Handbook of Marriage and the Family Suzanne K.

Steinmetz, Marvin B. Sussman, 2013-11-11 The lucid straightforward Preface of this Handbook by the two editors and the comprehensive perspectives offered in the Introduction by one of them leave little for a Foreword to add It is therefore limited to two relevant but not intrinsically related points vis a vis research on marriage and the family in the interval since the first Handbook Christensen 1964 appeared namely the impact on this research of the politicization of the New Right and of the Feminist Enlightenment beginning in the mid sixties about the time of the first Handbook In the late 1930s Willard Waller noted Fifty years or more ago about 1890 most people had the greatest respect for the institution called the family and wished to learn nothing whatever about it Everything that concerned the life of men and women and their children was shrouded from the light Today much of that has been changed Gone is the concealment of the way in which life begins gone the irrational sanctity of the home The aura of sentiment which once protected the family from discussion clings to it no more We want to learn as much about it as we can and to understand it as thoroughly as possible for there is a rising recognition in America that vast numbers of its families are sick from internal frustrations and from external buffeting We are engaged in the process of reconstructing our family institutions through criticism and discussion 1938 pp 3 4

Mixed Marriage...Interreligious, Interracial, Interethnic Dr. Robert H.

Schram, 2013-09-16 I was inspired to write Mixed Marriage Interreligious Interracial Interethnic through my study of the

Torah and its Mitzvot that prohibit certain mixed marriages while our greatest prophet Moshe and King David married outside the tribe Moshe was Judaism's greatest prophet and led his people out from Egyptian slavery King David was Judaism's greatest King and the great grandson from the mixed marriage of Ruth the Moabitess and Boaz The Messiah is prophesied to descend from King David as did Jeshua of Nazareth the Christian Messiah

Gendered Trajectories Wei-hsin Yu, 2009-02-26 Gendered Trajectories explores why industrial societies vary in the pace at which they reduce gender inequality and compares changes in women's employment opportunities in Japan and Taiwan over the last half century Japan has undergone much less improvement in women's economic status than Taiwan despite its more advanced economy and greater welfare provisions The difference is particularly puzzling because the two countries share many institutional practices and values Drawing on historical trends survey statistics and personal interviews with people in both countries Yu shows how country specific organizational arrangements and industrial policies affect women's employment In particular the conditions faced by Japanese and Taiwanese women in the workplace have a profound effect on their labor force participation at critical points in their lives Women's lifetime employment decisions in turn shape the divergent trajectories in gender equality Few studies documenting the development of women's economic lives are based on non-Western societies and even fewer adopt a comparative perspective This perceptive work demonstrates and underscores the importance of understanding gender inequality as a long term dynamic social process

Men in Transition Kenneth Solomon, 2013-11-11 Every year the few hundred members of the Committees Task Forces and Councils of the American Psychiatric Association meet in Washington D C to conduct their business They deliberate on a wide variety of issues encompassed in the activities of each group The psychiatrists constituting this mixed and somewhat elite group include some of the better known and promising people in the profession which makes the plenary session and cocktail party good occasions to meet old friends and to make new ones Several years ago one of us N B L attended this gathering as a member of a soon to be defunct group the Committee Liaison with the American College of Physicians and met Ann Chappell a member of the Task Force on Women We were soon joined by Richard Grant Ann impressed us with the work her group was doing on issues surrounding the Women's Movement as it relates to patients and the changing roles of the early 1970s She was struck by the fact that although some women had been very active in this endeavor nobody in American psychiatry was addressing issues which are arising in men as a result of the changing roles of women in society Dick and Norm were moved by what she said and decided that they would make an effort to gather together people interested in the issue of the changing roles of males in society at the oncoming meeting of the American Psychiatric Association

Unmarried Couples with Children Paula England, Kathryn Edin, 2007-10-17 Today a third of American children are born outside of marriage up from one child in twenty in the 1950s and rates are even higher among low income Americans Many herald this trend as one of the most troubling of our time But the decline in marriage does not necessarily signal the demise of the two parent family over 80 percent of unmarried couples are still romantically involved when their child is born and nearly half are living together Most claim they plan to marry eventually Yet half have broken up by their child s third birthday What keeps some couples together and what tears others apart After a breakup how do fathers so often disappear from their children s lives An intimate portrait of the challenges of partnering and parenting in these families Unmarried Couples with Children presents a variety of unique findings Most of the pregnancies were not explicitly planned but some couples feel having a child is the natural course of a serious relationship Many of the parents are living with their child plus the mother s child from a previous relationship When the father also has children from a previous relationship his visits to see them at their mother s house often cause his current partner to be jealous Breakups are more often driven by sexual infidelity or conflict than economic problems After couples break up many fathers complain they are shut out especially when the mother has a new partner For their part mothers claim to limit dads access to their children because of their involvement with crime drugs or other dangers For couples living together with their child several years after the birth marriage remains an aspiration but something couples are resolutely unwilling to enter without the financial stability they see as a sine qua non of marriage They also hold marriage to a high relational standard and not enough emotional attention from their partners is women s number one complaint Unmarried Couples with Children is a landmark study of the family lives of nearly fifty American children born outside of a marital union at the dawn of the twenty first century Based on personal narratives gathered from both mothers and fathers over the first four years of their children s lives and told partly in the couples own words the story begins before the child is conceived takes the reader through the tumultuous months of pregnancy to the moment of birth and on through the child s fourth birthday It captures in rich detail the complex relationship dynamics and powerful social forces that derail the plans of so many unmarried parents The volume injects some much needed reality into the national discussion about family values and reveals that the issues are more complex than our political discourse suggests
