Art Presence:

Art of Florida Rodney Carlisle, Loretta Carlisle, 2021-10-01 A visual guide to approximately 20 Florida art colonies and districts The book will discuss in detail a variety of towns in Florida renowned as Art Colonies together with several Arts Districts in both small towns and larger cities that have been designated by the local government and or by developers as neighborhoods set aside to foster the arts Many of the communities sponsor annual art festivals or shows that have been held for more than 40 years The book features color photographs that capture the variety of art forms that are uniquely Florida and covers special aspects of art in Florida such as the great number of Florida artists the influence of arts projects and social realism of the New Deal mural painting in Florida the Highwaymen and the extremely rich 19th and 20th century history of Florida artists Colonies and districts include Bradenton Village of the Arts Eau Gallie Arts District St Petersburg Warehouse Arts District and Central Arts District Tampa and Tallahassee Collecting Objects / Excluding People Lenore Metrick-Chen, 2012-09-25 In Collecting Objects Excluding People Lenore Metrick Chen demonstrates an unknown impact of Chinese immigration upon nineteenth century American art and visual culture The American ideas of Chineseness ranged from a negative portrayal to an admiring one and these varied images had an effect on museum art collections and advertising images They brought new ideas into American art theory anticipating twentieth century Modernism Metrick Chen shows that efforts to construct a cultural democracy led to the creation of unforeseen new categories for visual objects and unanticipated social changes Collecting Objects Excluding People reveals the power of images upon culture the influence of media representation upon the lives of Chinese immigrants and the impact of political ideology upon the definition of art itself Art Power Boris Groys, 2008-02-08 A new book by Boris Groys acknowledges the problem and potential of art's complex relationship to power Art has its own power in the world and is as much a force in the power play of global politics today as it once was in the arena of cold war politics Art argues the distinguished theoretician Boris Groys is hardly a powerless commodity subject to the art market's fiat of inclusion and exclusion In Art Power Groys examines modern and contemporary art according to its ideological function Art Groys writes is produced and brought before the public in two ways as a commodity and as a tool of political propaganda In the contemporary art scene very little attention is paid to the latter function Arguing for the inclusion of politically motivated art in contemporary art discourse Groys considers art produced under totalitarianism Socialism and post Communism He also considers today's mainstream Western art which he finds behaving more and more according to the norms of ideological propaganda produced and exhibited for the masses at international exhibitions biennials and festivals Contemporary art Groys argues demonstrates its power by appropriating the iconoclastic gestures directed against itself by positioning itself simultaneously as an image and as a critique of the image In Art Power Groys examines this fundamental appropriation that produces the paradoxical object of the modern artwork Appiah's Study Reference Frank Appiah, 2018-06-28 This student reference book is a collection of studies on system

