COTS-Based Software Systems John Dean, Andree Gravel, 2003-06-30 Modern software systems increasingly use commercial off the shelf COTS software products as building blocks In some cases major software systems are assembled with virtually no custom code in the system The use of COTS software products as components offers the promise of rapid delivery to end users shared development costs with other customers and an opportunity for expanding mission or business capabilities and performance as improvements are made in the commercial marketplace Few organizations today can afford the resources and time to replicate market tested capabilities Yet the promise of COTS products is too often not realized in practice There have been more failures than successes in using COTS software products The research and software practitioner communities have been working with COTS based software systems for a number of years There is now sufficient documented experience in the community to collect analyze and disseminate success stories common failings lessons learned and research advances The mounting experience shows that the effective use of COTS software products in major software systems demands new skills knowledge and abilities changed roles and responsibilities and different techniques and processes The International Conference on COTS Based Software Systems ICCBSS focuses on the challenges of building and maintaining systems that incorporate COTS software products The conference sponsors the National Research Council Canada the Software Engineering Institute and the University of
