Am I Teaching Well:

Am I Teaching Well? Vesna Nikolic, Hanna Cabaj, 2000 Grade level 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 k p e i s t Teacher Well-Being Elizabeth Holmes, 2005-01-13 Elizabeth Holmes uses case studies to provide practical advice and solutions to enable teachers to experience less negative stress in their lives and understand the links between the way they function in the classroom and their personal well being The Heart of Teaching Stephen Wagh, 2013 The Heart of Teaching is a book about teaching and learning in the performing arts Its focus is on the inner dynamics of teaching the processes by which teachers can promote or undermine creativity itself It covers the many issues that teachers directors and choreographers experience from the frustrations of dealing with silent students and helping young artists unlearn their inhibitions to problems of resistance judgment and race in the classroom Wagh raises questions about what can and what cannot be taught and opens a discussion about the social psychological and spiritual values that underlie the skills and techniques that teachers impart Subjects addressed include Question asking which kinds of questions encourage creativity and which can subvert the learning process Feedback how it can foster both dependence and independence in students Grading its meaning and meaninglessness Power relationships transference and counter transference The pivotal role of listening The Heart of Teaching speaks to experienced teachers and beginning teachers in all disciplines but is particularly relevant to those in the performing arts from which most of its examples are drawn It brings essential insight and honesty to the discussion of how to teach The Art of College Teaching Marilyn Kallet, April L. Morgan, 2005 Teachers everywhere are confronted with a problem Whether at a small liberal arts college major research university or some other institute of learning instructors are continually challenged to create smart effective pedagogical techniques in order to be efficient in the classroom The Art of College Teaching is a first twenty eight insider essays about this process by distinguished and highly acclaimed teachers of note from across the curriculum including eleven Carnegie national award winners grouped here to uncover common values approaches and even debates among today s educators Rather than a rulebook for good teaching Professors Marilyn Kallet and April Morgan have assembled a wide variety of practitioner lore what successful teachers have learned to do well and what they re still seeking to master From the embarrassing to the inspirational contributors take us inside their classrooms to explain the light bulb moments that form the bases of their teaching philosophies making this collection reader friendly often humorous and very real Contributors take up a broad range of subjects setting boundaries with students teaching as performance the pros and cons of lecture versus active learning gaining students respect and keeping it creativity in the classroom encouraging diversity and many others The interdisciplinary approach allows for a stimulating mix of voices and kinds of expertise from takes on teaching by Nobel Prize Laureate James Buchanan to coaching strategies from champion ice skating instructor Robert Unger Theories about the right way to teach abound but like any art teaching isn t easily defined by guidelines or prevailing wisdom A narrative experiential approach to one of our most rewarding and demanding disciplines

The Art of College Teaching is a book to be of use It is a handbook of ideas that will empower new teachers and refresh those who have been in the trenches for years Teaching Embodied Akiko Hayashi, Joseph Tobin, 2015-07-23 When we look beyond lesson planning and curricula those explicit facets that comprise so much of our discussion about education we remember that teaching is an inherently social activity shaped by a rich array of implicit habits compartments and ways of communicating This is as true in the United States as it is in Japan where Akiko Hayashi and Joseph Tobin have long studied early education from a cross cultural perspective Taking readers inside the classrooms of Japanese preschools Teaching Embodied explores the everyday implicit behaviors that form a crucially important but grossly understudied aspect of educational practice Akiko Hayashi and Joseph Tobin embed themselves in the classrooms of three different teachers at three different schools to examine how teachers act think and talk Drawing on extended interviews their own real time observations and hours of video footage they focus on how teachers embody their lessons how they use their hands to gesture comfort or discipline how they direct their posture gaze or physical location to indicate degrees of attention and how they use the tone of their voice to communicate empathy frustration disapproval or enthusiasm Comparing teachers across schools and over time they offer an illuminating analysis of the gestures that comprise a total body language something that while hardly ever explicitly discussed the teachers all share to a remarkable degree Showcasing the tremendous importance of and dearth of attention to this body language they offer a powerful new inroad into educational study and practice a deeper understanding of how teaching actually works no matter what culture or country it is being practiced in Expert Teaching Rosie Bisset Turner, 2013-12-19 This book is aimed at teachers who wish to improve their professional practice and will help them to think about current practice not only in terms of skills and competences to be developed but also areas of knowledge to be enriched The model of knowledge bases presented is a valuable framework for reflecting on practice and for analyzing professional development needs The book is therefore an ideal text for teachers taking courses that may lead towards an advanced qualification in teaching or who are undertaking in service training and action research programs Teachers approaching threshold assessment will find the book useful in reflecting on the quality of their teaching Elder Wisdom Circle Blanche Anderson, 2002-09-01 Re-imagining Professional Experience in Initial Teacher Education Ange Fitzgerald, Graham Parr, Judy Williams, 2018-07-05 This book takes a fresh look at professional experience in initial teacher education in Australia Using collaborative narrative methodologies the authors critically explore the ways in which one faculty of education engages with schools industry the teaching profession and government policy to deliver an innovative professional experience program It includes chapters offering new perspectives on more traditional practicums in schools as well as those reporting on exciting partnership initiatives where pre service teachers teacher educators and practitioners work together to teach and learn in new and mutually beneficial ways There is a particular focus on the professional learning of all stakeholders from across the professional experience program The book allows readers to gain a new understanding of the experiences and learning opportunities available to all stakeholders when a professional experience program makes a priority of boundary work relational work and identity work With the critical and creative power of narrative to convey what other research methodologies cannot it shows how one institution has developed a variety of innovative approaches and structures in response to on going debates on quality in teacher education the role of educational partnerships in teacher preparation and the personal and professional insights gained from such opportunities Living Accountably C. Stephen Evans,2022-12-22 Everyone understands what it is like to be accountable to someone but often we think of accountability as something punitive Living Accountably defends the view that it is possible under the right conditions to live accountably welcoming accountability to those with proper standing including being accountable to God or some higher power

Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on the District of Columbia,1936 Forum ,1987 Cultivating Social Justice Teachers Paul C. Gorski,Nana Osei-Kofi,Jeff Sapp,Kristien Zenkov,2023-07-03 Frustrated by the challenge of opening teacher education students to a genuine understanding of the social justice concepts vital for creating an equitable learning environment Do your students ever resist accepting that lesbian gay bisexual transgender or queer people experience bias or oppression or that their experiences even belong in a conversation about diversity multiculturalism or social justice Recognizing these are common experiences for teacher educators the contributors to this book present their struggles and achievements in developing approaches that have successfully guided students to complex understandings of such threshold concepts as White privilege homophobia and heteronormativity overcoming the bottlenecks that impede progress toward bigger learning goals and understandings The authors initiate a conversation one largely absent in the social justice education literature and the discourse about the common content and pedagogy related challenges that social justice educators face in their work particularly for those doing this work in relative or literal isolation where collegial understanding cannot be found down the hall or around the corner In doing so they hope not only to help individual teachers in their practice but also strengthen social justice teacher education more systemically Each contributor identifies a learning bottleneck related to one or two specific threshold concepts that they have struggled to help their students learn Each chapter is a narrative about individual efforts toward sometimes profound pedagogical adjustment about ambiguity and cognitive dissonance and resistance about trial and error and about how these educators found ways to facilitate foundational social justice learning among a diversity of education students Although this is not intended to be a how to manual or to provide five easy steps to enable straight students to get heteronormativity each chapter does describe practical strategies that teachers might adapt as part of their own practice Note from Your Teacher (eBook) Kimberly Colen,1995-03-01 More than 450 messages to help you communicate effectively with students parents and administrators Outstanding NEW messages for report cards and assessments also requests invitations thank yous notes of encouragement letters about discipline and much more ENC Focus ,2002 Teacher Education: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and

Lifestyle in Siberia and the Russian North Joachim Otto Habeck , 2019-11-25 Lifestyle in Siberia and the Russian North breaks new ground by exploring the concept of lifestyle from a distinctly anthropological perspective Showcasing the collective work of ten experienced scholars in the field the book goes beyond concepts of tradition that have often been the focus of previous research to explain how political economic and technological changes in Russia have created a wide range of new possibilities and constraints in the pursuit of different ways of life Each contribution is drawn from meticulous first hand field research and the authors engage with theoretical questions such as whether and how the concept of lifestyle can be extended beyond its conventionally urban Euro American context and employed in a markedly different setting Lifestyle in Siberia and the Russian North builds on the contributors clear commitment to diversifying the field and providing a novel and intimate insight into this vast and dynamic region This book provides inspiring reading for students and teachers of Anthropology Sociology and Cultural Studies and for anyone interested in Russia and its regions By providing ethnographic case studies it is also a useful basis for teaching anthropological methods and concepts both at graduate and undergraduate level Rigorous and innovative it marks an important contribution to the study of Siberia and the Russian North

Establishing a Yearlong Teacher Residency Christopher J. Sloan, Sarah Beal, 2024-09-23 This book outlines a model for a teacher residency and how to establish a yearlong residency within an educator preparation program. It describes the four-year experiences of stakeholders at Tarleton State University but can be used as a step-by-step guide in whole or in part to transforming teacher preparation at any university. After a brief description of the traditional clinical model and why a university may look to make a change, the book offers a roadmap for the entire process of moving to a residency model. The chapters provide detailed explanations of how to build mutually beneficial partnerships with school districts, utilize co-teaching models, and create revised roles for cooperating teachers, teacher residents, university and district leaders, and site coordinators. Contributing authors also cover change processes, successes and failures, funding models, scaling, sustainability, data collection, and evidence of effectiveness. Based on Tarleton's recognition as one of the fastest scaling residency programs and most complete transformations to date, the tools presented offer any teacher prep program the opportunity to make the leap to a residency model. This resource is also ideal for school district leaders seeking guidance on building or enhancing existing partnerships with universities and for in-service teachers interested in discovering new co-teaching models.
