Alzheimers Disease Problems Prospects And Perspectives:

Alzheimer's Disease and the Family Joy S. Martyniuk,1990 Alzheimer's Disease Harvey J. Altman,2012 Alzheimer s disease is a primary neurodegenerative disease whose incidence and prevalence is rapidly approaching epidemic proportions A major reason for this is that man is living longer than he has ever lived before and the likelihood of contracting the disease is significantly greater within the elderly portion of the population The problem becomes even more acute in the light of recent estimates which predict that the number of people living beyond the age of 65 is expected to continue to increase The impact of these statistics on the family and the health care industry in terms of time effort and cost are staggering A recent report issued by the Michigan Task Force on Alzheimer s Disease and Related Conditions 1987 effectively underscores this last point Each person with a dementing disease requires an average of seven years of care either at home or in a residential care facility Care provided at home is estimated to cost about 12 000 annually for a total of 84 000 per person This is a conservative figure however because many persons with dementia spend their last few years in a nursing home at an average cost of 22 000 per year and some spend from 10 to 15 years in a nursing home for a total cost of 220 000 to 330 000

Alzheimer's Disease Harvey J. Altman,1987-12-31 Proceedings of a National Conference on Alzheimer s Disease and Dementia problems prospects and perspectives held April 10 12 1986 in Detroit Michigan T p verso Alzheimer's Disease Abraham Fisher,Israel Hanin,Chaim Lachman,1987-12-31 Alzheimer's Disease Abraham Fisher,Israel Hanin,Chaim Lachman,2012-12-06 Alzheimer s disease is a primary neurodegenerative disease whose incidence and prevalence is rapidly approaching epidemic proportions A major reason for this is that man is living longer than he has ever lived before and the likelihood of contracting the disease is significantly greater within the elderly portion of the population The problem becomes even more acute in the light of recent estimates which predict that the number of people living beyond the age of 65 is expected to continue to increase The impact of these statistics on the family and the health care industry in terms of time effort and cost are staggering A recent report issued by the Michigan Task Force on Alzheimer s Disease and Related Conditions 1987 effectively underscores this last point Each person with a dementing disease requires an average of seven years of care either at home or in a residential care facility Care provided at home is estimated to cost about 12 000 annually for a total of 84 000 per person This is a conservative figure however because many persons with dementia spend their last few years in a nursing home at an average cost of 22 000 per year and some spend from 10 to 15 years in a nursing home for a total cost of 220 000 to 330 000 Alzheimer Disease D.L. Smith,Ezio Giacobini,J.M. Barton,Robert E. Becker,2012-12-06 Since the apoE4 allele is a risk factor or susceptibility gene in late onset familial and sporadic AD the mechanism of disease expression may involve metabolic effects that are isoform specific Isoform specific interactions of apoE therefore become critical in the mechanism of AD pathogenesis Detailed characterization of the binding of the apoE isoforms with proteins and peptides relevant to the pathology of the disease may be critical in understanding disease pathogenesis These critical isoform specific interactions of apoE may involve interactions with proteins and peptides in the defining neuropathologic lesions of the disease the neurofibrillary tangle and senile plaque Other possible critical isoform specific interactions include the mechanism of internalization intracellular trafficking and subsequent metabolism In addition differential post translational modifications of apoE isoforms may determine differences in metabolism contributing to the pathogenesis of the disease Oxidation of apoE may confer several isoform specific biochemically distinct properties Since 3A peptide binds apoE in the lipoprotein binding domain of the protein and not in the receptor binding domain apoE could target bound 3A4 peptide to neurons via the LRP receptor Internalization of the apoE1 3A peptide complex into the cell by the same route as the apoE containing lipoproteins would result in incorporation into primary lysosomes and pH dependent dissociation The demonstration of apoE in the cytoplasm of neurons with isoform specific interactions of apoE with the microtubule binding protein tau demonstrated in vitro suggest additional testable hypotheses of disease pathogenesis

Lawlor, 1995 Behavioral Complications in Alzheimer's Disease is the first book to focus exclusively on Alzheimer's disease and on the noncognitive disturbances associated with this disease It centers on the emerging data regarding the biology of the illness The book provides clinicians with practical management strategies for the identification measurement and treatment of behavioral symptoms in patients with Alzheimer's disease Behavioral Complications in Alzheimer's Disease also informs the nonspecialist and trainee about important new findings The liberal use of case histories and illustrations makes this a valuable reference text ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE GISELE. Evidence-based Dementia Practice Nawab Qizilbash, Lon S. Schneider, Henry Brodaty, Pierre Tariot, Jeffrey Kaye, Helena Chui, Timo Erkinjuntti, 2008-04-15 The era of therapeutic nihilism in dementia has ended with the emergence of agents for symptomatic treatment those that delay the course of the disease or prevent the onset of dementia and new methods to manage symptoms With the expansion of therapies there is a clear danger of being overwhelmed by the volume of data This book is designed to collect this information distill what is relevant and reliable and present it in a format that is useful to clinicians who manage and treat people with dementia The book is designed to bring together the latest best and practical evidence on all aspects of management from diagnosis and therapy to social and ethical considerations The editors are all dynamic clinicians involved in the care of patients with dementia and the evaluation of therapies Two of the editors are the leaders of the Cochrane Collaboration for the examination of therapies for dementia There are no other books that take such a practical and problem oriented or approach to the diagnosis and management of dementia Furthermore none but this can be described as truly evidence based
