An epic spanning more than half a century of Taiwan's history this breathtaking historical novel traces the fortunes of the Pengs a family of Hakka Chinese settlers across three generations from the 1890s just before Taiwan was ceded to Japan as a result of the Sino Japanese war through World War II Li Qiao brilliantly re creates the dramatic world of these pioneers and the colonization of Taiwan itself exploring their relationships with the aboriginal peoples of Taiwan and their struggle to establish their own ethnic and political identities This carefully researched work of fiction draws upon Li's own experiences and family history as well as oral and written histories of the era Originally published in Chinese as a trilogy this newly translated edition is an abridgement for English speaking readers and marks the work's first appearance in the English speaking world It was well received in Taiwan as an honest and influential recreation of Taiwan's history before the relocation of the Republic of China from the mainland to Taiwan Because Li's saga is so deeply imbued with the unique culture and complex history of Taiwan an introduction explaining the cultural and historical background of the novel is included to help orient the reader to this amazingly rich cultural context This informative introduction and the sweeping saga of the novel itself together provide an important view of Taiwan's little known colonial experience continue In this new age of anxiety it is essential for both planners and theorists to understand their roles as well as provide guidance in shaping them Burchell and Sternlieb have thus gathered here a variety of individuals all of whom in their separate and distinct fashions are seasoned both in practice and in theory The book is divided into five sections Physical Planning in Change Social Planning in Change Public Policy Planning in Change Economic Planning in Change and a final section detailing the roles of planners and who they are These shared puzzlements and insights will prove useful to all practitioners and theorists in the planning field
