Alone With Others An Existential Approach To Buddhism:

Alone With Others Stephen Batchelor, 2007-12-01 The author of Buddhism Without Beliefs bridges the gap between Western and Eastern philosophy with this humanist approach to Buddhism This uniquely contemporary guide to understanding the timeless message of Buddhism and in particular its relevance in actual human relations was inspired by Shantideva's Guide to the Bodhisattva's Way Of Life which the author translated into English the oral instructions of living Buddhist masters Heidegger's classic Being and Time and the writings of the Christian theologians Paul Tillich and John MacQuarrie The text is written with unusual clarity of style making difficult matters readily accessible It fills a serious gap in the dialogue between East and West and does so in the most sensitive most intelligent and most careful way Batchelor's strategy to use the Western disciplines in order to make Buddhism accessible to the Westerner is I think highly successful The book makes a fine introduction David Michael Levin Department of Philosophy Northwestern University Magnificent inspiring This excellent book has come to me personally as an illuminating text despite my close on sixty years concern with Buddhism Batchelor's approach is likely to appeal to many categories of readers who have hitherto never considered Buddhism as having great relevance to themselves John Blofeld from the Foreword

Minding What Matters Robert Langan, 2006-06 Minding What Matters interweaves beautifully written expositions of Buddhist topics and compelling fictional dialogues between a patient and psychotherapist With vivid immediacy and a sense of playfulness Langan shows how any one of us can intimately explore the full possibilities of our own minds This unique book offers in Robert Coles words an entrancing vision of what it is possible to do and to be Book jacket

The Philosophy of Desire in the Buddhist Pali Canon David Webster,2005 David Webster explores the notion of desire as found in the Buddhist Pali Canon Beginning by addressing the idea of a paradox of desire whereby we must desire to end desire the varieties of desire that are articulated in the Pali texts are examined A range of views of desire as found in Western thought are presented as well as Hindu and Jain approaches An exploration of the concept of ditthi view or opinion is also provided exploring the way in which holding views can be seen as analogous to the process of desiring Other subjects investigated include the mind body relationship the range of Pali terms for desire and desire s positive spiritual value A comparative exploration of the various approaches completes the work

The Authority of Experience John Pickering,2013-12-02 This collection of writings presents contemporary views on the integration of Buddhism in the West Over the past few decades Buddhism has deepened its presence in the West and as a result teachings and practices are becoming integrated with those of Western psychology in a more productive way The decline of mechanism and positivism offers new opportunities to bring together Western Buddhist views of the mind and its relationship to its surroundings Written by psychologists and scholars the essays discuss many of the difficult questions raised by Buddhism s increased presence In particular the issue of the balance between authenticity and accessibility is examined Buddhist traditions are often perceived as inaccessible and too firmly fixed to a cultural framework with some people especially women left feeling alienated and undervalued However by responding to this by attempting to synthesise Buddhism with the values of contemporary culture can lead to doubts about authenticity and dilution Examining these issues and many more the contributors seek to bring Buddhism into a realistic and informed relationship with contemporary Western thought Buddhist Theology Roger Jackson, John Makransky, 2013-12-16 Scholars of Buddhism themselves Buddhist here seek to apply the critical tools of the academy to reassess the truth and transformative value of their tradition in its relevance to the contemporary world Secular Buddhism Stephen Batchelor, 2017-02-21 An essential collection of Stephen Batchelor s most probing and important work on secular Buddhism As the practice of mindfulness permeates mainstream Western culture more and more people are engaging in a traditional form of Buddhist meditation However many of these people have little interest in the religious aspects of Buddhism and the practice occurs within secular contexts such as hospitals schools and the workplace Is it possible to recover from the Buddhist teachings a vision of human flourishing that is secular rather than religious without compromising the integrity of the tradition Is there an ethical framework that can underpin and contextualize these practices in a rapidly changing world In this collected volume of Stephen Batchelor s writings on these themes he explores the complex implications of Buddhism s secularization Ranging widely from reincarnation religious belief and agnosticism to the role of the arts in Buddhist practice he offers a detailed picture of contemporary Buddhism and its attempt to find a voice in the modern world The Resonance of Emptiness Gay Watson, 2013-11-19 This work presents an exploration of Buddhist philosophy and practice as a potential resource for an approach to psychotherapy which is responsive to the needs of its time and context and attempts to open up a three way dialogue between Buddhism psychotherapy and contemporary discourse to reveal a meaningful theory and practice for a contemporary psychotherapy Erich Fromm and Critical Criminology Kevin Anderson, Richard Quinney, 2000 Linking the writings of the great humanist psychologist Erich Fromm to criminology this collection shows how viewing crime patterns and the criminal justice system from Fromm s humanist perspective opens a path to more effective and more humane ways of understanding and dealing with crime and criminals Contributors to Erich Fromm and Critical Criminology draw on Fromm s writings on alienation sadomasochism and patriarchal matriarchal values to assess the kinds of crimes being committed and the kinds of people committing them They explore the spiritual and intellectual sources of Fromm s thought including Jewish theology Freudian psychoanalysis Marxism and Buddhism and demonstrate how his socialist humanism points toward a society free of crime and violence This volume also includes translations of two of Fromm s early articles on criminal justice never before available in English in which he develops a psychoanalytic Marxist critique of the role of criminal justice in a class society At a time when American society seems bent to an unprecedented degree on imprisonment executions and other violent responses to the problem of crime Fromm s humanist critique offers a unique vantage point from which to renew and develop a critical criminology Zen and Therapy Manu Bazzano, 2017-06-26 Zen and Therapy brings together aspects of the Buddhist tradition contemporary western therapy and western philosophy By combining insightful anecdotes from the Zen tradition with clinical studies discussions of current psychotherapy theory and forays into art film literature and philosophy Manu Bazzano integrates Zen Buddhist practice with psychotherapy and psychology This book successfully expands the existing dialogue on the integration of Buddhism psychology and philosophy highlighting areas that have been neglected and bypassed It explores a third way between the two dominant modalities the religious and the secular a positively ambivalent stance rooted in embodied practice and the cultivation of compassion and active perplexity It presents a life affirming view the wonder beauty and complexity of being human Intended for both experienced practitioners and beginners in the fields of psychotherapy and philosophy Zen and Therapy provides an enlightening and engaging exploration of a previously underexplored area

Buddhism and American Cinema John Whalen-Bridge, Gary Storhoff (1947–2011), 2014-07-31 Discusses both depictions of Buddhism in film and Buddhist takes on a variety of films In 1989 the same year the Dalai Lama was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize a decade long boom of films dedicated to Buddhist people history and culture began Offering the first scholarly treatment of Buddhism and cinema the editors advise that there are two kinds of Buddhist film those that are about Buddhists and those that are not Focusing on contemporary American offerings the contributors extend a two pronged approach discussing how Buddhism has been captured by directors and presenting Buddhist oriented critiques of the worlds represented in films that would seem to have no connection with Buddhism Films discussed range from those set in Tibet such as Kundun and Lost Horizon to those set well outside of any Buddhist milieu such as Groundhog Day and The Matrix The contributors explain the Buddhist theoretical concepts that emerge in these works including karma the bardo and reincarnation and consider them in relation to interpretive strategies that include feminism postcolonialism and contemplative psychological approaches
