

The nightjar and its reasons: The scabline by Chris Mann

Chris Tabulezi Mann, born in Port Elizabeth (South Africa) in 1948, was a leading South African-English poet, teacher and cultural icon. His powerful and cynical poems offer deep reflections on apartheid, racism, nature, God, the women, and inevitability of death. He was diagnosed with cancer in 2021. He died peacefully at his home in Makhanda, Eastern Cape.

Although what Mann does is often described as 'poetry', much of his work can be considered music. His 'poetry' is his work, then, should be understood more as a methodology - experimentation within systems of signification - than as formal boundary.

Chris Mann and Grammar Chris Mann, 1990 The Parameters of Postmodernism Nicholas Zurbrugg, 2003-09-02 This ground breaking work offers a challenging and positive view of postmodern culture It draws on the author's extensive interviews with a number of leading postmodern artists writers and performers including Jean Baudrillard Samuel Beckett John Cage Phillip Glass The Parameters of Postmodernism focuses on both the prevailing negative theories of postmodernism and the more positive aspects of postmodern theory and practice The negative aspect is exemplified by the work of writers like Brecht Beckett Barthes and Baudrillard who emphasise the death of artistic innovation and the lack of a permanent reality Zurbrugg highlights the contradictions in the arguments of these writers and examines the later works in which they qualify their earlier more infamous statements The positive aspect is characterised by artists such as Cage Glass and Monk who interweave the new postmodern media with confidence and invention and Eco Grass and Wolf who revive mythological and folkloric traditions The Parameters of Postmodernism argues that in each case high tech or revivalist postmodern creativity culminates in a highly positive synthesis of past present and futuristic materials A Chronological History of Australian Composers and Their Compositions - Vol. 2 Stephen Pleskun, 2012-12-30 This book is volume 2 of a 4 volume series the first 3 of which have been published by Xlibris and the 4th almost complete for imminent delivery In its entirety this work is the most comprehensive and accurate account of Australian Classical Music making ever undertaken Its scope is from 1901 2012 and includes more than 800 composers famous and obscure with more than 30 000 compositions including details of their premieres where when and by whom Individual performers ensembles orchestras opera and ballet companies music educators instrument makers academics entrepreneurs philanthropists and critics are included as part of the story The foundation and demise of music institutions venues and festivals is recorded chronologically Altogether an extensive picture of Australian Classical Music production and performance can be gleaned in any given year This book is distinct insofar as it can be read conventionally from cover to cover or one may choose a composer performer and follow his/her career year by year or one may open the book at random and delight in the unusual and esoteric information therein This book and its companion volumes are valuable and indispensable works for the serious music student professional musician performing amateur cultural aficionado and inquisitive lay person Electronic Arts in Australia Nicholas Zurbrugg, 1994

Literary History and Avant-Garde Poetics in the Antipodes A. J. Carruthers, 2024-03-05 Avant garde poetry in the Antipodes causes all sorts of trouble for literary history It is an avant garde that seems to arrive too late and yet right on time In 1897 Christopher Brennan made his own version of Un Coup de Des the same year Mallarmé published it in Cosmopolis In the 1940s the same period avant gardism was declared dead or fatally injured due to the Ern Malley affair Harry Hooton began writing a significant body of experimental poetry From the 1950s to the 1970s Australian Dada emerged belatedly through figures like Jas H Duke Tristan Tzara had previously sung Aboriginal songs at the Cabaret Voltaire in 1916 First Nations and Migrant poets then began reinventing avant garde poetry in the twentieth and early twenty first centuries This book maintains that such a confounding literary history poses a distinct challenge to the theories of the avant gardes we have become accustomed to and changes our perspective of avant garde time
