

Courage

Courage comes from knowledge
And knowing true your fate
With all the possibilities
When standing at the gate
At least two paths await you
No matter what the test
When choosing a direction
Your heart pounding in your chest
How can you move forward
Or even just move back
The risks seem far too many
Is it courage that you lack
It's not a lack of courage
It's trust that you now need
The plan for you unfolding
Is like water to a seed

Exiling the Poets Ramona Naddaff, 2002 The question of why Plato censored poetry in his Republic has bedeviled scholars for centuries In Exiling the Poets Ramona A Naddaff offers a strikingly original interpretation of this ancient quarrel between poetry and philosophy Underscoring not only the repressive but also the productive dimension of literary censorship Naddaff brings to light Plato's fundamental ambivalence about the value of poetic discourse in philosophical investigation Censorship Naddaff argues is not merely a mechanism of silencing but also provokes new ways of speaking about controversial and crucial cultural and artistic events It functions philosophically in the Republic to subvert Plato's most crucial arguments about politics epistemology metaphysics and ethics Naddaff develops this stunning argument through an extraordinary reading of Plato's work In books 2 and 3 the first censorship of poetry she finds that Plato constitutes the poet as a rival with whom the philosopher must vie agonistically In other words philosophy does not replace poetry as most commentators have suggested rather the philosopher becomes a worthy and ultimately victorious poetic competitor In book 10's second censorship Plato exiles the poets as a mode of self subversion rethinking and revising his theory of mimesis of the immortality of the soul and most important the first censorship of poetry Finally in a subtle and sophisticated analysis of the myth of Er Naddaff explains how Plato himself censors his own censorships of poetry thus producing the unexpected result of a poetically animated and open ended dialectical philosophy

This is a collection of stories and poems written by men and women of the armed forces affected by combat and by the exacting demands of military service. The Shaping of English Poetry Gerald Morgan, 2010. This collection of essays is conceived not as a summary of past endeavours but as the beginning of an attempt to present a sense of the wholeness of a distinctively English literature from Beowulf to Spenser. The native alliterative tradition of England is represented by its final flowering in two essays on Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and three on Piers Plowman. The renewal of English letters in the fourteenth century inspired by continental models in French and Italian.

is represented by four essays on Chaucer The poetic achievement of these three medieval masters remains unmatched until Spenser announces himself in a third great age in the history of English poetry and this is represented by three essays on the first three books of The Faerie Queene Spenser's indebtedness to Langland and Chaucer and his philosophical conservatism in drawing on the thought of Aristotle and the tradition of medieval commentary surrounding the works of Aristotle ensure that the tradition of English poetry in the Renaissance is securely rooted in its medieval inheritance Fear, Courage & Love Carlos Carbajal, 2021-08-17 The information about the book is not available as of this time The Poetry of Thom Gunn Stefania Michelucci, 2008-12-24 Thom Gunn served as a mouthpiece for his time illustrating the social cultural and historical transformations that have characterized western civilization from World War II until today Starting with theoretical premises drawn from philosophy anthropology and sociology this work examines Thom Gunn's entire poetic career In Gunn's early poetry the author argues the predominant theme is the desire for freedom from the painful prison of the intellect and from the masks that the individual feels compelled to wear even in his sexual relationships In Gunn's later poetry the author notes a gradual opening to human relationships and to Nature which is also Gunn's vindication and reevaluation of his own nature and the liberation of his long repressed and hidden homosexuality The Lightning-scene in Ancient Arabic Poetry Ali Ahmad Hussein, 2009 In Old Arabic poetry from the pre Islamic and early Islamic periods to the end of the orthodox Caliphate one theme is the lightning scene In this the protagonist asserts that he could not sleep because he saw lightning flashing far away in the sky The book explores the various functions of this scene and its relationship with other parts of the poem This study achieves two main goals The first sheds light on two important terms connected with Old Arabic poetry the function and the narration We see how a certain element can function differently from text to text and how these different functions influence the narration of a poem and consequently make it to some degree idiosyncratic i e a text that differs from other poems that include the same element The second purpose is to make a comprehensive study of the components namely the motifs included in the lightning scenes Here the author reaches conclusions regarding whether these components differ significantly from text to text or whether they are merely repetitions In other words this study examines whether the lightning scenes in themselves are idiosyncratic or on the contrary are fossilized and conventional follow long established poetic traditions
