have used this clause to eviscerate the Free Exercise Clause America's first freedom The Court has purged Christianity from the public square and in doing so it has unwittingly helped the cultural Marxist agenda by spiritually disarming America

Hoyum,John W. Hoyum,2022-12-13 The theme of freedom is ever present for those who inhabit the modern western world To be free most people assume means to be free over and against the state and one's neighbor But Luther's conception of freedom is decidedly different from the usual story we tell about what it means to be a free human being For Luther to be free doesn't mean isolation from or opposition to one's neighbor but freedom is the kind of liberty that empowers human beings to service of those around them True freedom comes only from the promise of free grace in Jesus Christ delivered through the preaching of the gospel and the delivery of the sacraments To be free in Christ involves a rediscovery of God's creation that God has made us vessels of his goodness for those he has placed into our lives The Sentimental State

Elizabeth Garner Masarik,2024-04-01 With The Sentimental State Elizabeth Garner Masarik shows how middle class women both white and Black harnessed the nineteenth century culture of sentiment to generate political action in the Progressive Era While eighteenth century rationalism had relied upon the development of the analytic mind as the basis for acquiring truth nineteenth century sentimentalism hinged upon human emotional responses and the public's capacity to feel sympathy to establish morally based truth and build support for improving the welfare of women and children Sentimentalism marched right alongside women's steps into the public sphere of political action The concerns over infant mortality and the fall of young women intertwined with sentimentalism to elicit public action in the formation of the American welfare state The work of voluntary and paid female reformers during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries shaped what would become lasting collaborations between grassroots voluntary organizations and the national government Women saw a social need filled it and cobbled together a network of voluntary organizations that tapped state funding and support when available Their work provided safeguards for women and children and created a network of female oriented programs that both aided and policed women of child bearing age at the turn of the twentieth century Through an examination of these reform programs Masarik demonstrates the strong connection between nineteenth century sentimental culture and female political action advocating government support for infant and maternal welfare in the twentieth century Chinese Herbal
