Along The Number Twenty Line Reminiscences Of The Vancouver Waterfront:

Along the No. 20 Line Rolf Knight, 1980 Vancouver Past: Essays in Social History Robert A. J. McDonald, Jean Barman, 1986-01-01 Focusing on Vancouver's social history the essays written for this special edition of BC Studies treat hitherto neglected areas of the city's past and bring new insights into how its residents lived and worked. Receiving particular attention is the socio-economic and residential structure of Vancouver with one author arguing that the city's economy created an urban working class which was at once more complex and politically more conservative than that of the highly polarized communities on Vancouver Island and in the Interior Into the House of Old Megan J. Davies, 2004-10 Davies' study of institutional life is multi-textured, informed by social and architectural theory while telling us much about daily life in these facilities. We learn about angry rebellion and harsh discipline, fun and festivals, death and compassion. And we see how the twentieth century witnessed the gradual withdrawal of these institutions from the life of the community, further enhancing the marginal place of the old age home in our society. Chronicling the evolution of professional ideas about residential care facilities and an innovative program to move elderly patients out of acute care hospital beds, Into the House of Old provides a context for understanding this problematic institution as both an offspring of the poor law and a product of the post-Second World War expansion of state medical services Growing Up Neil Sutherland, 1997-01-01 By laying out the structure of children's lives and their childhood experiences in such settings as the home, the classroom, the church, and on streets and in the playground, the author describes how English Canadian children grew up in modern Canada Children, Teachers and Schools in the History of British Columbia Jean Barman, Mona Gleason, 2003 This new edition explores the myriad ways that education broadly defined molds each of us in profound and enduring ways. Laid against the supporting scaffolding of modern critical theory, the chapters offer cutting-edge perspectives of going to school in British Columbia. How has education been tailored by race, class, gender? How do representations of schools and schooling change over time and whose interests are served? What echoes of current tensions can we hear in the past? The book offers a glimpse of the deep contradictions inherent in an experience that we all share Houses for All Jill Wade, 1994-01-01 Houses for All is the story of the struggle for social housing in Vancouver between 1919 and 1950. It argues that however temporary or limited their achievements, local activists played a significant role in the introduction, implementation, or continuation of many early national housing programs. Ottawa's housing initiatives were not always unilateral actions in the development of the welfare state. The drive for social housing in Vancouver complemented the tradition of housing activism that already existed in the United Kingdom and to a lesser degree in the United States The Autonomous City Alexander Vasudevan, 2023-01-03 A radical history of squatting and the struggle for the right to remake the city. The Autonomous City is the first popular history of squatting as practised in Europe and North America. Alex Vasudevan retraces the struggle for housing in Amsterdam, Berlin, Copenhagen, Detroit, Hamburg, London, Madrid, Milan, New York, and Vancouver. He looks at the organisation of alternative forms of housing from Copenhagen s Freetown Christiania to the squats of the Lower East Side as well as the official response including the recent criminalisation of squatting the brutal eviction of squatters and their widespread vilification Pictured as a way to reimagine and reclaim the city squatting offers an alternative to housing insecurity oppressive property speculation and the negative effects of urban regeneration We must more than ever reanimate and remake the urban environment as a site of radical social transformation Creating Societies Dirk Hoerder,2000 The birth of Canada as a society and a nation has often been told from the narrow perspective of the founding nations These versions have left little room for the everyday experiences of a wide variety of individual immigrants who have had to adjust

Canadian History: Confederation to the present Martin Brook Taylor,Doug Owsen,1994-01-01 In these two volumes which replace the Reader s Guide to Canadian History experts provide a select and critical guide to historical writing about pre and post Confederation Canada with an emphasis on the most recent scholarship Cover Waterfront James P. Delgado,2010 The sea and a mighty river dominate Greater Vancouver Dramatic stories abound along its waterfront of this place its people ships and events that shaped a city a region and a nation Waterfront is a magnificently illustrated authoritative and lively tour of the dynamic ebb and flow between the water the surrounding land and above all the people who strove and dreamed along the waterfront Pub desc Vancouver's Glory Years Heather Conn, Henry Ewert,2003 This book reveals one of the greatest eras in Vancouver s history an era before automobiles when people regardless of race religion or social status rode together in the same shared vehicles From the 1890s to 1915 state of the art electric street cars and interurbans carried citizens from downtown to the farthest reaches of the Lower Mainland Vancouver s early people s vehicles with affordable fares carved an exciting new future for the city of 10 000 residents who otherwise had only their feet a bicycle or a costly horse and carriage ride for transportation through the muddy urban streets The way the city developed was dependent on public transit and even modern transit is very much indebted to the earliest plans As well as a history of transit this book explores the dramatic ways Vancouver was changing at the turn of the 20th century It reveals the individuals and the groups who were involved in carving the city from the wilderness and creating a glamorous metropolis Over 150 archival images of classic streetcars and conductors city streets and buildings reveal Vancouver as it was then

Voyage Through the Past Century Rolf Knight,2013-05-09 Though unaffiliated with any institute of higher learning Rolf Knight has established himself as a writer of significance and has produced some of the most influential works of history of British Columbia A Very Ordinary Life exploring his mother s life as a working class immigrant to Vancouver established his reputation in 1974 Indians at Work published in 1976 and reissued in 1996 was originally highly contentious but has since shaped the perception of contact in this part of the world as no other book has Throughout the 1970s Knight continued to document working class experiences in British Columbia through a series of books A Man of our Times with Maya Koizumi Stump Ranch Chronicles Work Camps and Company Towns and Along the No 20 Line reissued 2011 In 1992 he published

Homer Stevens A Life in Fishing with Homer Stevens and was also awarded a Clio prize by the Canadian Historical Association for his contributions to regional history In Voyage Through the Past Century we have Knight s autobiographical account of his far from ordinary past A journey from his early years as the only child at Musketeer Mine through his move to northeast Vancouver where he attended school and entered university Earning a PhD in anthropology and subsequent fieldwork in Northern Quebec constitute his formal schooling but it was Knight s travels upcoast as a youth trips to Berlin Nigeria New York and Colombia that shaped his politics and views Clear eyed and written with the verve and passion of a working class activist Voyage Through the Past Century is an engaging record of a fascinating life and an indispensable account of a time and place that has marked our age even as the events that shaped it fade into the past Gesellschaft und Diplomatie im transatlantischen Kontext Reinhard R. Davies,Geoffrey L. Hudson,2024-07-15 Although Canadian history has no shortage of stories about disasters and accidents the phenomena of risk upset and misfortune have been largely overlooked by historians Disasters get their due but not so the smaller scale accident where fate is more intimate Yet such events often have a vivid afterlife in the communities where they happen and the way in which they are explained and remembered has significant social cultural and political meaning An Accidental History of Canada brings together original studies of an intriguing range of accidents stretching from the 1630s to the 1970s These include workplace domestic childhood and leisure accidents in colonial Indigenous rural and urban settings Whether arising from colonial power relations urban dangers perils in resource extraction or hazardous recreations most accidents occur within circumstances of vulnerability and reveal precarity and inequities not otherwise apparent Contributors to this volume are alert to the intersections of the settler agenda and the elevation of risk that it brings Indigenous and settler ways of understanding accidents are juxtaposed with chapters exploring the links between accidents and the rise of the modern state An Accidental History of Canada makes plain that whether they are interpreted as an intervention by providence a miscalculation an inevitability or the result of observable risk accidents and our responses to them reveal shared values A
