Of The Rewards Of Life Liber Vitae Meritorum:

The Book of the Rewards of Life Saint Hildegard, 1997 Hildegard of Bingen the first German mystic is one of the most influential women in European history Born in 1098 in Bockelheim on the Nahe River Hildegard had her first vision at the age of six a phenomenon she would continue to experience the rest of her life At the behest of the archbishop of Mainz Hildegard set upon recording her visions in writing Her writings soon propelled her from Benedictine abbess to celebrity as determined reformer castigating seer theoretical musician patient adviser and exorcist A woman of extraordinarily energetic and independent mind Hildegard wrote profusely throughout her life as a prophet a poet a musical composer a dramatist a physician and a political moralist Indeed her musical compositions have reached new heights in popularity highlighting the revival of Gregorian chant currently sweeping the United States Hildegard communicated with popes and princes with people of both influence and humble status always standing above the corruption misery and ruin both spiritual and temporal of the twelfth century The second of Hildegard's three books of visions The Book of the Rewards of Life Liber Vitae Meritorum is a study of the human weaknesses that separates us from God Written with remarkable visual clarity it stands as one the most subtle and fascinating works ever written on the relationship of various sins to their corresponding virtues Divided into six parts this compelling work focuses on our moral flaws seemingly inherent in human consciousness and the role of repentance and the virtues in re-establishing our union with God The first and only complete English translation of this important medieval work The Book of the Rewards of Life is indeed a handbook of life The Book of the Rewards of Life Hildegardis (Bingensis.), 1994 The Cambridge Companion to Hildegard of Bingen Jennifer Bain, 2021-11-04 This volume explores the extraordinary life and works of Hildegard of Bingen medieval writer composer visionary and monastic founder Women in Music Karin Pendle, Melinda Boyd, 2012-07-26 Women in Music A Research and Information Guide is an annotated bibliography emerging from more than twenty five years of feminist scholarship on music This book testifies to the great variety of subjects and approaches represented in over two decades of published writings on women their work and the important roles that feminist outlooks have played in formerly male oriented academic scholarship or journalistic musings on women and music The Romance of Flamenca E. D. Blodgett, 2014-04-23 Various described as a comedy of manners a psychological romance and a type of fabliau the 13th century narrative Flamenca is the best medieval romance written in Occitan Its uniqueness springs from qualities that anticipate the preoccupations of modern day narrative Not content with being a love story fraught with risk and intrigue the poem is layered with responses to the troubadour tradition of love and poetry as well as the Bible and the classics Though among the most bookish of romances its tone is invariably ironic comic and satirical This playfulness may be measured by the variety and vehemence of critical response to the poem Is it a vindication of the troubadour ideal a mockery of the Church a satire on jealous husbands or an undermining of the ideals that romance is said to inscribe Or is it all of these elements held in suspense The introduction confronts these questions The most recent edition and translation of Flamenca by Hubert and Porter is now out of print their translation was into octosyllabic couplets that match the original Blodgett's translation is unrhymed and line for line on pages facing the edition it adheres as closely as possible to the literal meaning of the original The edition follows the recent text prepared by Gschwind in a Musical Key Lisa M. Hess,2011-09-15 Learning in a Musical Key examines the multidimensional problem of the relationship between music and theological education Lisa Hess argues that in a delightful and baffling way musical learning has the potential to significantly alter and inform our conception of the nature and process of theological learning In exploring this exciting intersection of musical learning and theological training Hess asks two probing questions First What does learning from music in a performative mode require Classical modes of theological education often founder on a dichotomy between theologically musical and educational discourses It is extremely difficult for many to see how the perceivedly nonmusical learn from music Is musicality a universally human potential In exploring this question Hess turns to the music learning theory of Edwin Gordon which explores music s unique mode of teaching learning its primarily aural oral mode This challenge leads to the study s second question How does a theologian in the disciplinary sense integrate a performative mode into critical discourse Tracking the critical movements of this problem Hess provides an inherited transformational logic as a feasible path for integrating a performative mode into multidimensional learning This approach emerges as a distinctly relational embodied multidimensional and non correlational performative mode theology that breaks new ground in the contemporary theological landscape As an implicitly trinitarian method rooted in the relationality of God this non correlational method offers a practical theological contribution to the discipline of Christian spirituality newly claimed here as a discipline of transformative teaching learning through the highly contextualized and self implicated scholar into relationally formed communities and ultimately into the world To the Glory of Her Sex Joan M.
