Of African Verse By Reed John And Wake Clive:

West African Poetry Robert Fraser, 1986-09-04 Previous studies of African poetry have tended to concentrate either on its political content or on its relationship to various European schools This book examines West African poetry in English and French against the background of oral poetry in the vernacular Do the roots of such poetry lie in Africa or in Europe In committing their work to writing do poets lose more than they gain Can the immediacy of oral performance ever be recovered Robert Fraser's account of two centuries of West African verse examines its subjugation to a succession of international styles from the heroic couplet to the austerity of experimental Modernism Successive chapters take us through the Negritude movement and the emergence of anglophone free verse in the 1950s to the rediscovery in recent years of the neglected springs of orality which is the subject of the concluding chapter

The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 This guide highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the process of translating and the choices involved making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Hungarian Korean to Turkish For some works e g Virgil's Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available

A History of Twentieth-century African Literatures Oyekan Owomoyela, 1993-01-01 African literatures says volume editor Oyekan Owomoyela testify to the great and continuing impact of the colonizing project on the African universe African writers must struggle constantly to define for themselves and other just what Africa is and who they are in a continent constructed as a geographic and cultural entity largely by Europeans This study reflects the legacy of colonialism by devoting nine of its thirteen chapters to literature in Europhone languages English French and Portuguese Foremost among the Anglophone writers discussed are Nigerians Amos Tutuola Chinua Achebe and Wole Soyinka Writers from East Africa are also represented as are those from South Africa Contributors for this section include Jonathan A Peters Arlene A Elder John F Povey Thomas Knipp and J Ndukaku Amankulor In African Francophone literature we see both writers inspired by the French assimilationist system and those influenced by Negritude the African culture affirmation movement Contributors here include Servanne Woodward Edris Makward and Alain Ricard African literature in Portuguese reflecting the nature of one of the most oppressive colonizing projects in Africa is treated by Russell G Hamilton Robert Cancel discusses African language literatures while Oyekan Owomoyela treats the question of the language of African literatures Carole Boyce Davies and Elaine Savory Fido focus on the special problems of African women writers while Hans M Zell deals with the broader issues of publishing censorship resources and organization

Translation, Rewriting, and the Manipulation of Literary Fame Andre Lefevere, 2016-10-26 Lefevere explores how the process of rewriting works of literature manipulates them to ideological and artistic ends so that the rewritten text can be
