Chinese Philosophy In An Era Of Globalization:

Chinese Philosophy in an Era of Globalization Robin Wang, 2004-04-12 Chinese and Western thinkers consider the Chinese philosophical tradition and Chinese philosophy for the contemporary global era Dialogues of Philosophies, Religions and Civilizations in the Era of Globalization Zhao Dunhua, 2007 The Routledge History of Chinese

Philosophy Bo Mou, 2008-10-27 The History of Chinese Philosophy is a comprehensive and authoritative examination of the movements and thinkers that have shaped Chinese philosophy over the last three thousand years An outstanding team of international contributors provide seventeen accessible entries organised into five clear parts Identity of Chinese Philosophy Classical Chinese Philosophy I Pre Han Period Classical Chinese Philosophy II From Han Through Tang Classical Chinese Philosophy III From Song Through Early Qing Modern Chinese Philosophy From Late Qing Through 21st Century This outstanding collection is essential reading for students of Chinese philosophy and will be of interest to those seeking to explore the lasting significance this rich and complex philosophical tradition The Encounter of Chinese and Western

Philosophies Benoît Vermander, 2023-09-05 Vermander revisits the encounter between Chinese and Western philosophy while unfolding questions about the way comparative philosophy is conducted today In the vulgate of intellectual history Western thought has constructed a substantialist view of reality that puts relations and processes into a subordinate position The same view explains for the primacy given to the autonomy of individual beings In contrast according to the same vulgate Chinese thought has been stressing the fluidity of all phenomena and forms of life to best adapt to their overarching patterns The critique of these representations is a preliminary for tackling the following question in today's context what style of cross cultural philosophical engagement should be imagined and fostered Cross cultural philosophical dialogue is indeed indispensable to the revival of philosophies that could be both local and genuinely dialogic The first two chapters focus upon the dominant model propounded by Western sinologists when it comes to comparing the Western philosophical tradition with the Chinese one The third chapter shifts to Chinese narratives about local comparative and global philosophies notably assessing its self positioning vis vis Western authors topics and concepts Chapter 4 offers a general reading of ancient Chinese classics alternative to the one that presently dominates the landscape described in Chapters 1 to 3 Chapter 5 harnesses the results and insights already gathered offering a blueprint as to the way to positively draw upon different philosophical traditions to engage common questions and pursue shared endeavors A last chapter presents four cases of ongoing transcultural philosophical dialogues and the promises they bear while the conclusion recapitulates the journey and opens further perspectives Once it develops outside pre formatted narratives the web shaped by our philosophies and wisdoms suggests the outlines of a world that we could inhabit together Philosophy manual: a South-South

perspective Chanthalangsy, Phinith, Crowley, John, 2014-12-31 The Dysfunction of Ritual in Early Confucianism

Michael David Kaulana Ing, 2012-11-15 Michael Ing's The Dysfunction of Ritual in Early Confucianism is the first monograph

in English about the Liji a text that purports to be the writings of Confucius immediate disciples and part of the earliest canon of Confucian texts called The Five Classics included in the canon several centuries before the Analects Ing uses his analysis of the Liji to show how early Confucians coped with situations where their rituals failed to achieve their intended aims In contrast to most contemporary interpreters of Confucianism Ing demonstrates that early Confucian texts can be read as arguments for ambiguity in ritual failure

The Philosophical Challenge from China Brian Bruya, 2015-04-03 For too long analytic philosophy discounted insights from the Chinese philosophical tradition In the last decade or so however philosophers have begun to bring the insights of Chinese to bear on current philosophical issues This volume brings together leading scholars from East and West who are working at the intersection of traditional Chinese philosophy and mainstream analytic philosophy Their essays draw on the work of Chinese philosophers ranging from early Daoists and Confucians to twentieth century Chinese thinkers offering new perspectives on issues in moral psychology political philosophy ethics metaphysics and epistemology Taken together these essays show that serious engagement with Chinese philosophy can not only enrich modern philosophical discussion but also shift the debate in a meaningful way Each essay challenges a current position in the philosophical literature including positions expressed by John Rawls Peter Singer Nel Noddings W V Quine and Harry Frankfurt The topics include compassion as a developmental virtue empathy human worth and democracy ethical self restriction epistemological naturalism ideas of oneness know how and action without agency Inside jacket flap

