Conceiving Normalcy Rhetoric Law And The Double Binds Of Infertility:

Conceiving Normalcy Elizabeth C. Britt, 2014-09-30 Elizabeth A Britt explores how legal and medical discourses shape the experience of infertility in America Through rhetorical analysis of court cases and personal narratives Conceiving Normalcy reveals how women navigate conflicting expectations of motherhood identity and legitimacy in a system that often marginalizes their reproductive realities

Childfree and Happy Courtney Adams Wooten, 2023-06-15 Childfree and Happy examines how millennia of reproductive beliefs or doxa have positioned women who choose not to have children as deviant or outside the norm Considering affect and emotion alongside the lived experiences of women who have chosen not to have children Courtney Adams Wooten offers a new theoretical lens to feminist rhetorical scholars examinations of reproductive rhetorics and how they circulate through women's lives by paying attention not just to spoken or written beliefs but also to affectual circulations of reproductive doxa Through interviews with thirty four childfree women and analysis of childfree rhetorics circulating in historical and contemporary texts and events this book demonstrates how childfree women individually and collectively try to speak back to common beliefs about their reproductive experiences even as they struggle to make their identities legible in a sociocultural context that centers motherhood Childfree and Happy theorizes how affect and rhetoric work together to circulate reproductive doxa by using Sara Ahmed's theories of gendered happiness scripts to analyze what reproductive doxa is embedded in those scripts and how they influence rhetoric by about and around childfree women Delving into how childfree women position their decision not to have children and the different types of interactions they have with others about this choice including family members friends colleagues and medical professionals Childfree and Happy also explores how communities that make space for alternative happiness scripts form between childfree women and those who support them It will be of interest to scholars in the fields of the rhetoric of motherhood mothering as well as feminist rhetorical studies

Infertility Robin E. Jensen, 2016-09-29 This book explores the arguments appeals and narratives that have defined the meaning of infertility in the modern history of the United States and Europe Throughout the last century the inability of women to conceive children has been explained by discrepant views that women are individually culpable for their own reproductive health problems or that they require the intervention of medical experts to correct abnormalities Using doctor patient correspondence oral histories and contemporaneous popular and scientific news coverage Robin Jensen parses the often thin rhetorical divide between moralization and medicalization revealing how dominating explanations for infertility have emerged from seemingly competing narratives Her longitudinal account illustrates the ways in which old arguments and appeals do not disappear in the light of new information but instead reemerge at subsequent often seemingly disconnected moments to combine and contend with new assertions Tracing the transformation of language surrounding infertility from barrenness to infertility this rhetorical analysis both explicates how language was and is used to establish the concept of infertility and shows the implications these rhetorical constructions continue to have for individuals and the societies in which they live The Oxford Handbook of Reproductive Ethics Leslie Francis, 2017 Intimate and medicalized natural and technological reproduction poses some of the most challenging ethical dilemmas of our time This volume brings together scholars from multiple perspectives to address both traditional and novel questions about the rights and responsibilities of human reproducers their caregivers and the societies in which they live The Rhetoric of Judging Well David A. Maternity Megan D. McFarlane, 2021-04-08 The rights of pregnant workers as well as the lack of paid maternity leave have increasingly become topics of a major policy debate in the United States Yet few discussions have focused on the U S military where many of the latest policy changes focus on these very issues Despite the armed forces increases to maternity related benefits servicewomen continue to be stigmatized for being pregnant and taking advantage of maternity policies In an effort to understand this disconnect Megan McFarlane analyzes military documents and conducts interviews with enlisted servicewomen and female officers She finds a policy culture disparity within the military that pregnant servicewomen themselves often co construct making the policy changes significantly less effective McFarlane ends by offering suggestions for how these policy changes can have more impact and how they could potentially serve as an example for the broader societal debate The Case for Single Motherhood Katherine Elizabeth Mack, 2023-12-05 Delves into the rhetorical work of elective single mothers ESMs in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries as they sought and continue to seek to legitimize their maternal identities and family formations Scholars of rhetoric have largely overlooked the inherent rhetoricity of family In The Case for Single Motherhood Katherine Mack posits family as a central concern of rhetorical studies by reflecting on how language is used by single mothers who seek to reenvision the personal social and political meanings of family Drawing on intersectional and rhetorical theories Mack demonstrates how the category of elective single motherhood emerged in response to the historically differential treatment of unwed mothers along racial and class lines Through her readings of a range of self sponsored ESM texts guidebooks memoirs and interactive digital media written by and primarily for other ESMs and from her perspective as an elective single mother herself Mack evaluates the rhetorical power as well as the exclusions and hierarchies that the ESM label effects She analyzes how ESMs envision motherhood visions that entail their musings about who can and should mother Ultimately Mack offers women who are considering nonnormative paths to motherhood a way to affirm their maternal identities and paths without disparaging others Scholars in the fields of rhetoric and feminist rhetorical studies will find in this volume an illuminating perspective on the rhetorical power of self sponsored texts in particular Crafting a methodology to identify and evaluate the goals and effects of legitimacy work and selecting sources that bring academic attention to varied genres of self sponsored writings Mack paves the way for future rhetorical studies of motherhood and family Street Sex Workers' Discourse Jill McCracken, 2013-04-17

