

Desire

Desire is a feeling that has wings,
The wings awake to the secrets of the heart beat.
The desire gets close to our sleepless nights of memories
Unfulfilled desire traps the sea of pain in our hearts
It thrives to explode and somewhere far the rain
Gets close to the moon and night ropes of clouds
Our desire gets close to the ocean
In the night with full glory of the moon
I opened my secret chamber of desire
And today my desire is fulfilled.

Altered Edges Lisac, 2002-09 Reminiscences of My Irish Journey in 1849 Thomas Carlyle, James Anthony Froude, 1882 The Unthronged Oracle Jack Blackmore, 2016-11-01 Laura Riding was a major poet whose poems though widely admired and influential have been little understood Throughout the 1920s and 1930s she was a devout advocate of poetry believing that to go to poetry is the most ambitious act of the mind Her subsequent renunciation of poetry in the 1940s gave rise to bemusement Jack Blackmore tackles the causes of the neglect of Riding's poetry and establishes new and productive approaches to the poems His close readings of fifteen poems demonstrate the progress of Collected Poems and the remarkable range and scope of her poetry He establishes both the strength and unity of the poems and the continuity between them and her post poetic work in particular her spiritual testament The Telling Mark Jacobs's vivid memoir of a visit to the author in later life at her Florida home complements the work on the poems These essays are interesting and you have done well You seem to me fair and just in what you say about her work Robert Nye This is ambitious work full of insights Professor Michael Schmidt Episodes in the Life of an Indian Chaplain, by a Retired Chaplain Samuel Thomas Pettigrew, 1882 The Great Lone Land Sir William Francis Butler, 1881 Women on the Edge Corinne H. Dale, 2018-10-24 This collection of essays explores the intertwining social conditions of ethnicity and gender as they are represented in short stories by contemporary American women The introduction to the collection explains the theoretical understanding of gender and ethnicity as social constructions that provide a context for individual experience The collection brings together analyses of short stories that focus on major ethnic cultures in the United States Mexican American Puerto Rican Japanese American Asian American African American Jewish American white Protestant American and Native American Each essay testifies to the struggles of women within patriarchal cultures in America and each explores how different ethnic identities set the terms of these gender struggles The essays also reveal the complications of other important social issues such as class sexual preference and religion Individually each essay contributes a significant new analysis of a short story or collection by an important contemporary American writer Together the essays indicate the complexity and significance of this cultural approach to women's fiction demonstrate the critical theories that are currently developing in the fields of gender and ethnic studies and suggest that neither ethnicity nor gender can legitimately be considered alone
