Art Works Interdisciplinary Learning Powered By The Arts:

Art Works! Dennie Wolf, Dana Balick, 1999 This text demonstrates the power of the arts to inform and ignite interdisciplinary learning Based on the Curriculum Seminars this book is an example of what can happen when teachers and students engage in real conversations about effective learning and teaching String Explorer, Book 1 Andrew H. Dabczynski, Richard Meyer, Bob Phillips, Alfred and Highland Etling are taking a brand new approach to string instruction that promises to grab and hold every student's attention String Explorer Join the adventures of Arco Dakota and Rosalyn Le Bow as they guide your students along the path to successful string playing with the most exciting yet systematic and logically sequenced instruction of its kind Integrating Multiple Literacies in K-8 Classrooms Janet C. Richards, Michael C. McKenna, 2003-05-14 This text gives prospective and practicing teachers a comprehensive understanding of how to teach multiple literacies in elementary and middle school classrooms All of the literacies dance music visual arts popular culture media and computer technologies are integrated with reading and writing Balanced treatment is given to theoretical perspectives and practical applications The text also features authentic cases written by preservice teachers and commentaries on the cases from practitioners and university professors The cases are designed to prepare future teachers for the PRAXIS teacher certifying exam and others offered in many states Three theoretical chapters support the practical applications Chapter 1 addresses the benefits of writing and analyzing cases and the specific attributes of exemplary teaching cases and offers guidelines for teachers to author their own case narratives and questions for analyzing and discussing case issues with peers Chapter 2 discusses the role of electronic symbol making and multiple sign systems in children's literacy and how children use symbols to receive and express meaning Chapter 3 offers a theoretical framework that helps define and enable teachers to use the new literacies of Internet technology and provides a strong rationale for expanding traditional definitions of literacy Interdisciplinary Approaches to Teaching Art in High School Pamela G. Taylor, 2006 The authors present works of art artmaking skills and ways of knowing as catalysts for learning across the traditional disciplinary boundaries in high school Both timely and enduring this is the book that will inspire and support the work of veteran new and pre service high school art teachers The book includes issues theories and practices related to high school curriculum advocacy classroom management assessment cultural understanding idea based instructional strategies team teaching technology visual culture and student initiated learning The authors draw upon their own experiences and those of other high school art teachers to create a motivating and provocative text that challenges readers to critically and continually reflect collaborate read and research their own interdisciplinary thinking teaching and learning processes Publisher Expanding the Reach of Education Reforms: Perspectives from Leaders in the Scale-Up of Educational Interventions Thomas K. Glennan, Susan J. Bodilly, Jolene Galegher, Kerri A. Kerr, 2000-10-28 How does one spread a successful educational reform The essays here recount the authors' experiences with the scale up process Among their lessons are the importance of building the capacity to implement and sustain the reforms adjusting for local culture and policy ensuring quality control providing the necessary infrastructure and fostering a sense of ownership The process is iterative and complex and requires cooperation among many actors who must ensure that the results align with goals

Architectural Exaptation Alessandro Melis, Telmo Pievani, Jose Antonio Lara-Hernandez, 2024-03-29 Architectural Exaptation When Function Follows Form focuses on the significance and the originality of the study of exaptation It presents exaptation as an opportunity to extend architectural design towards more sustainable approaches aimed at enforcing urban resilience The use of exaptation's definition in architecture supports the heuristic value of cross disciplinary studies on biology and architecture which seem even more relevant in times of global environmental crises This book aims to make a critique of the pre existing and extensive paternalistic literature Exaptation will be described as a functional shift of a structure that already had a prior but different function In architecture a functional shift of a structure that already had a function may apply to forms of decorative elements embedded in architectural components and to both change of function of tectonic elements and the change of use of an architectural space The book is illustrated with examples from around the globe including China Italy Mexico New Zealand the USA and the UK and looks at different civilizations and diverse historical periods ranging from the urban to the architectural scale Such examples highlight the potential and latent human creative capacity to change the use and functions something that cities and buildings could consider when facing disturbances Exaptation is shown as an alternative narrative to the simplifications of evolutionary puritanism It also offers an innovative perspective and presents an opportunity to re think the manner in which we design and redesign our cities This book will be of interest to architecture planning urban design and biology researchers and students Winner of the Gerd Albers Award 2024 This award is for the best book contribution in the field of Urban Planning and is awarded by International Society of City and Regional Planners ISOCARP

Theater of War Meredith Davenport, Daniel A. Kellin, II, 2014-10-01 For five years Meredith Davenport photographed and interviewed men who play live action games based on contemporary conflicts such as a recreation of the hunt for Osama Bin Laden that took place thousands of miles from the conflict zone on a campground in Northern Virginia Her images speak about the way that trauma and conflict penetrate a culture sheltered from the horrors of war Bringing together a series of two dozen photographs with essays discussing and analysing the influence of the media particularly photographs and video on the culture at large and how conflict is discussed in the visual realm Theater of War is a unique look at the influence of contemporary conflicts and their omnipresence in the media on popular culture Written by an experienced photojournalist who has covered a variety of human rights issues worldwide this book is an essential addition to the library of anyone interested in the confluence of war and media

The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies Peter Howard,Ian Thompson,Emma Waterton,Mick Atha,2013-02-15 Landscape is a vital synergistic concept which opens up ways of thinking about many of the problems which beset our contemporary world such as climate change social alienation environmental degradation loss of biodiversity and destruction of heritage As a concept landscape does not respect disciplinary boundaries Indeed many academic disciplines have found the concept so important it has been used as a qualifier that delineates whole sub disciplines landscape ecology landscape planning landscape archaeology and so forth In other cases landscape studies progress under a broader banner such as heritage studies or cultural geography Yet it does not always mean the same thing in all of these contexts The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies offers the first comprehensive attempt to explore research directions into the many uses and meanings of landscape The Companion contains thirty nine original contributions from leading scholars within the field which have been divided into four parts Experiencing Landscape Landscape Culture and Heritage Landscape Society and Justice and Design and Planning for Landscape Topics covered range from phenomenological approaches to landscape to the consideration of landscape as a repository of human culture from ideas of identity and belonging to issues of power and hegemony and from discussions of participatory planning and design to the call for new imaginaries in a time of global and environmental crisis Each contribution explores the future development of different conceptual and theoretical approaches as well as recent empirical contributions to knowledge and understanding Collectively they encourage dialogue across disciplinary barriers and reflection upon the implications of research findings for local national and international policy in relation to landscape This Companion provides up to date critical reviews of state of the art perspectives across this multifaceted field embracing disciplines such as anthropology archaeology cultural studies geography landscape planning landscape architecture countryside management forestry heritage studies ecology and fine art It serves as an invaluable point of reference for scholars researchers and graduate students alike engaging in the field of landscape studies