Medicine and Ethics in Times of Corona Martin Woesler, Hans-Martin Sass, 2021-11-18 The Corona pandemic kills people endangers families friends communities companies institutions societies economies and global networks It brings about triage unemployment social distancing and home schooling Countries respond differently often set aside civil and basic human rights Families and friends cannot get together visiting the sick nor attending funerals This pestilence is clearly a cultural economic and political disease 40 leaders in medical and sociological research in politics religion and consulting from 24 countries offer diverse sometimes controversial answers collected by Martin Woesler and Hans Martin Sass

Ethics in Early China Chris Fraser, Dan Robins, Timothy O'Leary, 2011-08-01 Early Chinese ethics has attracted increasing scholarly and social attention in recent years as the virtue ethics movement in Western philosophy has sparked renewed interest in Confucianism and Daoism At the same time intellectuals and social commentators throughout greater China have looked to the Chinese ethical tradition for resources to evaluate the role of traditional cultural values in the contemporary world Publications on early Chinese ethics have tended to focus inordinate and uncritical attention toward Confucianism while relatively neglecting Daoism Mohism and shared features of Chinese moral psychology This book aims to rectify this imbalance by including essays on Daoism and Confucianism early Chinese moral psychology including widely neglected views of the Mohists and newly reconstructed accounts of the embodied virtue tradition which ties ethics to physical cultivation The volume also includes essays addressing the broader question of the value of comparative philosophy generally and of studying early Chinese ethics in particular The book should have a wide readership among professional scholars and graduate students in Chinese philosophy specifically Confucian ethics Daoist ethics and comparative ethics Chris Fraser is associate professor of philosophy at the University of Hong Kong Dan Robins is assistant professor of Chinese philosophy at Stockton College of New Jersey Timothy O Leary is associate professor of philosophy at the University of Hong Kong Contributors include Roger Ames Stephen Angle Sin yee Chan Jiwei Ci Chris Fraser Jane Geaney William Haines Chad Hansen Manyul Im P J Ivanhoe Franklin Perkins Lisa Raphals Dan Robins Henry Rosemont Jr David Wong and Lee Yearley

Intelligence and Wisdom Bing Song, 2021-09-08 This book centers on rethinking foundational values in the era of frontier technologies by tapping into the wisdom of Chinese philosophical traditions It tries to answer the following questions How is the essence underpinning humans nature and machines changing in this age of frontier technologies What is the appropriate ethical framework for regulating human machine relationships What human values should be embedded in or learnt by AI Some interesting points emerged from the discussions For example the three dominant schools of Chinese thinking Confucianism Daoism and Buddhism invariably reflect non anthropocentric perspectives and none of them places humanity in a supreme position in the universe While many Chinese philosophers are not convinced by the prospect of machine intelligence exceeding that of humans the strong influence of non anthropocentrism in the Chinese thinking contributed to much less panic in China than in the West about the existential risks of AI The thinking is that as human beings have always lived with other forms of existence living with programs or other forms of beings which may become more capable than humans will not inevitably lead to a dystopia Second all three schools emphasize self restraint constant introspection and the pursuit of sage hood or enlightenment These views therefore see the potential risks posed by frontier technologies as an opportunity for the humanity to engage in introspection on the lessons learned from our social and political history It is long overdue that humanity shall rethink its foundational values to take into account a multi being planetary outlook This book consists of nine leading Chinese philosophers reflections on AI s impact on human nature and the human society This is a groundbreaking work which has pioneered the in depth intellectual exploration involving traditional Chinese philosophy and frontier technologies and has inspired multidisciplinary and across area studies on AI philosophy and ethical implications Chapters 1 3 5 7 and 10 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution

