Traditions Muhammad Shafiq, Thomas Donlin-Smith, 2023-05-16 This book discusses mysticism and its possible contributions to a positive common human future. It is organized into three parts: Studies of Mystical Traditions, Comparative Studies of Mystical Traditions, and Social and Ethical Implications. The approach is philosophical and critical. The contributors differ on whether or not mystical traditions would restore peaceful living and peaceful coexistence. However, the problem before this manuscript is the growing pain and suffering caused by greed in the world, greed causing economic disequilibrium, racism and divisiveness causing social unrest, resulting in mass migration and refugees crisis. Through the lens of mystical traditions, the manuscript proposes a balance approach between material and spiritual needs of people. To strengthen human spirituality, the manuscript emphasizes practicing meditation, music, prayers, zikr, yoga, mindfulness, fasting, and other methods of spiritual revival for peace within self and with others.

Christ Among Them Edoardo Mungliello, 2009-05-27 This essay newly interprets the rise of the individual within the Italian peninsula between 1180 and 1300. It follows the historical events and the cultural products that define the period, keeping in mind that the creators were conscious of a tangible real Christ in their midst. For it is the time when Jesus was known to be in the Eucharist as a carnal potentiality as well as a time when Europeans on Crusade had reached his temporal abode. As Christ as neighbor became a consistent idea, the relationship towards that idea became one of accommodation, making subsequent worship a form of individualism. The later Renaissance was as much a specific reaction to a particular understanding of Christology within the cultural sphere as it was a reawakening of Classical ideals through a new paradigm of European selfhood outside of Christianity. Understood in this way, the Incarnation helped to produce an action-based Christianity amenable to the needs of the Roman Church. The later insistence upon text and notions of personal conscience that identifies the Reformation can now be seen as a true end to the Renaissance Christian praxis which began with the excitement over Christ among them.

The Franciscans in the Middle Ages Michael J. P. Robson, 2006 St Francis of Assisi is one of the most admired figures of the Middle Ages and one of the most important in the Christian church, modelling his life on the literal observance of the Gospel and recovering an emphasis on the poverty experienced by Jesus Christ. From 1217 Francis sent communities of friars throughout Christendom and launched missions to several countries, including India and China. The movement soon became established in most cities and several large towns and, enjoying close relations with the popes, its followers were ideal instruments for the propagation of the reforms of the Fourth Lateran Council of 1215. They quickly became part of the landscape of medieval life and made their influence felt throughout society. BR This book explores the first 250 years of the order's history and charts its rapid growth, development, pastoral ministry, educational organisation, missionary endeavour, internal tensions and divisions. Intended for both the general and more specialist reader, it offers a complete survey of the Franciscan Order. Dr MICHAEL ROBSON is a Fellow and Director of Studies in Theology at St Edmund's College, Cambridge.

Sacred Rhetoric Michael Pasquarello III, 2012-06-01 Modern approaches to preaching today are largely fixated on how to make preaching more relevant.

more interesting more entertaining Michael Pasquarello suggests that this fixation may stem from a preaching imagination more beholden to technical scientific reason than theological wisdom Rather than devising new techniques or strategies for effective speaking Pasquarello offers something more salutary portraits of ten exemplary preachers from the Christian tradition Included in Pasquarello s gallery are Augustine of Hippo Gregory the Great Benedict Bernard of Clairvaux Bonaventure Thomas Aquinas Erasmus Hugh Latimer Martin Luther and John Calvin These excellent preachers conceived of Christian speech as a unique theological practice learned through prayerful attention to the Bible and aimed at communion with God Sacred Rhetoric invites readers to join an extended conversation with the past in order to become faithful preachers of the gospel in a post Christian society Preachers seminarians and students of Christian history will find much to learn from Pasquarello s fresh perspective and passion for the past Pierced by Love Hans Boersma,2023-04-19 Holy Scripture requires holy reading Encounter an ancient but fresh way of reading the Bible Learn from Augustine Anselm of Canterbury Bernard of Clairvaux and others Experience a structured and simple way to focus on Christ listen to the Spirit and rest in God s love Jesus is the point of reading the Bible Christians read Scripture to encounter Christ and be conformed to his image Scripture is no mere human text it is God s living word So how should we read it For Christians throughout the centuries the answer has been lectio divina divine reading em Lectio divina is a sacramental reading It aims to take us more deeply into the life of God Through practicing the four movements of emlectio divina attentive reading extended meditation prayerful reflection and silent resting we have a structured and simple way to focus on Christ listen to the Spirit and rest in God s love We no longer simply read the words of Scripture instead we read the face of God in the eternal Word

Contested Canonizations Ronald C. Finucane, 2011-10-12 Pope John Paul II famously canonized more saints than all his predecessors combined. Several of these candidates were controversial. To this day there remain holy men and women on the books of the Vatican's Congregation for the Causes of Saints whose canonization would provoke considerable debate. This was no less true during the period covered in this pioneering study by renowned medieval historian Ronald C. Finucane. This work, which forms an important bridge between medieval and Counter Reformation sanctity and canonization, provides a richly contextualized analysis of the ways in which the last five candidates for sainthood before the Reformation came to be canonized. Finucane uncovers the complex interplay of factors that lay behind the success of such campaigns: success that could never be taken for granted even when the candidate's holy credentials appeared uncontroversial and his backers politically powerful. Written by a master of the historical craft whose studies on miracles and popular religion for the high Middle Ages have long been an important point of reference for students, this work presents brilliantly reconstructed case studies of the last five successful canonization petitions of the Middle Ages: Bonaventure, Leopold of Austria, Francis of Paola, Antoninus of Florence, and Benno of Meissen.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR Ronald Finucane died at the height of his critical powers in 2009, shortly after he submitted this work for publication. Distinguished professor of history at Oakland University, he was the author of four books, including Miracles and Pilgrims, Popular Beliefs in Medieval England, and Soldiers of the Faith. Crusaders and Moslems at War was both a History Book Club selection and brought to publication by Simon Ditchfield, reader in history at the University of York.

PRAISE FOR THE BOOK In this meticulously researched and carefully structured study, Finucane establishes his work as a critical touchstone for future studies of canonization procedures and their revision in the early modern period. David Collins, S.J., associate professor of history, Georgetown University. On the surface, the book is a meticulous, detailed but fairly traditional discussion of the processes or politics of saint making. However, Finucane's use of a case study approach allows him to find important commonalities among successful canonization cases without losing the inevitable complexity involved in the pursuit of each one. There is a great deal to learn from this book. American Historical Review

Soundings in the Christian Mystical Tradition Harvey D. Egan, 2010-10-01 Called in a special way to listen to God's whispers, the mystics amplify not only what it means to be baptized into the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ and to having the Trinity living in them, but also what is deepest in the human spirit. Mystics experience themselves as an infinite question to which only God is the answer, as an immense longing that only Love can quench, as a nothing in the face of the No-Thing. They are God's fools, troubadours, the great artists and poets of the interior life whose learned ignorance articulates the art of loving God, neighbor, self, the Church, and the world. In Soundings in the Christian Mystical Tradition, Harvey Egan draws on fifty years of reading and teaching the mystics to sketch the varieties and passion of the mystical life across more than two millennia. Through their stories and words Egan reveals that all were conscious of the paradox of human identity supremely and unsurpassably manifested in the God Man that the genuinely human is disclosed only through surrender to God and that the search for God cannot bypass the genuinely human Harvey D Egan SJ is the author of numerous works on Christian mysticism and the thought of Karl Rahner He is currently professor of systematic and mystical theology at Boston College