Clement Greenberg remains controversial One of the most influential art writers of the twentieth century Greenberg propelled Abstract Expressionist painting in particular the monumental work of Jackson Pollock to a leading position in an international postwar art world On radio and in print Greenberg was the voice of the new American painting and a central figure in the postwar cultural history of the United States Caroline Jones s magisterial study widens Greenberg s fundamental tenet of opticality the idea that modernist art is apprehended through eyesight alone to a broader arena examining how the critic s emphasis on the specular resonated with a society increasingly invested in positivist approaches to the world Greenberg s modernist discourse Jones argues developed in relation to the rationalized procedures that gained wide currency in the United States at midcentury in fields ranging from the sense data protocols theorized by scientific philosophy to the development of cultural forms such as hi fi that targeted specific senses one by one Greenberg s attempt to isolate and celebrate the visual was one manifestation of a large scale segmentation or bureaucratization of the body s senses Working through these historical developments Jones brings Greenberg s theories into contemporary philosophical debates about agency and subjectivity Eyesight Alone offers artists art historians philosophers and all those interested in the arts a critical history of this generative figure bringing his work fully into dialogue with the ideas that shape contemporary critical discourse and shedding light not only on Clement Greenberg but also on the contested history of modernism itself Arts education in public elementary and secondary schools Basmat Parsad, Student access to arts education and the quality of such instruction in the nation s public schools continue to be of concern to policymakers educators and families Specifically research has focused on questions such as To what extent do students receive instruction in the arts Under what conditions is this instruction provided What is the profile of arts education instructors Ruppert and Nelson 2006 This study is the third of its kind to be conducted by the National Center for Education Statistics nces in the Institute of Education Sciences ies U S Department of Education to provide national data that inform these issues The first study was conducted in the 1994 95 school year to provide baseline data on public schools approaches to arts education The second study was conducted during the 1999 2000 school year to provide broader coverage of arts education issues by collecting the first national data on educational backgrounds professional development activities teaching loads and instructional practices of elementary school teachers self contained classroom teachers music specialists and visual arts specialists To update the information from a decade ago Congress requested that the U S Department of Education s Office of Innovation and Improvement oii and nces conduct a new study that would borrow from and build on the previous studies This study examines many of the issues from the previous studies including the extent to which students received instruction in the arts the facilities and resources available for arts education instruction and the preparation work environments and instructional practices of music and visual arts specialists and non arts classroom teachers This study also addresses emerging issues such as the availability of curriculum based arts education activities outside of regular school hours and the presence of school community partnerships in the arts In addition the current study provides broader coverage of arts education instructors by including two new surveys for secondary music and visual arts specialists Selected indicators on arts education in public elementary and secondary schools are organized into four sections one for each arts education subject area music visual arts dance and drama theatre Using its Fast Response Survey System frss nces conducted the surveys during the 2009 10 school year with the two school surveys and the collection of sampling lists for the teacher surveys starting in fall 2009 frss is a survey system designed to collect small amounts of issue oriented data from a nationally representative sample of districts schools or teachers with minimal burden on respondents and within a relatively short period of time The findings in this report have been chosen to demonstrate the range of information available from the frss study rather than to discuss all of the observed differences they are not meant to emphasize any particular issue The findings are based on self reported data from public school principals and teachers Where relevant national findings are broken out by the poverty concentration at the school measured as the percent of students eligible for free or reduced price lunch Appended are 1 Technical Notes and 2 Standard Errors for Text Tables and Figures Contains 63 tables 27 figures and 16 footnotes For Supplemental Tables to the nces Report Arts Education in Public Elementary and Secondary Schools 1999 2000 and 2009 10 nces 2012 014 see ed530716

Aboriginal Art and Australian Society Laura Fisher, 2016-05-30 This book is an investigation of the way the Aboriginal art phenomenon has been entangled with Australian society s negotiation of Indigenous people s status within the nation Through critical reflection on Aboriginal art s idiosyncrasies as a fine arts movement its vexed relationship with money and its mediation of the politics of identity and recognition this study illuminates the mutability of Aboriginal art s meanings in different settings It reveals that this mutability is a consequence of the fact that a range of governmental activist and civil society projects have appropriated the art s vitality and metonymic power in national public culture and that Aboriginal art is as much a phenomenon of visual and commercial culture as it is an art movement Throughout these examinations Fisher traces the utopian and dystopian currents of thought that have crystallised around the Aboriginal art movement and which manifest the ethical conundrums that underpin the settler state condition

