Bonfire Of The Humanities Television Subliteracy And Long Term Memory Loss:

Bonfire of the Humanities David Marc,1995-06 This volume focuses on the relationship between the rise of the multi media environment television and electronic media and the decline of the humanities in academia the changing role of print literacy and the disintegration of historical consciousness David Marc is as mad as hell about some things and he s not going to take it any longer He finds that most university humanities programs remain top heavy with embittered careerists who would rather deny the evidence than admit that with the rise and popular acceptance of mass media their most cherished interests their techniques and skills have become archaic New students are treated as if they read and write as often and for the same purposes as their counterparts before the rise of the television camera telephone and communications satellite Professors get paid Students receive diplomas And yet humanities courses are the joke of the campus In analyzing the decline of the humanities on college campuses Marc covers a wide range of issues including political correctness the growing tolerance of academic cheating and institutionalized grade inflation

Memory, History, Nation Susannah Radstone,2017-09-04 In the last decade a focus on memory in the human sciences has encouraged new approaches to the study of the past As the humanities and social sciences have put into question their own claims to objectivity authority and universality memory has appeared to offer a way of engaging with knowledge of the past as inevitably partial subjective and local At the same time memory and memorial practices have become sites of contestation and the politics of memory are increasingly prominent This inter disciplinary volume demonstrates from a range of perspectives the complex cultural work and struggles over meaning that lie at the heart of what we call memory The chapters in this volume offer a complex awareness of the workings of memory and the ways in which different or changing histories may be explained They explore the relation between individual and social memory between real and imaginary event and fantasy history and myth Contradictory accounts or memories in direct contradiction to the historical record are not always the sign of a repressive authority attempting to cover something up The tension between memory as a safeguard against attempts to silence dissenting voices and memory's own implication in that silencing runs throughout the book Topics covered range from the Basque country to Cambodia from Hungary to South Africa from the Finnish Civil War to the cult Jim Jarmusch movie Dead Man from the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame to Australia Part I Transforming Memory is concerned primarily with the social and personal transmission of memory across time and generations Part II Remembering Suffering Trauma and History brings the after effects of catastrophe to the fore Part III Patterning the National Past the relation between nation and memory is the central issue Part IV And Then Silence reflects on the complex and multiple meaning of silence and oblivion wherein amnesia is often used as a figure for the denial of shamefu

Television at the Movies Jon Nelson Wagner, Tracy Biga MacLean, 2008-05-19 The co authors have a unique approach to the study of television viewing its history and reception not only through important articles about the medium but also through analyzing how Hollywood auteur cinema has commented on television over the decades in films such as Tootsie Network The Last Picture Show A Face in the Crowd Rollerball The King of Comedy and others Television at the Movies argues that the study of television is a crucial aspect of understanding our recent and contemporary culture and it provides an illuminating point of entry for students and researchers in the field

Kercher,2010-06-15 We live in a time much like the postwar era A time of arch political conservatism and vast social conformity A time in which our nation s leaders question and challenge the patriotism of those who oppose their policies But before there was Jon Stewart Al Franken or Bill Maher there were Mort Sahl Stan Freberg and Lenny Bruce liberal satirists who through their wry and scabrous comedic routines waged war against the political ironies contradictions and hypocrisies of their times Revel with a Cause is their story Stephen Kercher here provides the first comprehensive look at the satiric humor that flourished in the United States during the 1950s and early 1960s Focusing on an impressive range of comedy not just standup comedians of the day but also satirical publications like MAD magazine improvisational theater groups such asSecond City the motion picture Dr Strangelove and TV shows like That Was the Week That Was Kercher reminds us that the postwar era saw varieties of comic expression that were more challenging and nonconformist than we commonly remember His history of these comedic luminaries shows that for a sizeable audience of educated middle class Americans who shared such liberal views the period s satire was a crucial mode of cultural dissent For such individuals satire was a vehicle through which concerns over the suppression of civil liberties Cold War foreign policies blind social conformity and our heated racial crisis could be productively addressed A vibrant and probing look at some of the most influential comedy of mid twentieth century America Revel with a Cause belongs on the short list of essential books for anyone interested in the relationship between American politics and popular culture In the Eye of the Beholder Gary Richard Edgerton,Michael T.
