The Hunt in Ancient Greece Judith M. Barringer, 2003-04-01 Hunting and its imagery continued to play a significant role in archaic and classical Greece long after hunting had ceased being a necessity for survival in everyday life Drawing on vase paintings sculpture inscriptions and other literary evidence Judith Barringer reexamines the theme of the hunt and shows how the tradition it depicts helped maintain the dominance of the ruling social groups Along with athletics and battle hunting was a defining activity of the masculine aristocracy and was crucial to the efforts of the Athenian elite to control the social agenda even as their political power declined The Hunt in Ancient Greece examines descriptions of hunting in initiation rituals as well as the ideals of masculinity and adulthood such rites of passage promoted Barringer argues that depictions of the hunt in literature and art also served as striking metaphors for the intricacies of courtship shedding light on sexuality and gender roles Through an exploration of various representations of the hunt Barringer provides extraordinary insight into Athenian society

Animal Encounters Susan Crane, 2012-11-29 Traces of the living animal run across the entire corpus of medieval writing and reveal how pervasively animals mattered in medieval thought and practice In fascinating scenes of cross species encounters a raven offers St Cuthbert a lump of lard that waterproofs his visitor's boots for a whole year a scholar finds inspiration for his studies in his cat's perfect focus on killing mice and a dispossessed knight wins back his heritage only to give it up again in order to save the life of his warhorse Readers have often taken such encounters to be merely figurative or fanciful but Susan Crane discovers that these scenes of interaction are firmly grounded in the intimate cohabitation with animals that characterized every medieval milieu from palace to village The animal encounters of medieval literature reveal their full meaning only when we recover the living animal's place within the written animal The grip of a certain humanism was strong in medieval Britain as it is today the humanism that conceives animals in diametrical opposition to humankind Yet medieval writing was far from univocal in this regard Latin and vernacular works abound in other ways of thinking about animals that invite the saint the scholar and the knight to explore how bodies and minds interpenetrate across species lines Crane brings these other ways of thinking to light in her readings of the beast fable the hunting treatise the saint's life the bestiary and other genres Her substantial contribution to the field of animal studies investigates how animals and people interact in culture making how conceiving the animal is integral to conceiving the human and how cross species encounters transform both their animal and their human participants

Remembering Africa Dirk Göttsche, 2013 A groundbreaking treatment of the themes of colonialism and Africa in German literary fiction as presented in some fifty novels from the past three decades In the late 1990s in the wake of German unification multiculturalism and globalization a surge of historical novels about German colonialism in Africa and its previously neglected legacies hit the German literary scene This development accelerated by the centenary in 2004 of Germany's colonial war in South West Africa has continued to the present making colonialism an established theme of literary memorialization alongside Germany's dominant memory themes National Socialism and the Holocaust the former GDR and its demise in the Wende and more recently 1968 This is the first comprehensive study of contemporary German literature's intense engagement with German colonialism and with Germany's wider involvement in European colonialism Building on the author's decade of research and publication in the field the book discusses some fifty novels by German Swiss and Austrian writers among them Hans Christoph Buch Alex Capus Christof Hamann Lukas Hartmann Ilona Maria Hilliges Giselher W Hoffmann Dieter Kehn Hermann Schulz Gerhard Seyfried Thomas von Steinaecker Uwe Timm Ilija Trojanow and Stephan Wackwitz Drawing on international postcolonial theory the German tradition of cross cultural literary studies and on memory studies the book brings the hitherto neglected German case to the international debate in postcolonial literary studies Dirk Göttsche is Professor of German at the University of Nottingham

Encyclopaedic Profile of Indian Tribes R. R. Prasad, 1996 Next to Africa India has the largest tribal population 67.7 million in the world Indian tribes spread over the length and breadth of the country are concentrated in hilly and forest regions The tribes of India differ considerably from one another in race language culture and beliefs and present a spectacle of striking diversity It is this diversity marked by varied social characteristics and diverse cultural traditions and linguistic traits that lends lustre to the cultural mosaic of India Encyclopaedia Profile of Indian Tribes first of its kind seeks to present a concise but comprehensive account of the socio cultural profile of all the tribal communities who have been declared as Scheduled Tribes by the Government of India The tribes are arranged alphabetically in order to facilitate easy reference Each profile deals with the geographical distribution of the tribal population the social structure the means of subsistence and economic organisation religious beliefs and practice the political institutions and modern social changes sweeping the community At the end of each profile there is a short bibliography for the more inquisitive reader Each entry in this four volume set has been contributed by a scholar who has deep personal knowledge and contact with the community This classic multi volume set will be extremely useful to scholars studying tribals in India and abroad and to all those interested in a standard reference work on the Indian tribes      Race and Identity in Hemingway's Fiction A.

Strong, 2008-04-14 Race and Identity in Hemingway's Fiction explores how Hemingway negotiates race as a defining element of American identity His interest in race and racial identity emerged in his writing and his personal life through attention to skin color performance of racial identity and experimentation and immersion in tribal life and rituals This study imagines what Hemingway's fiction would look like if his non white characters were brought out of the background and asks how Hemingway's conception of American identity transforms when it is constructed on the basis of race
