Of Pets:

The Power of Pets Kelly Wallace, 2018-04-30 Many people seek the help of animal whisperers. These professionals seem to have a natural knack for intuitively knowing what animals want and need. They can find out if a pet is ill, why they have certain behavioral problems, what the pet thinks of their owners, and how to make your furry loved one happier and healthier. But more and more people are realizing that they can psychically or intuitively communicate with their pets themselves. If you've had pets, I'm sure you can see how different their personalities were. I bet you'll smile at your memories of them too. Pets can bring us so much joy. They can also help us heal just as we can help them. You can even learn to communicate with them whether your furry family member is in this world or the afterworld. Pets have so much to say to us, but first you need to tune into them to understand the messages they're sending. Learning to read their body language is simple, and as you get more accustomed to this, you can even communicate telepathically. That might sound incredible, but you'll be surprised at how easy it is. Since various animals have different levels of consciousness, they'll communicate on their own unique level. In time, you'll learn how your pet communicates what it wants you to know. I'll show you how. Health Benefits of Pets Fritz P. Gluckstein, 1987

Natural Hygienic Care Of Pets Donald I. Ogden, 1993-02 Contents: the history of dogs and cats, the cause of disease and health, nutrition, selection and care of breeding stock, care of the newborn, general care and diet for the young, rules for healthy pets, love and emotional care, care and feeding in disease. The Science of Pets Jay Ingram, 2025-11-04 In the tradition of The Inside of a Dog, top science writer and TV personality Jay Ingram shares new insights into the hearts, minds, and bodies of the animals who love us or do they? More than one billion pets live in homes around the world, sleeping on dog beds, clawing at cat trees, swimming in bowls, crawling around in aquariums. Canada, the United States, Brazil, the EU, and China make up half of those households, with half of the world's population owning a pet of some sort. Yet despite the ubiquitous animals that lick our faces and steal food off the counter, we really don't know a lot about the scientific side of their existence: why do dogs spin around when excited? Do our cats really love us? Do lizards make good pets? Can single-celled organisms be considered pets? You can cut the hydra in two and have two pets. What are parrots thinking, and can a horse be considered a pet? Or pigs, even those sent to market? Or praying mantises? Or how about robot pets in Japan caring for the elderly? Veteran science broadcaster and journalist Jay Ingram, author of twenty popular science titles including the bestselling Science of Why series, has researched the latest science behind our beloved furry and not-so-furry creatures that sleep on our sofas and eat our pizza crusts. Along the way, he discusses the myths and misconceptions about our companions: do dogs always do their business facing north? Why are we seeing a rise in exotic pets such as tigers and bears? Are the deer and foxes we see rescued on Instagram considered pets, and could they be domesticated? Did dogs entirely evolve from wolves, and why? Can you communicate with a turtle? Do highly intelligent octopi make good pets? And why are baby animals like baby humans so darned cute? Have they evolved to be born cute as a survival mechanism, and would that
