Betts, Thomas Mahnken, 2004-08-02 Part of a three part collection in honour of the teachings of Michael I Handel one of the foremost strategists of the late 20th century this collection explores the paradoxes of intelligence analysis surprise and deception from both historical and theoretical perspectives Alternative to Appeasement Michael Roi, 1997-11-30 The years from 1934 to 1937 were a time during which the British Empire was confronted with the emergence of the triple threat of Nazi Germany Imperial Japan and Fascist Italy The goal of British policy was easily defined the protection and promotion of Britain s vast interests While Neville Chamberlain and Sir Robert Vansittart agreed on the goal they disagreed on the means to achieve it Their disagreement stemmed partly from their different understandings of the nature of the Third Reich Vansittart understood better than Chamberlain the implications of Hitler s Weltanschauung But their different strategies also reflected the fact that Chamberlain did not share Vansittart s belief in the necessity of pursuing alliance diplomacy to protect the world wide security and interests of the British Empire While the prime minister realized that Britain s problems were global in scope he thought Britain could solve each problem on a bilateral basis In other words Britain should approach Germany Japan and

Italy directly to settle outstanding disputes Vansittart did not believe however that Britain's problems could be solved on a bilateral basis for the interdependence of events in every region of the globe militated against bilateral solutions Plans for Stalin's War-Machine L. Samuelson, 2016-01-13 In the interwar period Red Army commanders headed by Tukhachevskii developed a new doctrine of mobile warfare and deep operations The military requirements of armaments and industrial production in the event of war was a central parameter in Stalinist industrialization Based on recently opened Russian archives the book analyzes military dimensions of Soviet long term economic and military reconstruction plans from the mid 1920s until 1941 It presents a new framework for estimating the Soviet war economic preparations drastically underestimated by contemporaries Knowing the Adversary Keren Yarhi-Milo, 2014-07-21 States are more likely to engage in risky and destabilizing actions such as military buildups and preemptive strikes if they believe their adversaries pose a tangible threat Yet despite the crucial importance of this issue we don't know enough about how states and their leaders draw inferences about their adversaries long term intentions Knowing the Adversary draws on a wealth of historical archival evidence to shed new light on how world leaders and intelligence organizations actually make these assessments Keren Yarhi Milo examines three cases Britain's assessments of Nazi Germany's intentions in the 1930s America's assessments of the Soviet Union's intentions during the Carter administration and the Reagan administration's assessments of Soviet intentions near the end of the Cold War She advances a new theoretical framework called selective attention that emphasizes organizational dynamics personal diplomatic interactions and cognitive and affective factors Yarhi Milo finds that decision makers don't pay as much attention to those aspects of state behavior that major theories of international politics claim they do Instead they tend to determine the intentions of adversaries on the basis of preexisting beliefs theories and personal impressions Yarhi Milo also shows how intelligence organizations rely on very different indicators than decision makers focusing more on changes in the military capabilities of adversaries Knowing the Adversary provides a clearer picture of the historical validity of existing theories and broadens our understanding of the important role that diplomacy plays in international security War, Strategy and Intelligence Michael I. Handel, 2012-11-12 Investigating the logic conduct and nature of war on the highest political and strategic levels these essays put less emphasis on operational and tactical aspects They look at the impact of technology on warfare the political nature of war and the limits of rational analysis in studying war
