and CAPITALISM Sabby Sagall, 2021-10-06 This book argues that the need for music and the ability to produce and enjoy it is an essential element in human nature Every society in history has produced some characteristic style of music Music like the other arts tells us truths about the world through its impact on our emotional life There is a structural correspondence between society and music The emergence of modern art music and its stylistic changes since the rise of capitalist social relations reflect the development of capitalist society since the decline of European feudalism The leading composers of the different eras expressed in music the aspirations of the dominant or aspiring social classes Changes in musical style not only reflect but in turn help to shape changes in society This book analyses the stylistic changes in music from the emergence of tonality in the late seventeenth century until the Second World War Selected Essays on Intermediality by Werner Wolf (1992-2014) Werner Wolf, 2017-11-13 This volume collects twenty two major essays by Werner Wolf published between 1992 and 2014 all of them revised but retaining the original argument They form the core of those seminal writings which have contributed to establishing intermediality as an internationally recognized research field besides providing a by now widely accepted typology of the field and opening intermedial perspectives on areas as varied as narratology metareferentiality and iconicity The essays are presented chronologically under the headings of Theory and Typology Literature Music Relations Transmedial Narratology and Miscellaneous Transmedial Phenomena and cover a wide spectrum of topics of both historical and contemporary relevance ranging from J S Bach Mozart Schubert and Gulda through Sterne Hardy Woolf and Beckett to Jan Steen Hogarth Magritte and comics The volume should be essential reading for scholars of literature music and art history with an interdisciplinary orientation as well as general readers interested in the fascinating interaction of the arts
