as theologies from the global south and also the possibility of qualified moral universalism The book will be of great interest to all students of theology religious ethics and politics and biblical studies The Extravagance of Music David Brown, Gavin Hopps, 2018-07-13 This book explores the ways in which music can engender religious experience by virtue of its ability to evoke the ineffable and affect how the world is open to us Arguing against approaches that limit the religious significance of music to an illustrative function The Extravagance of Music sets out a more expansive and optimistic vision which suggests that there is an excess or extravagance in both music and the divine that can open up revelatory and transformative possibilities In Part I David Brown argues that even in the absence of words classical instrumental music can disclose something of the divine nature that allows us to speak of an experience analogous to contemplative prayer In Part II Gavin Hopps contends that far from being a wasteland of mind closing triviality popular music frequently aspires to elicit the imaginative engagement of the listener and is capable of evoking intimations of transcendence Filled with fresh and accessible discussions of diverse examples and forms of music this ground breaking book affirms the disclosive and affective capacities of music and shows how it can help to awaken vivify and sustain a sense of the divine in everyday life God's Ways with the World Daniel Hardy, 2005-01-01 This book is devoted to recovering the truth and vitality of Christian faith by attempting to trace the ways of God with the modern world Professor Hardy contends that the profundity of God's interaction with the world despite centuries of valuable contemplation can best be understood by addressing those aspects of human thought which often give modern life its vitality These are the very features with which theology has tended to lose touch but which here are explored as areas in which the character and purposes of God may be manifest Following the example of the great eras of theological understanding in the past this book seeks a new and deeper synthesis of faith theology and other disciplined forms of life and thought to recover the dynamic of God's life and work in and from them As it does so it concentrates on the heartlands of Christian faith worship the Triune God and the activity of God in the world in language and cultures in cosmology and the human being in society and the form of the Church and in the forms of human understanding scientific historical cultural religious and theological The result is an uncompromising study which attempts to show the possibilities for a theology which becomes more fully realised by discovering and following the ways of God with the modern world Fully Human in Christ Todd H. Speidell, 2016-11-08 Thomas F Torrance's theology included a thoroughgoing albeit implicit ethic of reconciliation. It focused on the personalizing and humanizing mediation of Christ in all realms of life including not only a supposed private dimension of human life but also the social, historical and political structures of human society and even of the cosmos itself. This book builds upon that vision of a Christian ethic radically rooted in God's grace which encompasses, sustains and transforms the entire human and created order. A trinitarian incarnational social ethic does not begin with our human causes, projects and agendas, however noble they might be, but with witness to the reconciling person and work of Jesus Christ for us. Suffering and Salvation Aloysius Rego, 2006 Suffering, especially that of the innocent and those unjustly treated, is a universal experience which has perplexed and agonised humanity. This reality is especially a challenge to believers in an all-powerful, good and loving God. Within the Christian tradition, in particular because of the centrality of the cross and the crucified and risen One, there has been a tradition which has hallowed suffering. In this perspective, suffering per se, whatever its origin, is mystified as a necessary prelude to salvation. Is suffering salvific? Are all experiences of suffering saving? What is God's attitude and involvement with suffering? In this work, these questions are explored through the lens of Edward Schillebeeckx's later theology, which is primarily concerned with the development of a contemporary soteriology. Ex Auditu - Volume 23 Klyne Snodgrass, 2008-04-01 Ex Auditu began as the journal incorporating the papers of the Fredrick Neumann Symposium at Princeton Theological Seminary. After the first four volumes, the journal began publishing the papers from the North Park Symposium on the Theological Interpretation of Scripture. The intent from the first has been to provide a forum for doing interdisciplinary theology from a biblical perspective for the benefit of the Church. Each annual publication focuses on a topic crucial to the life of today's Church. Additionally, each issue contains an annotated bibliography and a sermon which makes it a practical guide for pastors.
