Of Words:

Webs of Words John Considine, 2010-02-19 Webs of Words New Studies in Historical Lexicology brings together ten papers on aspects of the history of words and vocabulary which address aspects of Chinese Czech Dutch English including Caribbean varieties German Italian Mori Persian Portuguese Russian and other languages In the first four essays focussing on pre 1800 material Karel Kuera and Martin Stluka's opening essay discusses the plotting of the relative historical frequency of common words drawing on their work with the diachronic portion of the Czech National Corpus Ian Lancashire asks why Tudor England had no monolingual English dictionary Chiara Benati discusses the interplay between Low German High German and Latin in an early modern surgical text and Mateusz Urban sorts out the competing etymologies of English balcony Italian balcone and similar forms in Persian and Russian The next six turn to more recent material Jane Samson analyzes the nineteenth century debate as to whether the Mori language was too primitive to have a word for blue Vivien Waszink discusses the Dutch prefixes bio and eco and their documentation in a new dictionary Tommaso Pellin examines a series of attempts to provide a grammatical terminology in Chinese Lise Winer surveys the naming of fauna in the English Creole of Trinidad and Tobago Mirosława Podhajecka writes on the treatment of Russian loanwords in the current revision of the Oxford English Dictionary with special attention to Google Books as a research tool and Isabel Casanova asks whether Portuguese dictionaries should register English words The contributions to this volume share an interest in empirical evidence rather than in lexicological study at a highly theoretical level and in the wide contextualization of the words which constitute this evidence in the social and cultural lives of their users

The Power of Words, 2006-01-01 This volume comprises essays in lexicography lexicology and semantics by leading international experts in these fields The contributions cover Old Middle and Present Day English and Scots and specific subjects include medical vocabulary colour lexemes and semantic and pragmatic meaning in terms for politeness money and humour In the area of Old English studies there are articles on kinship terminology and colour lexemes and in Middle English a semantic and syntactic study of the overlapping of the verbs dremen and douten Many of the essays make use of the Historical Thesaurus of English project at the University of Glasgow and pay tribute to its Director Professor Christian Kay e.g. one article demonstrates how the HTE a project which is at the interface between historical semantics and lexicography may present a rich resource for information about the lexicalization of concepts within our culture such as changing social attitudes in the area of will consent and coercion Other resources such as The Linguistic Atlas of Early Middle English and the Oxford English Dictionary provide a rich source for information on historical lexicography semantics and editing A number of essays concern the Scots language such as an analysis of evaluative terms in modern Scots speech and writing the rich potential of rhyme in Scots and the role of lexicon in the fronting in Glaswegian

The new world of words: or a General English dictionary, 1671 On the Study of Words Richard Chenevix Trench, 1869 A Comprehensive Etymological Dictionary of the Spanish Language with Families of Words based on Indo-European Roots Edward A. Roberts, 2014 This work traces the etymologies of the entries to their earliest sources shows their kinship to both Spanish and English and organizes them into families of words in an Appendix of Indo European roots Entries are based on those of the Diccionario de la lengua española de la Real Academia Española
