

A background image showing three people in a laboratory setting. On the left, a man with grey hair is looking down. In the center, a woman with blonde hair tied back is looking at a device. On the right, a man with glasses is also looking at the device. They are gathered around a table where a small, clear, box-like device with internal components is visible. A desk lamp is positioned above the device. The overall tone is professional and scientific.

In Technological Society:

"Technological Society" Alexander Robert, 2020-01-01 Public opinion is manipulated based on the will of the elite who control it creating economic and social consequence Alexander Robert clearly dissects and analyses four distinct areas of technological influence Media Human Genetic Modification Dating Apps and Education These topics may go unnoticed by the average citizen yet still impose a major impact on their lives This book is a brilliant and powerful examination of today s Technological Society offering insights into each issue and antidotes to consider in solving societies problems

Technologies & Society Ron Westrum, 1991 The shaping of people and things Theory Marx s theory of technology The ogburn generation Recent theoretical approaches Originators and managers of technology Inventors and inventions Invention as a social process The role of designers in technology Innovation inventions and institutions The sponsorship of technology How sponsors evolve Users of technology The technology user interface Adapting and tinkering Technological accidents The distancing effects of technology Monitoring technology shaping the present and the future social control of technologies Technology assessment Foresight and social intelligence Index The Technological Society Jacques Ellul, 1964 Questioning Technology with Jacques Ellul David W. Gill, Lisa Richmond, 2025-10-07 Twenty first century technology is an ever expanding powerful force in virtually every aspect of human life and every corner of the globe So much of modern technology has resulted in positive improvements in communication work health and other domains Technology s promises and possibilities for the future are often glowing But it is one thing for technology to function as a tool serving human purpose and flourishing and quite another for it to be granted the position of unquestioned master All technologies deserve to be questioned What are their costs trade offs and potential or real negative impact And how do we create limits and controls for technological invasion when these would be wise and necessary Questioning Technology with Jacques Ellul addresses these questions in both the big picture and in their relevance to specific arenas such as art politics work and religion with voices from not just the academy but also the workplace and society Science/Technology/Society as Reform in Science Education Robert Eugene Yager, 1996-01-01 Science Technology Society S T S is a reform effort to broaden science as a discipline in schools and colleges to relate science to other facets of the curriculum and to relate science specifically to technology and to the society that supports and produces new conceptualizations of both S T S is also defined as the teaching and learning of science technology in the context of human experience It focuses on a method of teaching that recognizes the importance that experience in the real world has on the learning process And it recognizes that real learning can occur only when the learner is engaged and able to construct her or his own meaning Science Technology Society As Reform in Science Education is rich with examples of such teaching and learning It includes impressive research evidence that illustrates that progress has been made and goals have been met For teachers and administrators alike this book provides and validates new visions for science education Technology and Society Andrew Ede, 2019-11-07

The Media Creates Us in Its Image and Other Essays on Technology and Culture Richard Stivers, 2020-03-31 The Media Creates Us in Its Image and Other Essays on Technology and Culture proposes that modern technology seriously influences every aspect of culture and personality Technology shapes our beliefs and values and even how we think of ourselves It affects religion morality education language communication and sexual identity Every institution every organization is brought under its purview This book attempts to awaken the reader to the destructive side of modern technology that exists side by side with its constructive side What modern technology is destroying however is the very meaning of being human The essay The Media Creates Us in Its Image makes this case most dramatically The book asks the reader the following question Is what you have gained from the use of modern technology more important than what you have lost How do we once again bring technology under our control in the face of its inexorable progress

Integrating Advanced Technology into Technology Education Michael Hacker, Anthony Gordon, Marc de Vries, 2012-12-06 Technology is a dynamic field in which new developments take place continuously Education traditionally lags behind the latest developments in this subject area Therefore it is necessary to consider updating education regularly The NATO Advanced Research Workshop Integrating Advanced Technology into Technology Education discussed necessary changes in technology education caused by new developments in technology It was held in Eindhoven The Netherlands October 9-12 1990 Our impression is that there was a fruitful interaction between educationalists policy makers and industrialists These groups all have their own way of approaching technology education and the conference gave them an opportunity for sharing ideas that come from these various approaches The participants felt that the issue of integrating advanced technology into technology education was quite relevant There was a high degree of commitment in presentations and discussions This led to the formulation of a number of recommendations to people in NATO countries who are involved in technology education We as organizers appreciate the contributions of many people to this conference NATO for financing it Dr Thomas Liao in particular for stimulating both NATO and us to realize it the presenters for setting the scene for discussions all participants for sharing ideas and perspectives and finally Springer Verlag for publishing the proceedings April 1991 Michael Hacker Anthony Gordon Marc de Vries Introduction From the main theme of the conference Integrating Advanced Technology into Technology Education we distilled six questions 1

