Cousteau The Captain And His World:

Cousteau Richard Munson, 1989 Based on interviews with scores of Cousteau's friends and colleagues this book presents the first balanced portrait of a talented charismatic and little understood man 8 pages of photos Jacques Cousteau Kathleen Olmstead, 2008 Jacques Cousteau spent his life exploring oceans and sharing his discoveries through weekly television shows documentary films and books He excited and educated people by bringing the underwater world sharks whales penguins dolphins and sea turtles within reach This remarkable man also created important inventions like the aqualung which allowed people to breath underwater Even Cousteau's beloved ship the Calypso used as his home and office for more than forty years became well known His legacy lives on in the conservation efforts of the Cousteau Society Book jacket Heart of the Living God Michael G. Maness, 2004-06-23 Maness asks us to tie up our sneakers for we are going to have some fun as we hike into the Grand Canyon of Love Love is the treasure of life It is Love all the way Nothing else really matters outside of Love Best of all our Love will only get better in heaven The treasured ability to have loving relationships is God's gift to us in our Imago Dei the image of God we all share Likewise what we know of Love this side of heaven is but a dusty image of what God experiences I want to get personally involved says Maness Can we have a free will relationship with anyone even God if all of what we do and think is settled I don't think so Love is greater than that and I shall prove that and that is indeed a Grand Canyon Maness brings some of the brain splitting complexities of this to light with good humor introduces dynamic foreknowledge and challenges Classical Theism's avoidance of Love And he exposes some foul play in the process That's the first half of the book For those wanting to strike out on their own wanting to see more of the depth and diversity of the Grand Canyon the second half contains reviews of about 60 major authors a 4 000 Abysmal Bibliography and a huge index to just about everything in the book Maness has thrown a gauntlet before the Classical Theists So tie up your sneakers and take a hike with Michael G Maness as he walks with you into the Grand Canyon see more at www.PreciousHeart.net Ecstatic Worlds Janine Marchessault, 2023-10-31 When media translate the world to the world twentieth century utopian projects including Edward Steichen's Family of Man Jacques Cousteau's underwater films and Buckminster Fuller's geoscope Postwar artists and architects have used photography film and other media to imagine and record the world as a wonder of collaborative entanglement to translate the world for the world In this book Janine Marchessault examines a series of utopian media events that opened up and expanded the cosmos creating ecstatic collective experiences for spectators and participants Marchessault shows that Edward Steichen's 1955 Family of Man photography exhibition for example and Jacques Cousteau's 1956 underwater film Le monde du silence The Silent World both gave viewers a sense of the earth as a shared ecology The Festival of Britain 1951 in particular its Telekinema a combination of 3D film and television and its Live Architecture exhibition along with Expo 67's cinema experiments and media city created an awareness of multiple worlds Toronto's alternative microcinema CineCycle Agnès Varda's 2000 film Les glaneurs et la glaneuse and Buckminster Fuller's World Game geoscope representing ecologies of images and resources encouraged planetary thinking. The transspecies communication platform the Dolphin Embassy devised by the Ant Farm architecture collaborative extends this planetary perspective toward other species and Finnish artist Erkki Kurenniemi's Death of the Planet projects a postanthropocentric future. Drawing on sources that range from the Scottish town planner Patrick Geddes to the French phenomenologist Maurice Merleau-Ponty, Marchessault argues that each of these media experiments represents an engagement with connectivity and collectivity through media that will help us imagine a new form of global humanism.

Environmentalism David Peterson Del Mar, 2014-05-22 Environmental movements have produced some impressive results including cleaner air and the preservation of selected species and places. But movements that challenged western prosperity and comfort seldom made much progress and many radical environmentalists have been unabashed utopianists. In this short guide Peterson del Mar untangles this paradox by showing how prosperity is essential to environmentalism. Industrialisation made conservation sensible but also drove people to look for meaning in nature even as they consumed its products more relentlessly. Hence England led the way in both manufacturing and preserving its countryside and the United States created a matchless set of national parks as it became the world's pre-eminent economic and military power. Environmentalism considers both the conservation and preservation movements and less organized forms of nature loving from seaside vacations to ecotourism to argue that these activities have commonly distracted us from the hard work of creating a sustainable and sensible relationship with the environment.

Nature's Saviours Graham Huggan, 2013-08-22 Today's celebrity conservationists many of whom made their reputations through television and other visual media play a major role in drawing public attention to an increasingly threatened world. This book one of the first to address this contribution focuses on five key figures: the English naturalist David Attenborough the French marine adventurer Jacques-Yves Cousteau the American primatologist Dian Fossey the Canadian scientist broadcaster activist David Suzuki and the Australian crocodile hunter Steve Irwin. Some of the issues the author addresses include: What is the changing relationship between western conservation and celebrity? How has the spread of television helped shape and mediate this relationship? To what extent can celebrity conservation be seen as part of a global system in which conservation like celebrity is big business? The book critically examines the heroic status accorded to the five figures mentioned above taking in the various discourses around nature science nation gender through which they and their work have been presented to us. In doing so it fills in the cultural historical and ideological background behind contemporary celebrity conservationism as a popular expression of a chronically endangered world.

Partnerships for Global Ecosystem Management Ismail Serageldin, Joan Martin-Brown, 1999 The theme for the fifth annual Environmentally and Socially Sustainable Development Conference was the scientific legal and economic requirements of global ecosystem management. This volume presents readings and examines the outcomes from this conference. The objectives were to engage external experts and Bank managers and staff to provide a unique opportunity for major professional groups to interact on the requirements to link scientific economic and legal solutions for global ecosystem management at the country level and to promote understanding as to how best practice and innovations can be used for shared ecosystem management in sustainable development planning

Shooting in the Wild Chris Palmer,2010-05-11 Wildlife and nature films are a hugely popular entertainment genre networks such as Animal Planet and Discovery are stars in the cable television universe viewers flock to IMAX theaters to see jaw dropping footage from the wild and the venerable BBC still scores triumphs with series such as Planet Earth As cinematic technology brings ever more breathtaking images to the screen and as our direct contact with nature diminishes an ever expanding audience craves the indirect experience of wild nature that these films provide But this success has a dark side as Chris Palmer reveals in his authoritative and engrossing report on the wildlife film business A veteran producer and film educator Palmer looks past the headlines about TV host Steve Irwin s death by stingray and filmmaker Timothy Treadwell falling prey to his beloved grizzlies to uncover a more pervasive and troubling trend toward sensationalism extreme risk taking and even abuse in wildlife films He tracks the roots of this trend to the early days of the genre and he profiles a new breed of skilled ethical filmmakers whose work enlightens as well as entertains and who represent the future that Palmer envisions for the industry he loves
