Marquise de Merteuil and the Vicomte de Valmont two narcissistic rivals and ex lovers who use seduction as a weapon to socially control and exploit others all the while enjoying their cruel games and boasting about their manipulative talents It has been seen as depicting the decadence of the French aristocracy shortly before the French Revolution thereby exposing the perversions of the so called Ancien R gime Les Liaisons Dangereuses Christopher Hampton,2014-07-31 The scandalous reputation of Laclos s novel first published in 1782 is based on its chilling portrayal of the mannered decadence and sexual cynicism of the French aristocracy in the last years of the ancien regime Christopher Hampton has made a masterful adaptation for the stage of the conspiracy to corrupt a young girl barely out of her convent Les liaisons dangereuses was premiered by Royal Shakespeare Company at The Other Place Stratford upon Avon on 24 September 1985 and won Christopher Hampton the Evening Standard Award for Best Play and the Laurence Olivier Award for Best New Play in 1986 Choderlos de Laclos, the Man, His Works, and His Critics Colette Verger Michael,1982-01-01

DANGEROUS LIAISONS by PIERRE AMBROISE FRANCOIS CHODERLOS de LACLOS Pierre Ambroise Francois Choderlos de LACLOS,Choderlos de LACLOS,2016-12-10 LETTER IV The VISCOUNT DE VALMONT to the MARCHIONESS DE MERTEUILYour orders are enchanting and your manner of giving them still more delightful you would even make one in love with despotism It is not the first time you know that I regret I am no longer your slave and yet monster as you style me I recall with rapture the time when you honoured me with softer names I have often even wish d again to deserve them and to terminate by giving along with you an example of constancy to the world But matters of greater moment call us forth conquest is our destiny and we must follow it we may perhaps meet again at the end of our career for permit me to say without putting you out of temper my beautiful Marchioness you follow me with a pretty equal pace and since for the happiness of the world we have separated to preach the faith I am inclined to think that in this mission of love you have made more proselytes than I I am well convinced of your zeal and fervour and if the God of Love judged us according to our works you would be the patron saint of some great city whilst your friend would be at most a common village saint This language no doubt will surprise you but you must know that for these eight days I hear and speak no other and to make myself perfect in it I am obliged to disobey you Don t be angry and hear me As you are the depository of all the secrets of my heart I will intrust you with the greatest project I ever formed What do you propose to me To seduce a young girl who has seen nothing knows nothing and would in a manner give herself up without making the least defence intoxicated with the first homage paid to her charms and perhaps incited rather by curiosity than love there twenty others may be as successful as I Not so with the enterprise that engrosses my mind its success insures me as much glory as pleasure and even almighty Love who prepares my crown hesitates between the myrtle and laurel or will rather unite them to honour my triumph Even you yourself my charming friend will be struck with a holy respect and in a fit of enthusiasm will exclaim This is the man after my own heart You know the Presidente Tourvel her devout life her conjugal love and the austerity of her principles that is the object I

attack that is the enemy worthy of me that is the point I intend to carry I must tell you the President is in Burgundy prosecuting a considerable suit I hope to make him lose one of greater importance his inconsolable partner is to remain here the whole time of this afflicting widowhood A mass each day a few visits to the neighbouring poor prayers morning and evening a few solitary walks pious conferences with my old aunt and sometimes a melancholy game at whist are her only amusements but I am preparing some of a more efficacious nature for her My guardian angel led me here for our mutual happiness Fool that I was I used to regret the time that I sacrificed to the customary ceremonies How should I now be punished by being obliged to return to Paris Fortunately there must be four to make a whist party and as there is no one here but the curate of the place my eternal aunt has pressed me much to sacrifice a few days to her you may judge I did not refuse her You can t conceive how much she caresses me ever since and above all how much she is edified by seeing me so regular at mass and at prayers But little does she imagine the divinity I adore there Thus in the space of four days have I given myself up to a violent passion You are no stranger to the impetuosity of my desires and how readily all obstacles fly before me but I ll tell you what you don t know that solitude adds immensely to the ardour of desire I have but one idea I cherish it by day and dream on t by night I must possess this woman lest I should be so ridiculous as to be in love for whither may we not be led by frustrated desire

Les Liaisons Dangereuses Christopher Hampton,1986 Dangerous Liaisons Pierre Choderlos de Laclos,2021-04-15 Set in France during the Ancien R gime Dangerous Liasons is an extraordinary tale of intrigue and moral depravity where our rival protagonists use seduction as a weapon The Marquise de Mertheuil and the Vicomte de Valmont scheme and plot one obsessed by her own vanity the other by his lust for a virtuous married woman In the pursuit of their own entertainment de Mertheuil and de Valmont play a dangerous game of seduction attempting to manipulate the objects of their desire for their own gain Deemed in later years to be something of a political novel that showed the aristocracy for what it really was this is also a powerful psychological drama showing that those who live by the sword often die by it This edition is presented with a striking contemporary cover design bringing this timeless classic to modern readers
