Art in Nonliterate Societies J. A. Abramson, 2000 Origins of Semiosis Winfried Nöth, 2011-07-22 No detailed description available for Origins of Semiosis The Anthropology of Art Howard Morphy, Morgan Perkins, 2009-02-04 This anthology provides a single volume overview of the essential theoretical debates in the anthropology of art Drawing together significant work in the field from the second half of the twentieth century it enables readers to appreciate the art of different cultures at different times Advances a cross cultural concept of art that moves beyond traditional distinctions between Western and non Western art Provides the basis for the appreciation of art of different cultures and times Enhances readers appreciation of the aesthetics of art and of the important role it plays in human society Art in Small-scale Societies Richard L. Anderson, 1989 Using information from many in depth fieldwork studies of hunter gatherer horticultural and pastoral peoples from around the world this book provides a comprehensive account of the major questions regarding art in its cultural context Anderson presents are not as exotic looking museum pieces but as aesthetically powerful artifacts that play vital roles in the social intellectual and affective lives of the people who make and use them Primitive Art in Civilized Places Sally Price, 2001 What is so primitive about primitive art And how do we dare to use our standards to judge Drawing on a mixture of sources this text explores the cultural arrogance implicit in Westerners appropriation of non Western art Art and Aesthetics in Primitive Societies Carol F. Jopling, 1971 Papers by R M Berndt and N D Munn separately annotated Developing an All-School Model for Elementary Integrative Music Learning Carol E. Reed-Jones, 2014-03 The purpose of this study was to investigate the potential for increasing informal music making in elementary school culture and create a model of such music making Precedence for this model can be found in the literature of ethnomusicology educational psychology and learning theory multicultural music education and cultural anthropology Literature from four distinct traditions and contexts of music making in integrative sociocultural contexts sub Saharan African ngoma and Community Music as manifested in New Orleans second lines old time music and dance and summer camp music making was parsed with a philosophical lens to determine and assess possible areas of intersection between these four participatory cultures and North American public school culture Each of these five areas was examined through a comprehensive review of literature to define their salient characteristics These characteristics were sorted to determine commonalities between areas and the zones of intersection became the basis for a speculative model of integrative music learning featuring the inclusion of musical opportunities and interludes throughout the school day thus taking school music beyond the confines of the music room Instruction in music classes would still continue enhanced in this model by supplemental learning opportunities inspired by the informal learning of traditional world musics the participatory practice of New Orleans second line parades old time music and dance and summer camp music culture This model of integrative learning is also informed by current educational best practices such as child centered learning peer tutoring experiential learning and multicultural perspectives It acknowledges the diversity of traditions consulted while aiming for the unity in their seemingly disparate disciplines Five universal characteristics were uncovered in the search for areas of intersection between North American elementary school culture child culture ngoma music making and Community Music style music making in New Orleans old time music and dance and summer camp contexts a Song b play c informal learning as evidenced by oral tradition peer tutoring self learning d kinesthetic learning and e contextualized learning as evidenced in the sociocultural uses of music and situated learning This model strives for the enactment of school music as a vital and integral part of daily school culture

A Sourcebook of Nasca Ceramic Iconography Donald A. Proulx, 2009-08 For almost eight hundred years 100 BC AD 650 Nasca artists modeled and painted the plants animals birds and fish of their homeland on Peru's south coast as well as numerous abstract anthropomorphic creatures whose form and meaning are sometimes incomprehensible today In this first book length treatment of Nasca ceramic iconography to appear in English drawing upon an archive of more than eight thousand Nasca vessels from over 150 public and private collections Donald Proulx systematically describes the major artistic motifs of this stunning polychrome pottery interprets the major themes displayed on this pottery and then uses these descriptions and his stimulating interpretations to analyze Nasca society After beginning with an overview of Nasca culture and an explanation of the style and chronology of Nasca pottery Proulx moves to the heart of his book a detailed classification and description of the entire range of supernatural and secular themes in Nasca iconography along with a fresh and distinctive interpretation of these themes Linking the pots and their iconography to the archaeologically known Nasca society he ends with a thorough and accessible examination of this ancient culture viewed through the lens of ceramic iconography Although these static images can never be fully understood by animating their themes and meanings Proulx reconstructs the lifeways of this complex society

Tradition and Creativity in Tribal Art , Aesthetics and the Philosophy of Art Peter Lamarque, Stein Haugom Olsen, 2018-12-06 For over fifty years philosophers working within the broader remit of analytic philosophy have developed and refined a substantial body of work in aesthetics and the philosophy of art curating a core foundation of scholarship which offers rigor and clarity on matters of profound and perennial interest relating to art and all forms of aesthetic appreciation Now in its second edition and thoroughly revised Aesthetics and the Philosophy of Art The Analytic Tradition An Anthology captures this legacy in a comprehensive introduction to the core philosophical questions and conversations in aesthetics Through 57 key essays selected by leading scholars Peter Lamarque and Stein Haugom Olsen this anthology collects modern classics as well as new contributions on essential topics such as the identification and ontology of art interpretation values of art art and knowledge and fiction and the imagination New to this edition are selections which treat aesthetic experience more widely including essays on the aesthetics of nature and aesthetics in everyday life Other carefully chosen pieces analyze the practice and experience of specific art forms in greater detail including painting photography film literature music and popular art such as comics This bestselling collection is an essential resource for students and scholars of aesthetics designed to foster a foundational understanding of both long standing and contemporary topics in the field

