Art Of The Real:

The Material Image Brigitte Peucker, 2007 Focusing on intermediality The Material Image situates film within questions of representation familiar from the other arts What is meant by figuring the real How is the real suggested by visual metaphors and what is its relation to illusion How is the spectator figured as entering the text and how does the image enter our world The film's spectator is integral to these concerns Cognitive and phenomenological approaches to perception alike claim that spectatorial affect is real even when it is film that produces it Central to the staging of intermediality in film tableaux moments in film also figure prominently in the book Films by Scorsese Greenaway Wenders and Kubrick are seen to address painterly photographic and digital images in relation to effects of the real Hitchcock's films are examined with regard to modernist and realist effects in painting Chapters on Fassbinder and Haneke analyze the significance of tableau for the body in pain while a final chapter on horror film explores the literalism of psychopathic tableau Here too art and the body images and the real are juxtaposed and entwined in a set of relations

The Art of the Real, 1968 The Art of the Real Roger Rothman, Ian Verstegen, 2015-09-18 Art of the Real is devoted to registering the materialist turn of contemporary theory in visual studies For many years visual studies was dominated by post structuralist theory and its attendant nominalism More recently however the materialism of Slavoj Žižek the realism of Gilles Deleuze especially as imputed by Manuel de Landa and Alain Badiou has disrupted this status quo Today we are more likely to take for granted the relevance of biology and the natural sciences while the return of Marx has been more serious than countenanced by Derrida or Foucault This book considers visual studies and the questions that have led to the new materialism its ontology and its relation to contemporary politics While a good deal of work has promoted a materialist agenda at the same time that scholars in art history and visual studies have felt liberated by the call to attend to objects materials and materiality no publication has yet treated this move for its meta theoretical commitments This volume does this by addressing the conditions that have brought about the turn to materiality the ontological commitments that follow on from new materialist metaphysics and the political implications wrought by these commitments

Advertising Tower William O. Gardner,2020-05-11 On a December morning in 1925 a newspaper journalist reported receiving 25 different handbills in an hour s walk in downtown Tokyo advertising everything from Western style clothing and furniture to sweet shops charity organizations phonograph recordings plays and films The activities of advertisers and the new entertainment culture and patterns of consumption that they promoted helped to define a new urban aesthetic emerging in the 1920s This book examines some of the responses of Japanese authors to the transformation of Tokyo in the early decades of the twentieth century In particular it explores the themes and formal strategies of the modernist literature that flourished in the 1920s focusing on the work of Hagiwara Kyojiro 1899 1938 and Hayashi Fumiko 1903 1951 William Gardner shows how modernist works offer new constructions of individual subjectivity amid the social and technological changes that provided the ground for the appearance of mass media Hagiwara s conception of the poem and poet as an electric radio advertising tower provides an emblem for the aesthetic tensions and multiple discourses of technology media urbanism commerce and propaganda that were circulating through the urban environment at the time while Hayashi s work with its references to popular songs plays and movies suggests an understanding of everyday life as the interface between individual subjectivity and a highly mediated environment *The electrical researches of the honourable Henry Cavendish, written between 1771 and 1781, edited from the original manuscripts in the possession of the Duke of Devonshire by J. Building the Human City Dr. John F. Kane, 2016-03-30 Building the Human City is a first overview of the award winning yet quite diverse works of Jesuit philosopher William F Lynch Writing from the 1950s to the mid 1980s Lynch was among the first to warn against the fierce polarizations prevalent in our culture wars and political life He called for a transformation of artistic and intellectual sensibilities and imaginations through the healing discernments and critical ironies of an Ignatian and Socratic spirituality Yet the breadth of his concerns from cinema and literature to mental health and hope to secularization and faith as well as the depth of his thought philosophical as much as theological led to little initial awareness of the overall vision uniting his writings This book while exploring that vision also argues that the spirituality Lynch proposes is more needed today than when he first wrote
