Blue Skies Anne Bustard, 2021-03-16 France sends the Merci Train to the United States to thank America for helping France during and after WWII and one of the train stops will be the small town of Gladiola Texas where ten year old Glory Bea hopes for the greatest miracle that her missing in action father will be on the train Blue Skies Patrick Parsons, 2008-04-05 Cable television is arguably the dominant mass media technology in the U S today Blue Skies traces its history in detail depicting the important events and people that shaped its development from the precursors of cable TV in the 1920s and 30s to the first community antenna systems in the 1950s and from the creation of the national satellite distributed cable networks in the 1970s to the current incarnation of info structure that dominates our lives Author Patrick Parsons also considers the ways that economics public perception public policy entrepreneurial personalities the social construction of the possibilities of cable and simple chance all influenced the development of cable TV Since the 1960s one of the pervasive visions of cable has been of a ubiquitous flexible interactive communications system capable of providing news information entertainment diverse local programming and even social services That set of utopian hopes became known as the Blue Sky vision of cable television from which the book takes its title Thoroughly documented and carefully researched yet lively occasionally humorous and consistently insightful Blue Skies is the genealogy of our media society Beneath Blue Skies and Gray Ingram Crockett, 1898 Blue Skies and Silver Linings Bruce Babington, P. W. Evans, 1988 The Blue Skies of Autumn Elizabeth Turner, 2009-10-01 On September 11th 2001 32 year old Elizabeth Turner was working at Channel 4 when news broke of the attacks on the World Trade Centre Surrounded by TV screens like her colleagues she watched as the horror unfolded But for Elizabeth the atrocities were all the more painful her husband Simon was at a meeting in the restaurant at the top of the towers as the planes crashed into them Elizabeth was seven months pregnant with their first child As the destruction unfolded and Simon did not call Elizabeth's world crumbled and she spiralled into an abyss of grief more painful than most of us can imagine This immensely moving memoir packs a powerful emotional punch and hooks the reader from the first page The author eloquently describes how she had to hit rock bottom before she could start rebuilding a life for herself and her young son William That she was able to recover at all is testament to the power of the human spirit But more than this Elizabeth has forged a completely new life and career and is now living what she calls her ultimate life Her story offers hope that there is a way through the worst experiences not with quick fix solutions but by moving deep within yourself to bring about complete healing and recovery Blue Skies and Thunder Stephanie A. Gerdes, Virgil W. Westdale, 2009-12-21 In 1942 Virgil Westdale was a successful young flight instructor when the government ousted him from the Air Corps and demoted him to army private Having grown up as a Japanese American midwestern farm boy Westdale had his first taste of Japanese culture when he was sent to train with the all Japanese American unit the 442nd Regimental Combat Team He was ultimately transferred to the 522nd Artillery Battalion where as a member of the Fire

Direction Center he helped push the Germans out of Italy rescue the Lost Battalion in France and free prisoners from Dachau Concentration Camp in Germany After the war Westdale went on to pursue a career in research and development with large corporations He received twenty five U S patents and earned an international award for his work with photocopier components In retirement he has been working for the TSA returning to the worlds of aviation and national security Written for the lay reader as well as the history buff Westdales stories of World War II challenge preconceived notions of what we think we know about a soldiers life in Europe and offer images that go beyond the history books Spanning over ninety years Virgils amazing and complex life story vividly reflects Americas history from the early 1900s to our current fight against terrorism His book reads if he were sitting before me casually sharing his life A highlight of my career both as an Army officer and a Federal Civil Servant has been the honor of working with and getting to know Virgil Westdale a great American This is a truly fascinating and memorable autobiography John H Mumma Colonel US Army Retired Federal Security Director Transportation Security Administration Virgil Westdales Blue Skies and Thunder tells a story that is both unique in American history and uniquely American After growing up as a Midwestern farm boy whose Japanese father had largely assimilated into the local community he found himself after Pearl Harbor viewed with suspicion by the very government he wanted to serve in the Second World War Denied a chance to serve as a military pilot or even as a pilot trainer he eventually found his way into a newly created Japanese American artillery unit and served with distinction in Italy France and Germany Back in the United States he completed college and made a career for himself as an engineer with multiple patents to his credit and eventually served his country a second time as an airport security officer His account is highly readable and offers insights into a wide range of aspects of both his own life and the world around him Dr James Smither Director Grand Valley State University Veterans History Project

Building Competitiveness in Africa's Agriculture C. Martin Webber, Patrick Labaste, 2009-12-16 Value chain based approaches offer tremendous scope for market based improvements in production productivity rural economy diversification and household incomes but are often covered by literature that is too conceptual or heavily focused on analysis This has created a gap in the information available to planners practitioners and value chain participants Furthermore few references are available on how these approaches can be applied specifically to developing agriculture in Africa Building Competitiveness in Africa's Agriculture A Guide to Value Chain Concepts and Applications describes practical implementation approaches and illustrates them with scores of real African agribusiness case studies Using these examples the Guide presents a range of concepts analytical tools and methodologies centered on the value chain that can be used to design implement and evaluate agricultural and agribusiness development initiatives It stresses principles of market focus collaboration information sharing and innovation The Guide begins by examining core concepts and issues related to value chains A brief literature review then focuses on five topics of particular relevance to African agricultural value chains These topics address challenges faced by value chain participants and practitioners that resonate through the many cases described in the book The core of the book presents methodological tools and approaches that blend important value chain concepts with the topics and with sound business principles The tools and case studies have been selected for their usefulness in supporting market driven private sector initiatives to improve value chains The Guide offers 13 implementation approaches presented within the implementation cycle of a value chain program followed by descriptions of actual cases Roughly 60 percent of the examples are from Africa while the rest come from Europe Latin America and Asia The Guide offers useful guidance to businesspeople policy makers representatives of farmer or trade organizations and others who are engaged in agro enterprise and agribusiness development These readers will learn how to use value chain approaches in ways that can contribute to sound operational decisions improved market linkage and better results for enterprise and industry development FCC Record United States.
