

Conceptions of Curriculum

Sarah Walker

Instruction

Academic Rationalism

Ensuring instruction in each subject is based on subject learning outcomes; meaningful learning tasks that focus on "thinking" & problem-solving; front loading of information; transmission of knowledge/tasks

Social Reconstruction-Relevance

Incorporate real-life, relative topics into learning experiences and how information is taught; weave in indigenous ways of learning; "progressive" instruction of curricular topics to ensure learning is interesting and relatable; value student voice in the classroom

Self-Actualization/ Humanistic" Approach

Teaching to the "whole-child"; not just instruction of subject-based material; inquiry-based learning; incorporating lessons of virtues into instructional methods; personalizing learning and accommodating for student needs; various modes of instructional methods - audio, visual, hands-on; creating a safe, welcoming classroom; cooperative learning opportunities vs. stand-and-deliver

Development of Cognitive Processes

Assess student's on subject and grade-specific learning outcomes and report on subject-specific report card stems

Social- Reconstruction-Relevance

Construct assessments around the "Big Idea" that encompasses socially relevant topics and relate assessed skills and knowledge to that

Self-Actualization/ Humanistic" Approach

Personalize learning through assessment including accommodations for students (i.e. universal supports, IPPs, etc.); create and implement Independent Program Plans (IPPs) to support student learning; allow for choice in assignment/task representation; assess level of understanding through various modes (verbal, written, visual, etc.); value self-assessment & goal-setting

Development of Cognitive Processes

Regular formative feedback, reflection and development of common language around cognitive skills (i.e. problem solving, observation, inferring, etc.); use of this skill-based language in reporting; implement self-assessment

Technology

Conceptions I

Geoffrey Sayre-McCord

Conceptions I:

Iterative Conceptions of Set Neil Barton, 2024-06-30 Many philosophers are aware of the paradoxes of set theory e.g Russell's paradox. For many people these were solved by the iterative conception of set which holds that sets are formed in stages by collecting sets available at previous stages. This Element will examine possibilities for articulating this solution. In particular the author argues that there are different kinds of iterative conception and it's open which of them if any is the best. Along the way the author hopes to make some of the underlying mathematical and philosophical ideas behind tricky bits of the philosophy of set theory clear for philosophers more widely and make their relationships to some other questions in philosophy perspicuous.

Conceptions of Set and the Foundations of Mathematics Luca Incurvati, 2020-01-23 Presents a detailed and critical examination of the available conceptions of set and proposes a novel version.

Property Rights and Bijuralism Jan Jakob Bornheim, 2020-10-12 Using the Canadian experience as a model Jan Jakob Bornheim shows that the efficient interaction of common law and civil law can take place on both vertical and horizontal planes.

Ethics, Economy and Social Science Bali Har Sanghera, Gideon Calder, 2022-07-18 This book is a collection of critical engagements with Andrew Sayer one of the foremost postdisciplinary thinkers of our times with responses from Sayer himself. Sayer's ground-breaking contributions to the fields of geography, political economy and social theory have reshaped the terms of engagement with issues and debates running from the methodology of social science through to the environment and industrial development to the ethical dimensions of everyday life. Transatlantic scholars across a wide range of fields explore his work across four main areas: critical realism, moral economy, political economy and relations between social theory, normativity and class. This is the first full-length critical assessment of Sayer's work. It will be of interest to readers in sociology, economics, political economy, social and political philosophy, ethics, social policy, geography and urban studies from upper undergraduate levels upwards.

Evaluation in Planning Ernest R. Alexander, 2006 Evaluation is a critical stage in urban and regional planning and development with the consideration of alternative proposals essential for informed debate and decision. The craft of pre-development evaluation has long been influenced by Nathaniel Lichfi.