Art History and Anthropology Peter Probst, Joseph Imorde, 2023-12-12 An in depth and nuanced look at the complex relationship between two dynamic fields of study While today we are experiencing a revival of world art and the so called global turn of art history encounters between art historians and anthropologists remain rare Even after a century and a half of interactions between these epistemologies a skeptical distance prevails with respect to the disciplinary other This volume is a timely exploration of the roots of this complex dialogue as it emerged worldwide in the colonial and early postcolonial periods between 1870 and 1970 Exploring case studies from Australia Austria Brazil France Germany and the United States this volume addresses connections and rejections between art historians and anthropologists often in the contested arena of primitive art It examines the roles of a range of figures including the art historian anthropologist Aby Warburg the modernist artist Tarsila do Amaral the curator impresario Leo Frobenius and museum directors such as Alfred Barr and Ren d Harnoncourt Entering the current debates on decolonizing the past this collection of essays prompts reflection on future relations between these two fields

Tradition and Creativity in Tribal Art Daniel Biebuyck, 2023-11-15

The Anthropology of Music Alan P. Merriam, Valerie Merriam, 1964-12-01 In this highly praised and seminal work Alan Merriam demonstrates that music is a social behavior one worthy and available to study through the methods of anthropology In it he convincingly argues that ethnomusicology by definition cannot separate the sound analysis of music from its cultural context of people thinking acting and creating The study begins with a review of the various approaches in ethnomusicology He then suggests a useful and simple research model ideas about music lead to behavior related to music and this behavior results in musical sound He explains many aspects and outcomes of this model and the methods and techniques he suggests are useful to anyone doing field work Further chapters provide a cross cultural round up of concepts about music physical and verbal behavior related to music the role of the musician and the learning and composing of music The Anthropology of Music illuminates much of interest to musicologists but to social scientists in general as well

What is Art For? Ellen Dissanayake, 1990 This book is probably one of the most intellectually enriching interdisciplinary studies of art that has ever been written

The Cosmology of Freedom Robert C. Neville, 1995-01-01 To distinguish and to relate these senses of freedom a broad philosophical perspective is required Neville provides a functional philosophical cosmology that shows how all the senses of freedom are functions of the natural cosmos In conjunction with his theory of divine creation in God the Creator this book is an important argument for reconciling human freedom and divine creativity technology Venus in Exile Wendy Steiner, 2001-10-24 Whereas previous eras had celebrated beauty as the central aim of art the modernist avant garde were deeply suspicious of beauty and its perennial symbols woman and ornament preferring instead the thrill and alienation of the sublime They rejected harmony empathy and femininity in a denial still reverberating through art and social relations today Exploring this casting of Venus with all her charms into exile Wendy Steiner's brilliant ambitious and provocative analysis explores the twentieth century's troubled relationship with beauty Tracing this strange and damaging history starting from Kant's aesthetics and Mary Shelley's horrified response in Frankenstein Steiner untangles the complex attitudes of modernists toward both beauty and the female subject in art She argues that the avant garde set out to replace the impurity of woman and ornament with form the new arch symbol of artistic beauty However in the process of controlling desire and pleasure in this way artists admitted the exotic fetish objects of primitive cultures someone else's power and allure that surely would not overmaster the sophisticated modernist A century of pornography shock and alienation followed and this rejection of feminine and bourgeois values domesticity intimacy charm kept the female subject an impossible and remote symbol Ironically as Steiner reveals the feminist hostility to the beauty myth had a parallel result leaving Western society alienated from desire and pleasure on all sides In the course of this elegantly constructed and accessibly written argument Steiner explores the cultural history of the century just ended from Dada to Futurism T S Eliot's Wasteland and Picasso's Les Femmes d'Alger to Pumping Iron II The Women and Deep Throat Jean Michel Basquiat and Outsider Art Naomi Wolf and Cindy Sherman Thomas Pynchon and Don DeLillo ranging across art and architecture poetry and the novel feminist writing and pornography Only in recent years Steiner demonstrates has our culture begun to see a way out of this damaging impasse revising the reputations of neglected artists such as Pierre Bonnard and celebrating pleasure and charm in the arts of the present By disentangling beauty from a misogynistic view of femininity as passive narcissistic sentimental inefficacious Western culture now seems ready to return to the female subject and ornament in art and to accept male beauty as a possibility to explore and celebrate as well Steiner finds hints of these developments in the work of figures as varied as the painter Marlene Dumas the novelist Penelope Fitzgerald and the choreographer Mark Morris as she leads us to a rediscovery and a reclamation of beauty in the Western world From one of our most thoughtful and ambitious cultural critics this important and thought provoking work not only provides us with a searching analysis of where we have been in the last century but reveals the promise of where we might be going in the coming one History of Dance, 2E Kassing, Gayle, 2017-05-17 History of Dance Second Edition examines dance from prehistoric times to today It focuses on the dancers and choreographers dances and significant dance works from each time period and offers an instructor guide test bank PowerPoint presentation package and student web resource to reinforce learning The Arts in Children's Lives Liora Bresler, C.M. Thompson, 2007-05-08 Seventeen authors whose work represents the best of contemporary research and theory on a constellation of issues concerning the role of the arts in children's lives and learning address critical issues of development context and curriculum from perspectives informed by work with children in formal and informal settings

This anthology draws on various cultural and institutional context and traditional and contemporary practices from different parts of the world