Social Concern and Left Politics in Jewish American Art Matthew Baigell, 2015-04-03 This book explores the important and barely examined connections between the humanitarian concerns embedded in the religious heritage of Jewish American artists and the appeal of radical political causes between the years of the Great Migration from Eastern Europe in the 1880s and the beginning of World War II in the late 1930s Visual material consists primarily of political cartoons published in leftwing Yiddish and English language newspapers and magazines Artists often commented on current events using biblical and other Jewish references meaning that whatever were their political concerns their Jewish heritage was ever present By the late 1940s the obvious ties between political interests and religious concerns largely disappeared The text set against events of the times the Russian Revolution the Depression and the rise of fascism during the 1930s as well as life on New York's Lower East Side includes artists' statements as well as the thoughts of religious literary and political figures ranging from Marx to Trotsky to newspaper editor Abraham Cahan to contemporary art critics including Meyer Schapiro Art's Way Out John Baldacchino, 2012-03-26 In taking the critique of inclusion and entry as a first step Art's Way Out's discussion of art politics and learning aims to delineate what an exit pedagogy would look like where culture is neither seen as a benign form of inclusion nor as a hegemonic veil by which we are all subscribed to the system via popularized forms of artistic and cultural immediacy An exit pedagogy as prefigured in what could be called art's way out through the implements of negative recognition qua impasse would not only avoid the all too facile symmetrical dualism between conservative and progressive liberal and critical pedagogies but also seek the continuous referral of such symmetries by setting them aside and look for a way out of the confined edifices of education and culture per se An exit pedagogy seeks its way out by reasserting representation in the comedic the jocular and more effectively in the arts power of pausing as that most effective way by which aesthetics comes to effect in its autonomist and radical essence In this fluent limpid and scholarly work Baldacchino examines inter alia the problem of empathy in relation to art as an event or series of events drawing upon a wide and rich range of sources to inform what in effect is his manifesto With a profound understanding of its philosophical basis Baldacchino unfolds his argument in an internally consistent and elegantly structured way This is not a book to be dipped into to do so would miss the development of Baldacchino's philosophical position like an art work itself Art's Way Out has coherent structure and a complex interrelation between form and content reflecting an artist's concern for getting things right Richard Hickman Cambridge University Although art has a limitless capacity to take on myriad responsibilities according to Baldacchino we also need to consider a way out because only then will we understand how art goes beyond the boundaries of possibility As he explains our way into reason also comes from an ability to move outside the limits that reason sets This is the exit pedagogy that he advocates And here exit does not mean to leave but rather to reach beyond to extend and explore outside the borders we impose on learning teaching schooling and most forms of cultural agency The need to embrace the capacity of art to cycle beyond the contingencies we impose on it also helps to clarify the limits of inclusive arguments for deploying art education for various individual institutional and socio political ends art as self expression art as interdisciplinary method art as culture industry art as political culture art as social justice and so on This image invokes for me part of the legacy of Maxine Greene that Baldacchino revealed in his earlier text Education Beyond Education 2009 when he explored her thesis of the social imagination which is best achieved when teaching becomes reaching What Art's Way Out gives us is an exit strategy from the deadening tendency to ignore the enduring capacity of art to give life to learning teaching and the very culture of our being Graeme Sullivan Penn State University This is the sixth book authored by John Baldacchino the other most recent books being Education Beyond Education Self and the Imaginary in Maxine Greene's Philosophy 2009 and Makings of the Sea Journey Doubt and Nostalgia 2010 Currently Associate Dean at the School of Art Design University College Falmouth in England he was full time member of faculty at Columbia University's Teachers College in New York Gray's School of Art in Scotland and Warwick University in England Front cover image Monument to Marx we should have spoken more 2009 by Mike Ting

The English Mannerist Poets and the Visual Arts L. E. Semler, 1998 In this study L E Semler begins with a comprehensive historical definition of Mannerism in visual arts from which he derives four key terms that constitute the nucleus of the aesthetic technical precision elegance grazia and the difficulta facilita formula These principles interwoven with one another and with maniera are derived from visual arts but are specifically designed to be transferable to any medium The rest of the book situates the English poets in relation to the visual arts including painting limning gold and silversmithery architecture and garden design and discusses their verse in relation to the key Mannerist principles

Truth and Method Hans-Georg Gadamer, 2013-11-05 Truth and Method is a landmark work of 20th century thought which established Hans Georg Gadamer as one of the most important philosophical voices of the 20th Century In this book Gadamer established the field of philosophical hermeneutics exploring the nature of knowledge the book rejected traditional quasi scientific approaches to establishing cultural meaning that were prevalent after the war In arguing the truth and method acted in opposition to each other Gadamer examined the ways in which historical and cultural circumstance fundamentally influenced human understanding It was an approach that would become hugely influential in the humanities and social sciences and remains so to this day in the work of Jurgen Habermas and many others

The Claims of Memory Caroline Alice Wiedmer, 1999 Over a half a century after World War II Germany and France still struggle to understand the Holocaust and to confront their roles in the tragedy Through an interpretation of a wide array of contemporary cultural texts including memorials and memorial sites museums and exhibits national commemorations books and films Caroline Wiedmer traces the evolution of an often conflicted postwar politics of memory in these two nations Her analyses of sites of memory and of policies and national debates reveal the two countries deep seated ambivalence in the face of a desire to forget the horrors of the Holocaust and the need to remember them Among the issues

Wiedmer examines France's emerging sense of accountability and the fierce conflicts generated by the Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe to be built in Berlin. In her detailed account of how the Nazis took over a ready-made system of internment camps built by the French before World War II and in her discussion of the uses to which the Sachsenhausen concentration camp was put by both the Soviet and the East German governments after the war, Wiedmer uncovers disturbing patterns of recurrence that painfully complicate France's and Germany's relationships to the Holocaust itself and to the act of commemoration. The author also examines Art Spiegelman's Maus and Michael Verhoeven's film The Nasty Girl.