Religion and the Obligations of Citizenship Paul J. Weithman, 2002-08-15 In Religion and the Obligations of Citizenship Paul J. Weithman asks whether citizens in a liberal democracy may base their votes and their public political arguments on their religious beliefs. Drawing on empirical studies of how religion actually functions in politics he challenges the standard view that citizens who rely on religious reasons must be prepared to make good their arguments by appealing to reasons that are accessible to others. He contends that churches contribute to democracy by enriching political debate and by facilitating political participation especially among the poor and minorities and as a consequence citizens acquire religiously based political views and diverse views of their own citizenship. He concludes that the philosophical view which most defensibly accommodates this diversity is one that allows ordinary citizens to draw on the views their churches have formed when voting and offering public arguments for their political positions The Grounds of Political Legitimacy Fabienne Peter, 2023 Fabienne Peter argues that political legitimacy doesn't just depend on respect for the will of the citizens The Grounds of Political Legitimacy compares democratic and non-democratic conceptions of legitimacy and develops a novel hybrid conception of the grounds of political legitimacy Legal Indeterminacy and Constitutional Interpretation J.J. Moreso, 2013-04-17 The main purpose of this book is to offer a logical analysis of legal propositions especially of constitutional propositions This analysis shows the relationship between truth conditions of legal propositions and the problem of indeterminacy Where the law is indeterminate legal propositions lack truth values The background of this approach is the philosophical debate between realism and antirealism The book deals with the notions of legal norms and legal systems and provides an analysis of the notion of legal indeterminacy and its relation to gaps contradictions and the vagueness of legal concepts It shows also that the simple model of a legal system is not sufficient to account for the complexity of legal propositions referring to legal systems of some degree of maturity Several notions from legal dynamics are presented in order to bring to light the importance of concepts like applicability or hierarchy for the determination of the truth value of a legal proposition Thus the primacy of constitution becomes a central idea in the theoretical reconstruction of most contemporary legal systems a conceptual explanation of this idea is presented and some conclusions from that explanation are drawn Finally a particular conception of constitutional interpretation is proposed Special attention is paid to the relationship between interpretation and legal indeterminacy and more specifically to the problem of the discretion enjoyed by the organs entrusted with applying the constitution and also to the several theses that have been discussed controversially in the context of constitutional interpretation such as the relevance of the intentions for the interpretation of the constitution and for the justification of judicial review Moral and Political Conceptions of Human Rights Reidar Maliks, Johan Karlsson Schaffer, 2017-07-25 Human rights can be understood as moral or political This volume shows how this distinction matters for theory and practice In the Morning Land, Or, The Law of the Origin and Transformation of Christianity John Stuart Stuart Glennie, 1873 Credo Karl Barth, 2005-03-10 This important book by a theologian regarded as the most eminent of this century explains the Apostle's Creed as a foundation of the Christian religion Tait's Edinburgh magazine, 1855 Cognition Through Understanding Tyler Burge, 2013-03-28 Cognition Through Understanding presents a selection of Tyler Burge's essays on cognition thought and language The essays collected here use epistemology as a way of interpreting underlying powers of mind and focus on four types of cognition that are warranted through understanding self knowledge interlocution reasoning and reflection Never Again William Starbuck Mayo, 1873 Naked Krista K. Thomason, 2018 Shame is a Jekyll and Hyde emotion it can be morally valuable but it also has a dark side Thomason presents a philosophically rigorous and nuanced account of shame that accommodates its harmful and helpful aspects Thomason argues that despite its obvious drawbacks and moral ambiguity shame's place in our lives is essential Oxford Studies in Normative Ethics Mark

Timmons, 2013 In this volume leading philosophers advance our understanding of a wide range of moral issues and positions from analysis of competing normative theories to questions of how we should act and live well Essays on Moral Realism
Geoffrey Sayre-McCord, 1988 This collection of influential essays illustrates the range depth and importance of moral realism the fundamental issues it raises and the problems it faces The Elements of Thermal Chemistry Matthew Moncrieff
Pattison Muir, 1885 The Works of Thomas Reid Thomas Reid, Dugald Stewart, 1872 Mental Philosophy Joseph