Sullivan, Joshua Mason, 2021-03-31 In a historical moment when cross cultural communication proves both necessary and difficult the work of comparative philosophy is timely Philosophical resources for building a shared future marked by vitality and collaborative meaning making are in high demand Taking note of the present global philosophical situation this collection of essays critically engages the scholarship of Roger T Ames who for decades has had a central role in the evolution of comparative and nonwestern philosophy With a reflective methodology that has produced creative translations of key Chinese philosophical texts Ames in conjunction with notable collaborators such as D C Lau David Hall and Henry Rosemont Jr has brought China s philosophical traditions into constructive cross cultural dialogue on numerous ethical and social issues that we face today The volume opens with two parts that share overlapping concerns about interpretation and translation of nonwestern texts and traditions Parts III and IV Process Cosmology and Epistemological Considerations mark the shift in comparative projects from the metaphilosophical and translational stage to the more traditionally philosophical stage Parts V and VI Confucian Role Ethics and Classical Daoism might best be read as Chinese contributions to philosophical inquiry into living well or ethics broadly construed Lastly Part VII takes Amesian comparative philosophy in Critical Social and Political Directions explicitly drawing out the broader dimensions of social constitution and the ideal of harmony The contributors scholars working in philosophy religious studies and Asian studies pursue lines of inquiry opened up by the work of Roger Ames and their chapters both clarify his ideas and push them in new directions They survey the field of Chinese philosophy as it is taking shape in the wake of Ames s contributions and as it carries forward a global conversation on the future of humanity

Fundamentals of Comparative and Intercultural Philosophy Lin Ma, Jaap van Brakel, 2016-03-25 This innovative book explores the preconditions necessary for intercultural and comparative philosophy Philosophical practices that involve at least two different traditions with no common heritage and whose languages have very different grammatical structure such as Indo Germanic languages and classical Chinese are a particular focus Lin Ma and Jaap van Brakel look at the necessary and not so necessary conditions of possibility of interpretation comparison and other forms of interaction and how we can speak of similarities and differences in this context The authors posit that it is necessary to dissolve the question of universalism versus relativism by replacing the ideal language paradigm with a paradigm of family resemblances and that it is not necessary to share a common language to engage in comparison Numerous case studies are presented including many comparisons of Western and Chinese concepts

The Confucian Philosophy of Harmony Chenyang Li, 2013-10-30 Harmony is a concept essential to Confucianism and to the way of life of past and present people in East Asia Integrating methods of textual exegesis historical investigation comparative analysis and philosophical argumentation this book presents a comprehensive treatment of the Confucian philosophy of harmony The book traces the roots of the concept to antiquity examines its subsequent development and explicates its theoretical and practical significance for the contemporary world It argues that contrary to a common view in the West Confucian harmony is not mere agreement but has to be achieved and maintained with creative tension Under the influence of a Weberian reading of Confucianism as adjustment to a world with an underlying fixed cosmic order Confucian harmony has been systematically misinterpreted in the West as presupposing an invariable grand scheme of things that pre exists in the world to which humanity has to conform The book shows that Confucian harmony is a dynamic generative process which seeks to balance and reconcile differences and conflicts through creativity Illuminating one of the most important concepts in Chinese philosophy and intellectual history this book is of interest to students of Chinese studies history and philosophy in general and eastern philosophy in particular Confucian Ethics in Retrospect and Prospect Qingsong Shen,Kwong-loi Shun,2008 The Struggles After the Struggle David Kaulemu,2008 Love's Uncertainty Teresa Kuan,2015-02-27 Love s Uncertainty explores the hopes and anxieties of urban middle class parents in contemporary China Combining long term ethnographic research with analyses of popular child rearing manuals television dramas and government documents Teresa Kuan bears witness to the dilemmas of ordinary Chinese parents who struggle to reconcile new definitions of good parenting with the reality of limited resources Situating these parents experiences in the historical context of state efforts to improve population quality Love s Uncertainty reveals how global transformations are expressed in the most intimate of human experiences Ultimately the book offers a meditation on the nature of moral agency examining how people discern amid the myriad contingencies of life the boundary between what can and cannot be controlled Rethinking Marx Shipeng Zou,Xuegong Yang,2007