Ideology from Saint Simonianism to the Internet Pierre Musso is a French philosopher and is one of the most original thinkers in the history of the network society His thought develops a critique of information and communication technologies through their imaginary and social representations and of the information society based on the network metaphor The main question on which Musso has focused his attention is how the network metaphor is one of the most powerful ways of understanding the complex societies in which we live Showing characteristic attention to detail and drawing on the history of ideas political philosophy and sociology Musso traces the genealogy of the network imaginary and points out that it did not emerge with the Internet He shows how its modern roots can be found in Henri de Saint Simon and his disciples engineers and entrepreneurs such as Michel de Chevalier and Barth lemy Prosper Enfantin who developed channel networks railroads and the telegraphic network in France in the nineteenth century In addition to the central piece written by Musso the book includes a general introduction and six commentaries from experts on information technologies and networks It displays a wide range of perspectives from a diverse set of authors in terms of nationalities and universities as well as disciplinary backgrounds

The Technological System Jacques Ellul, 2018-06-11 Some 20 years after writing The Technological Society Jacques Ellul realized how the totalistic dimensions of our modern technological milieu required an additional treatment of the topic Writing amidst the rise of books in the 1970s on pollution over population and environmental degradation Ellul found it necessary once again to write about the global presence of technology and its far reaching effects The Technological System represents a new stage in Ellul's research Previously he studied technological society as such in this book he approaches the topic from a systems perspective wherein he identifies the characteristics of technological phenomena and technological progress in light of system theory This leads to an entirely new approach to what constitutes the most important event of our society which has decisive bearing on the future of our world Ellul's analysis touches on all aspects of modern life not just those of a scientific or technological order In the end readers are compelled to formulate their own opinions and make their own decisions regarding the way a technique based value system affects every level of human life

Technology and Society, second edition Deborah G. Johnson, Jameson M. Wetmore, 2021-08-24 Writings by thinkers ranging from Rokeya Sakhawat Hossain to Bruno Latour that focus on the interconnections of technology society and values Technological change does not happen in a vacuum decisions about which technologies to develop fund market and use engage ideas about values as well as calculations of costs and benefits In order to influence the development of technology for the better we must first understand how technology and society are inextricably bound together These writings by thinkers ranging from Bruno Latour to Francis Fukuyama help us do just that examining how people shape technology and how technology shapes people This second edition updates the original significantly offering twenty one new essays along with fifteen from the first edition The book first presents visions of the future that range from technological utopias to cautionary tales and then introduces several major STS theories It examines human and social values and how they are embedded in technological choices and explores the interesting and subtle complexities of the technology society relationship. Remedying a gap in earlier theorizing in the field, many of the texts illustrate how race and gender are intertwined with technology. Finally, the book offers a set of readings that focus on the sociotechnical challenges we face today, treating topics that include cybersecurity, geoengineering, and the myth of neutral technology. Technology and Society Deborah G. Johnson, Jameson M. Wetmore, 2008-10-17. An anthology of writings by thinkers ranging from Freeman Dyson to Bruno Latour that focuses on the interconnections of technology, society, and values and how these may affect the future. Technological change does not happen in a vacuum; decisions about which technologies to develop, fund, market, and use engage ideas about values as well as calculations of costs and benefits. This anthology focuses on the interconnections of technology, society, and values. It offers writings by authorities as varied as Freeman Dyson, Laurence Lessig, Bruno Latour, and Judy Wajcman that will introduce readers to recent thinking about technology and provide them with conceptual tools, a theoretical framework, and knowledge to help understand how technology shapes society and how society shapes technology. It offers readers a new perspective on such current issues as globalization, the balance between security and privacy, environmental justice, and poverty in the developing world. The careful ordering of the selections and the editors' introductions give Technology and Society a coherence and flow that is unusual in anthologies. The book is suitable for use in undergraduate courses in STS and other disciplines. The selections begin with predictions of the future that range from forecasts of technological utopia to cautionary tales. These are followed by writings that explore the complexity of sociotechnical systems, presenting a picture of how technology and society work in step, shaping and being shaped by one another. Finally, the book goes back to considerations of the future, discussing twenty-first century challenges that include nanotechnology, the role of citizens in technological decisions, and the technologies of human enhancement. Trajectory of the 21st Century Lawrence J. Terlizese, 2009-01-10. Trajectory of the Twenty-first Century explores what many prophets of the twentieth century, such as Oswald Spengler, Paul Tillich, Aldous Huxley, Jacques Ellul, and others, have predicted would transpire in the current century. Their vision included an out-of-control technological system and a return to religious sentiment that will ultimately undermine the system to which it is reacting. This book aims to accurately present their positions and draw certain logical conclusions from them that pertain to the course of history in our time. The book's theme argues that modernity is a secularized version of millennial Christianity which reaches its fullest development in the twenty-first century and will regress into what Russian philosopher Nicholas Berdyaev called the new Middle Ages or a new religious period. This will mean the twilight of modern technological society as its values of rationalism give way to a post-rationalist society. Ironically, decline will come through further technological advance. Omnicide threatens through religious world war driven by transcendent values, and modern weaponry, Jihadist thinking, and posthumanist technology both establish the omnicidal mentality. New technologies such as genetic engineering and artificial intelligence, created under millennial inspiration, to reach for immortality could potentially bring an end to the human species either through a slow steady obsolescence or through environmental catastrophe The titanic forces of technological progress and regress are on a direct collision course in the twenty first century
