Bones of Jade, Soul of Ice Maggie Bickford, Hua Yan (1682-1756) and the Making of the Artist in Early Modern China Kristen L. Chiem, 2020-05-25 Hua Yan 1682 1756 and the Making of the Artist in Early Modern China explores the relationships between the artist local society and artistic practice during the Qing dynasty 1644 1911 Arranged as an investigation of the artist Hua Yan s work at a pivotal moment in eighteenth century society this book considers his paintings and poetry in early eighteenth century Hangzhou mid eighteenth century Yangzhou and finally their nineteenth century afterlife in Shanghai By investigating Hua Yan s struggle as a marginalized artist both at his time and in the canon of Chinese art this study draws attention to the implications of seeing and being seen as an artist in early modern China The Plum in the Golden Vase or, Chin P'ing Mei, Volume Two, 2013-05-02 The second volume of a celebrated translation of the classic Chinese novel This is the second volume in David Roy s celebrated translation of one of the most famous and important novels in Chinese literature The Plum in the Golden Vase or Chin P ing Mei is an anonymous sixteenth century work that focuses on the domestic life of Hsi men Ch ing a corrupt upwardly mobile merchant in a provincial town who maintains a harem of six wives and concubines The novel known primarily for its erotic realism is also a landmark in the development of the narrative art form not only from a specifically Chinese perspective but in a world historical context With the possible exception of The Tale of Genji 1010 and Don Quixote 1615 there is no earlier work of prose fiction of equal sophistication in world literature Although its importance in the history of Chinese narrative has long been recognized the technical virtuosity of the author which is more reminiscent of the Dickens of Bleak House the Joyce of Ulysses or the Nabokov of Lolita than anything in the earlier Chinese fiction tradition has not yet received adequate recognition This is partly because all of the existing European translations are either abridged or based on an inferior recension of the text This translation and its annotation aim to faithfully represent and elucidate all the rhetorical features of the original in its most authentic form and thereby enable the Western reader to appreciate this Chinese masterpiece at its true worth The Arts of China After 1620 William Watson, Chuimei Ho, 2007-01-01 This handsome book is the first in a major three volume series that will survey China s immense wealth of art architecture and artefacts from prehistoric times to the twentieth century The Arts of China to AD 900 investigates the beginnings of the traditions on which much of the art rests moving from Neolithic and Bronze Age China to the era of the Tang Dynasty around AD 900 Art in Turmoil: The Chinese Cultural Revolution, 1966-76 Richard King, 2010-07-01 This book decodes the rhetoric of Chinas turbulent decade a time of both brutal iconoclasm and radical experimentation in the arts to offer new insights into works that have transcended their times The Plum in the Golden Vase Or, Chin P'ing Mei, Volume Three Hsiao Hsiao Sheng, 2006 A five volume translation of the classic sixteenth century Chinese novel on the domestic life of a corrupt merchant The Plum in the Golden Vase or, Chin P'ing Mei, Volume Three, 2011-07-05 The third volume of a celebrated translation of the classic Chinese novel This is the third volume in David

Roy's celebrated translation of one of the most famous and important novels in Chinese literature, The Plum in the Golden Vase or Chin P'ing Mei, is an anonymous sixteenth-century work that focuses on the domestic life of Hsi-men Ch'ing, a corrupt upwardly mobile merchant in a provincial town who maintains a harem of six wives and concubines. The novel, known primarily for its erotic realism, is also a landmark in the development of the narrative art form, not only from a specifically Chinese perspective but in a world historical context. Written during the second half of the sixteenth century and first published in 1618, The Plum in the Golden Vase is noted for its surprisingly modern technique. With the possible exception of The Tale of Genji (ca. 1010) and Don Quixote (1605-1615), there is no earlier work of prose fiction of equal sophistication in world literature. Although its importance in the history of Chinese narrative has long been recognized, the technical virtuosity of the author, which is more reminiscent of the Dickens of Bleak House, the Joyce of Ulysses, or the Nabokov of Lolita, than anything in earlier Chinese fiction, has not yet received adequate recognition. This is partly because all of the existing European translations are either abridged or based on an inferior recension of the text. This translation and its annotation aim to faithfully represent and elucidate all the rhetorical features of the original in its most authentic form and thereby enable the Western reader to appreciate this Chinese masterpiece at its true worth. Replete with convincing portrayals of the darker side of human nature, it should appeal to anyone interested in a compelling story compellingly told.

The Legacy of Genghis Khan Linda Komaroff, Stefano Carboni, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2002. Komaroff, curator of Islamic Art, Los Angeles County Museum of Art; Carboni, curator of Islamic Art, Metropolitan Museum of Art. Produced this fine catalog to accompany a major show of Ilkhanid art, as the Mongol dynasty was called after conversion to Islam, art exhibited at the authors' museums in New York and Los Angeles in 2002-2003. Most of the manuscripts, metalwork, textiles, ceramics, and other finely decorated objects were created in Iran. Many objects are also included from the Yuan Dynasty in China during which the Mongols ruled. Eight full-length essays are built around the objects of the exhibition, and other works are depicted in color. The essays describe the history, culture, courtly life, artistic exchanges, religious art, arts of the book, and creation of a new visual language. Distributed by Yale U Press. The Plum in the Golden Vase, Or, Chin P'ing Mei: The aphrodisiac Xiaoxiaosheng, 1993. A five-volume translation of the classic sixteenth-century Chinese novel on the domestic life of a corrupt merchant.