Incorporating the voices and insights of street sex workers through personal interviews this monograph argues that the material conditions of many street workers the physical environments they live in and their effects on the workers bodies identities and spirits are represented reproduced and entrenched in the language surrounding their work As an ethnographic case study of a local system that can be extrapolated to other subcultures and the construction of identities this book disrupts some of the more prevalent academic and lay understandings about street prostitution by providing a thorough analysis of the material conditions surrounding street work and their connection to discourse McCracken offers an explanation of how constructions can be made differently in order to achieve representations that are generated by the marginalized populations themselves while placing responsibility for this marginalization on the society in which these people live The Gendered Pulpit Roxanne Mountford, 2003 In this feminist investigation into the art of preaching one of the oldest and least studied rhetorical traditions Roxanne Mountford explores the relationship between bodies space race and gender in rhetorical performance and American Protestant culture Refiguring delivery and physicality as significant components of the rhetorical situation The Gendered Pulpit Preaching in American Protestant Spaces examines the strategies of three contemporary women preachers who have transgressed traditions rearranged rhetorical space and conquered gender bias to establish greater intimacy with their congregations Mountford s examinations of the rhetoric inherent in preaching manuals from 1850 to the present provide insight into how manliness has remained a central concept in American preaching since the mid nineteenth century The manuals illustrate that the character style method of delivery and theological purpose of preachers focused on white men and their cultural standing leaving contemporary women preachers searching for ways to accommodate themselves to the physicality of preaching Three case studies of women preachers who have succeeded or failed in rearranging rhetorical space provide the foundation for the volume These contemporary examples have important implications for feminist theology and also reveal the importance of gender space and bodies to studies of rhetoric in general Mountford explores the geographies of St John s Lutheran Church and the preaching of Rev Patricia O Connor who reformed rhetorical space through the delivery of her sermons At Eastside United Church of Christ Mountford shows Rev Barbara Hill employed narrative style and prophetic utterance in the tradition of black preaching to address gender bias and institute change in her congregation The final case study details the experiences of Pastor Janet Moore and her struggles at Victory Hills United Methodist Church where the fractured congregation could not be united even with Pastor Moore's focus on theological purpose and invention strategies Publisher description Contemplating Maternity in an Era of Choice Sara Hayden, Lynn O'Brien Hallstein, 2010-06-14 Women who came of age in the late twentieth century were raised in the era of choice they grew up believing that reproductive decision making is a political right a responsibility of women living the successes of second wave feminism and under their control Contemplating Maternity in an Era of Choice Explorations into Discourses of Reproduction explores contemporary maternity both within and in light of these late twentieth century understandings Employing a variety of feminist communication approaches the volume's contributors discuss how discourses of choice shape and are shaped by women's identities and experiences as non mothers and how those same discourses affect and reflect private practices and public policies related to reproduction and motherhood Through this process the contributors illustrate a variety of ways of conducting feminist thinking research and practices within the communication discipline Major sub disciplines within communication studies are represented here including feminist organizational interpersonal rhetorical critical cultural and social movement studies Whereas many of the previous scholarly investigations into maternity highlight only one aspect or phase of motherhood Contemplating Maternity in an Era of Choice is unique because it investigates discourses of choice across the arc of maternity and as enacted through various non maternal subject positions Writing Childbirth Kim Hensley Owens, 2015-06-24 Drawing on medical texts popular advice books and online birth plans and birth stories as well as the results of a childbirth writing survey Owens considers how women's agency in childbirth is sanctioned and how it is not She examines how women's rhetorical choices in writing interact with institutionalized medicine and societal norms Writing Childbirth reveals the contradictory messages women receive about childbirth their conflicting expectations about it and how writing and technology contribute to and reconcile these messages and expectations Narratives, Health, and Healing Lynn M. Harter, Phyllis M. Japp, Christina S. Beck, 2006-04-21 This volume explores how narratives are used in the social construction of wellness and illness It is intended for scholars and advanced students in health communication and applied health disciplines Embracing Risk Tom Baker, Jonathan Simon, 2010-02-15 For much of the twentieth century industrialized nations addressed social problems such as workers compensation benefits and social welfare programs in terms of spreading risk But in recent years a new approach has emerged using risk both as a way to conceive of and address social problems and as an incentive to reduce individual claims on collective resources Embracing Risk explores this new approach from a variety of perspectives The first part of the book focuses on the interplay between risk and insurance in various historical and social contexts The second part examines how risk is used to govern fields outside the realm of insurance from extreme sports to policing mental health institutions and international law Offering an original approach to risk insurance and responsibility the provocative and wide ranging essays in Embracing Risk demonstrate that risk has moved well beyond its origins in the insurance trade to become a central organizing principle of social and cultural life Rhetoric, Law, and the Regulation of Intellectual Property on Peer-to-peer Networks Jessica Lee Reyman, 2006 Egg Freezing, Fertility and Reproductive Choice Kylie Baldwin, 2019-09-05 The ebook edition of this title is Open Access thanks to Knowledge Unlatched funding and freely available to read online This book explores the experiences of some of the pioneering users of social egg freezing technology in the UK and the USA

When IVF Fails K. Throsby, 2004-08-19 In spite of the fact that almost eighty percent of all IVF cycles are unsuccessful the dominant representations of the technology are of its success Based on extensive interviews with women and couples who have undergone IVF unsuccessfully and who have since stopped treatment and taking an overtly feminist approach the book explores the ways in which IVF failure is experienced and accounted for The book argues that IVF failure and the end of treatment have to be carefully managed over time in order to construct the self as normal in the profoundly gendered context of reproductive normativity Treatment failure is identified in the book not only as a central but largely excluded aspect of the experience of IVF but also of a proliferating range of new more controversial reproductive and genetic technologies The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies Andrea A. Lunsford, Kirt H. Wilson, Rosa A. Eberly, 2008-10-29 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies surveys the latest advances in rhetorical scholarship synthesizing theories and practices across major areas of study in the field and pointing the way for future studies Edited by Andrea A Lunsford and Associate Editors Kirt H Wilson and Rosa A Eberly the Handbook aims to introduce a new generation of students to rhetorical study and provide a deeply informed and ready resource for scholars currently working in the field
