Art Of Christian Legend Visual Representations Of The New Testament Apocrypha:

Art and the Christian Apocrypha David R. Cartlidge, J. Keith Elliot, 2013-10-23 The Christian canon of scripture known as the New Testament excluded many of the Church's traditional stories about its origins. Although not in the Bible, these popular stories have had a powerful influence on the Church's traditions and theology and a particularly marked effect on visual representations of Christian belief. This book provides a lucid introduction to the relationship between the apocryphal texts and the paintings, mosaics, and sculpture in which they are frequently paralleled and which have been so significant in transmitting these non-Biblical stories to generations of churchgoers. Type and Archetype in Late Antique and

Byzantine Art and Architecture, 2023-02-13 This book addresses typology of Late Antique and Byzantine art and architecture in eight wide-ranging contributions from an international group of scholars. A dialogue between type and its ultimate source, archetype, surpasses issues of formalism and conventional chronological narratives to suggest a more nuanced approach to typology as a systematic and systemic classification of types in the visual landscape of the pagans, Jews, and Christians. Set against the contemporaneous cultural context, select examples of Mediterranean material culture confirm the great importance of type and archetype constructs for theoretical discourse on architecture and visual arts. Contributors are Anna Adashinskaya, Jelena Anelkovi, Graar Jelena Bogdanovi, edomila Marinkovi, Marina Mihaljevi, Ljubomir Milanovi, Cecilia Olovsson, and Ida Sinkevi. Art and the Christian Apocrypha David R. A particular strength of the volume is that it draws upon the research of leading experts in the field and clearly and concisely communicates the most hotly contested issues surrounding each text. While a key function of each chapter is to make the current academic debates accessible to a wider audience, these treatments are not simply overviews or survey articles. They also present fresh perspectives on a number of points and critically assess the most recent trends in scholarship. As such, they will provide an ideal entry point for advanced undergraduate courses and taught Masters programmes. The structure of the book is divided up in an easily useable format. There is an introduction which underscores the significance of the non-canonical texts both for the original readers and for contemporary audiences. This chapter by Keith Elliott also traces important moments in the reception of a number of these texts both in art and literature. Next follows the main sequence of chapters dealing with individual texts. Texts such as the Gospel of Thomas, the Gospel of Peter and the Gospel of Mary are treated first due to the impact they have had to varying degrees on Historical Jesus research Other texts are grouped in various subgroups the two infancy gospels follow each other and the more fragmentary texts are also closely linked in the arrangement The book presents one of the most comprehensive and up to date discussions of a range of texts that continue to be of interest to scholars and wider readers The discussions should clarify a number of popular misconceptions and allow for a more informed debate The scholars who contribute to this collection represent an eclectic range of views and theological outlooks No attempt has been made to impose a prescribed perspective Rather the leading experts have been consulted to produce fresh and stimulating treatments The book will include contributions from Andrew Gregory Oxford Christopher Tuckett Cambridge April DeConick Rice and Simon Gathercole Aberdeen among others

The Casa del Deán Penny C. Morrill, 2023-09-15 The Casa del Deán in Puebla Mexico is one of few surviving sixteenth century residences in the Americas Built in 1580 by Tomás de la Plaza the Dean of the Cathedral the house was decorated with at least three magnificent murals two of which survive Their rediscovery in the 1950s and restoration in 2010 revealed works of art that rival European masterpieces of the early Renaissance while incorporating indigenous elements that identify them with Amerindian visual traditions Extensively illustrated with new color photographs of the murals The Casa del Deán presents a thorough iconographic analysis of the paintings and an enlightening discussion of the relationship between Tom s de la Plaza and the indigenous artists whom he commissioned Penny Morrill skillfully traces how native painters trained by the Franciscans used images from Classical mythology found in Flemish and Italian prints and illustrated books from France as well as animal images and glyphic traditions with pre Columbian origins to create murals that are reflective of Don Tom s s erudition and his role in evangelizing among the Amerindians She demonstrates how the importance given to rhetoric by both the Spaniards and the Nahuas became a bridge of communication between these two distinct and highly evolved cultures This pioneering study of the Casa del De n mural cycle adds an important new chapter to the study of colonial Latin American art as it increases our understanding of the process by which imagery in the New World took on Christian meaning