The Painting of T'ang Yin Anne De Coursey Clapp, 1991-11. This richly illustrated volume documents the art and fully examines the career of the sixteenth-century Chinese master T'ang Yin. One of the four great painters of the middle Ming period, the ambitious T'ang Yin rose above the merchant class into which he was born to become a member of the elite scholarly circle in the city of Suchou. Deprived by accident of his academic degrees and so forced to paint for a living, T'ang Yin became a social anomaly whose style of life cut across the conventions of his time. His experiences throw into sharp relief the realities faced by a Chinese painter who was both elite Confucian scholar and professional painter. Anne De Coursey Clapp's work also explores larger issues of Ming painting raised by the artist's turbulent career. She describes the social and intellectual values exalted in Ming Suchou its system of patronage the contrast between the professional and amateur artist and the formative influence of twelfth century Sung dynasty styles on Suchou painters. Clapp shows how Tang Yin's artistic inventions were made in the course of leading the revival of Sung dynasty styles in Suchou tracing Tang Yin's early studies of ancient and contemporary masters she describes how he reworked an antique style converting it into a vehicle of expression that reached fruition in a long series of fresh and powerful paintings of landscapes and birds and flowers. In the process she revises the distorted version of middle Ming painting written by later Chinese art theorists to justify their own social and artistic values noting especially the role of art patrons and their effect on artistic production. Clapp analyzes the increasing currency of painting as a means of social exchange in ancient China. In particular she identifies commemorative painting as a major genre of the later dynasties and explores the role it played in the oeuvres of professional masters with its humanistic implications for the Chinese view of the ideal scholarly man. Her broad view of Tang Yin's career shows him divided between the professional and amateur camps of his time in landscape and figural subjects he was aligned with the professionals in flower subjects with the amateurs. Clapp argues that the uneven distribution of styles and genres between this master who was subject to the market and those who were independent of it suggests that Tang Yin deliberately tried to expand the range of his paintings in order to appeal to buyers in the lower educational and social strata. Illustrated by some of Tang Yin's most celebrated paintings and by some which are published for the first time her work is of tremendous importance to art literary and cultural historians of Ming China. In this important work Anne de Coursey Clapp has drawn a clear picture of Tang Yin's life patronage relationships and contribution to the history of Chinese painting. In the person of Tang Yin she has chosen an ideal focus around which to examine some of the misleading stereotypes which have distorted our understanding of Chinese painting since the seventeenth century. Marked by analytical clarity and scrupulous scholarship her work is a welcome addition to the few works in English on individual Chinese artists. Louise Yuhas Occidental College

Qian Qianyi's Reflections on Yellow Mountain Stephen McDowall, 2009-01-01

Qian Qianyi's Reflections on Yellow Mountain is a close examination of travel writing in seventeenth century China presenting an innovative reading of the youji genre. Taking the Account of My Travels at Yellow Mountain by the noted poet official and literary historian Qian Qianyi 1582-1664 as his focus Stephen McDowall departs from traditional readings of youji by reading the landscape of Qian's essay as the product of a complex representational tradition rather than as an empirically verifiable space. Drawing from a broad range of materials including personal anecdotes traditional cosmographical sources gazetteers Daoist classics paintings and woodblock prints this book explores the fascinating world of late Ming Jiangnan highlighting the extent to which this one scholar's depiction of Yellow Mountain is informed not so much by first hand observation as by the layers of meaning left by generations of travelers before him. McDowall includes the first complete

English language translation of Qian Qianyi's account and presents the first full length critical study to appear in any language. The ideas explored here make this book essential reading for scholars and students of late imperial Chinese history and literature and also offer thought provoking new insights for anyone interested in travel writing, human geography, the sociology of tourism and visual culture.

The City of Blue and White Anne Gerritsen, 2020-05-07 A compelling examination of the ultimate global commodity, blue and white porcelain, from kiln to consumers across the globe.

Austere Luminosity of Chinese Classical Furniture Sarah Handler, 2023-12-22 Chinese classical furniture is esteemed throughout the world for its beauty, functionalism and influence on contemporary design aesthetics. Sarah Handler's stunningly illustrated volume traces Chinese hardwood furniture from its earliest origins in the Shang dynasty (c. 1500 to c. 1050 B.C.) to the present. She offers a fascinating and poetic view of Chinese furniture as functional sculpture, a fine art alongside the other Chinese arts of calligraphy, architecture, painting and literature. Handler, a widely respected scholar of Chinese furniture, uses her knowledge of Chinese social, political and economic history to provide a backdrop for understanding the many nuances of this art form. Drawing on literary and visual evidence from excavated materials, written texts, paintings, prints and engravings, she discusses how people lived, their notions of hierarchy and their perceptions of space. Her descriptions of historical developments, such as the shift from mats to chairs, evoke the psychological and sociological ramifications. The invention of a distinctive way to support and contain people and things within the household is one of China's singular contributions, says Handler. With more than three hundred exquisite illustrations, many in color, Handler's comprehensive study reveals the magical totality of Chinese classical furniture, from its rich surfaces and shrewd proportions down to the austere soul of art that resides in the hardwood interiors.

