Soldiers & Silver Michael J. Taylor, 2020-12-01 Taylor's study critically compares the manpower and revenues of Republican Rome with those of Carthage and the Antigonid Seleucid and Ptolemaic kingdoms Dominic Rathbone author of Civilizations of the Ancient World By the middle of the second century BCE after nearly one hundred years of warfare Rome had exerted its control over the entire Mediterranean world forcing the other great powers of the region Carthage Macedonia Egypt and the Seleucid empire to submit militarily and financially But how despite its relative poverty and its frequent numerical disadvantage in decisive battles did Rome prevail Michael J Taylor explains this surprising outcome by examining the role that manpower and finances played providing a comparative study that quantifies the military mobilizations and tax revenues for all five powers Though Rome was the poorest state it enjoyed the largest military mobilization drawing from a pool of citizens colonists and allies while its wealthiest adversaries failed to translate revenues into large or successful armies Taylor concludes that state level extraction strategies were decisive in the warfare of the period as states with high conscription and low taxation raised larger more successful armies than those that primarily sought to maximize taxation Comprehensive and detailed Soldiers and Silver offers a new and sophisticated perspective on the political dynamics and economies of these ancient Mediterranean empires An interesting read Taylor has succeeded at clarifying an often unclear topic with some fine scholarship Ancient World Magazine Taylor considers the systems of all of the major players in the Mediterranean state system and that fact alone puts this study head and shoulders above similar older efforts A Collection of Unmitigated Pedantry

Life/Death Rhythms of Ancient Empires - Climatic Cycles Influence Rule of Dynasties Will Slatyer, 2012-05-22 The Life Death Rhythms of Ancient Empires outlines the flow of history from 3000BC to 1400AD to identify the factors that make up dominant just prosperous civilisations that can be described as golden cultures These factors were found to have common features and the cultures themselves could be described in cyclical terms This meant that the rise and fall of future dominant cultures could be roughly forecast to some degree in terms of hundreds of years The evolution of capitalism was made possible during and after actual warfare by ancient priests and bankers assisted by the invention of coinage Capitalism was practised in the ancient world supported at times by warfare and religion It was vanquished for centuries by powerful weapons called irresponsible debt and debasement of currency The global capitalism of the twenty first century is dependent on debt and a debased US dollar A review of ancient history provides the basis for a glimpse into the future This centurys global temperature increase which so excites environmentalists can be shown to be part of a thousand year climate cycle There well might be a human element to global warming but this just exacerbates the centuries long cyclical pattern Research has shown that periods of hot dry and cold dry climate have effects on human behaviour Extrapolation of cycles enables forecasts of human behaviour to be made well into the new millennium Dominant prosperous societies have occurred at roughly 200 year intervals which can suggest time lines for societies in the present and the future A relatively irreverent history of ancient cultures war religion money and debt produces cyclical analysis enabling a forecast that the USA might lose world dominance in 2040 The next volume Life Death Rhythms from the Capitalist Renaissance will include economic data that will allow refined cyclical forecasts