Austere Luminosity recognizes Chinese classical furniture as one of China's premier arts, unique in the furniture traditions of the world.

The Heart of Ma Yuan Richard Edwards, 2011-03-01 Ma Yuan emerges as an artist who captures the reality of season, time and mood in a dazzlingly abbreviated style that is nonetheless utterly convincing in its rendering of the natural world.

Maxwell K. Hearn, Metropolitan Museum of Art, Richard Edwards and Ma Yuan have something in common: both are deeply committed to the work of art and the medium of ink painting. And like Ma Yuan's brushwork, Edwards's prose couples formal restraint with expressive power. This book is a major contribution to the literature on the art of ink painting at the Southern Song court.

Robert Sharf, University of California, Berkeley: Ma Yuan, one of China's best known artists, was a key figure in the period widely celebrated as the golden era of Chinese landscape painting. The Heart of Ma Yuan offers a careful discussion of Ma Yuan's painting as it emerged within the sophisticated artistic environment of Hangzhou in the late twelfth and early thirteenth centuries. Beautifully illustrated with more than 300 illustrations from leading museums and private collections around the world, the book includes discussions of Ma Yuan's family of six generations of skillful painters, his many patrons, and his distinctive style in engaging Confucian, Taoist and Buddhist genres, and his superb landscapes including animals, flowers, and detailed studies of water. Widely noted for his own

keen eye and masterful stylistic analysis Richard Edwards cultivates the art of looking for a broad readership from general art lovers to specialists in art history As a Western scholar exploring the significance of a highly refined Eastern culture he draws on natural history poetry and relevant contemporary writing as well as the work of other artists Androgyny in Late Ming and Early Qing Literature Zuyan Zhou,2003-02-28 The frequent appearance of androgyny in Ming and Qing literature has long interested scholars of late imperial Chinese culture A flourishing economy widespread education rising individualism a prevailing hedonism all of these had contributed to the gradual disintegration of traditional gender roles in late Ming and early Qing China 1550 1750 and given rise to the phenomenon of androgyny Now Zuyan Zhou sheds new light on this important period offering a highly original and astute look at the concept of androgyny in key works of Chinese fiction and drama from the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries The work begins with an exploration of androgyny in Chinese philosophy and Ming Qing culture Zhou proceeds to examine chronologically the appearance of androgyny in major literary writing of the time yielding novel interpretations of canonical works from The Plum in the Golden Vase through the scholar beauty romances to The Dream of the Red Chamber He traces the ascendance of the androgyny craze in the late Ming its culmination in the Ming Qing transition and its gradual phasing out after the mid Qing The study probes deviations from engendered codes of behavior both in culture and literature then focuses on two parallel areas androgyny in literary characterization and androgyny in literati identity The author concludes that androgyny in late Ming and early Qing literature is essentially the dissident literati s stance against tyrannical politics a psychological strategy to relieve anxiety over growing political inferiority

Three Thousand Years of Chinese Painting Richard M. Barnhart,Xin Yang,Nie Chongzheng,James Cahill,Hung Wu,Lang Shaojun,1997-01-01 Written by a team of eminent international scholars this book is the first to recount the history of Chinese painting over a span of some 3000 years

Cross-generic Perspectives on Traditional Chinese Literature Manling Luo,2024-12-30 This volume explores cross generic analysis as a hermeneutic approach to traditional Chinese literature through nine case studies which cover a combined temporal span from the tenth to the twentieth century The contributors examine connections parallels and dialogic relations among canonical literary forms and other kinds of materials both diachronically and synchronically across and within texts and between different modes of representation A wide range of theoretical issues are elucidated including cultural memory gender sexuality visibility theatricality and regional identity Expanding conventional understanding of what constitutes the literary these studies also complicate and contribute to intellectual discourses beyond China studies

The Arts of China 900-1620 William Watson,2000-01-01 This beautiful book is the second in a major three volume series that will survey China s immense wealth of art architecture and artefacts from prehistoric times to the twentieth century It covers the most prolific and broad ranging period of Chinese art history from the Song Dynasty with its spectacular landscape paintings to the Ming Dynasty with its lovely pottery William Watson considers architecture painting sculpture and the decorative arts in equal balance He follows styles and motifs as they are developed in each medium from one province to another and discusses materials and techniques as well as the iconography and function of every art form He also explores relationships between one medium and another tracing for example the influence of Buddhist iconography on sculptural traditions and on the architecture of temples and towers and showing how ceramic ornament affected the development of ornament in other media The Inner Quarters Patricia Buckley Ebrey, 1993-12 Opening up questions about women's lives about gender about why we read history at all and how we write it Patricia Buckley Ebrey has made The Inner Quarters a place we need to enter from the Foreword
