

Self-Concept

Self-concepts are:

- An individual's mental representation of themselves
- Constructed from experiences and reflections from those experiences
- People get feedback about their personal attributes, characteristics, and preferences
- People translate their multitude of specific experiences into a general representation of the self
- A collection of domain specific schemas
- The self-schemas that are involved in the definition of the self-concept are those that are most important to the person

Self-schemas are:

- Cognitive generalizations about the self that are domain specific and learned from past experiences

Activity

With your group, please begin by defining your self concept by recounting the experiences and feedback in your life that led you to define yourself as you did in the first activity.

Please also think of domain specific generalizations about yourself and the experiences and feedback you received that led you to develop these self schemas

Concepts Of The Self:

Concepts of the Self Anthony Elliott,2001 The Self Concept in Theory, Measurement, Development, and Behaviour Robert Bruce Burns,1979 The Self-Concept Louis Oppenheimer,2012-12-06 From the Preface The purpose of this book is to present the state of the art of the study of the self concept in Eastern and Western Europe It offers an overview of the type of questions points of emphasis employed methodologies and major findings in the various European countries while some of the issues treated in this book relate to well researched areas in the study of the self concept others present new ideas approaches and methodologies The Concept of Self Richard L. Allen,2001-04-01 The Concept of Self examines the historical basis for the widely misunderstood ideas of how African Americans think of themselves individually and how they relate to being part of a group that has been subjected to challenges of their very humanity The Self-system Annerieke Oosterwegel,Louis Oppenheimer,2013-05-13 This book presents a longitudinal study dealing with developmental changes within and between self concepts and their relation to personal functioning Within the psychological literature and the developmental literature in particular the interest in the ideas people hold about themselves and their relation with personal functioning is rapidly growing This interest is reinforced by the emphasis on individuality in Western society The self system is now thought to consist of a collection of self concepts in which a distinction is made between domain specific self concepts the real and ideal and context related self concepts the academic the athletic and the social It is also considered to be subjective rather than objective This subjective self involves characteristics such as continuity and distinctiveness from others These characteristics have been the primary focus of recent research In existing literature on the development of the self system little is known about the structural characteristics that is developmental changes in the interrelationships among domain specific and context related self concepts or between and within self concepts Similarly little information is available about the relationships between individuals real and ideal self concepts their perceived concepts of others and the actual ideas others have about the same individuals This book integrates hitherto separate and different components or aspects of self knowledge into one encompassing multidimensional self system The Concept of Self in Education, Family, and Sports Anne P. Prescott,2006 The issue of self concept is central to the studies and practices of education and psychology The varying degrees of self esteem that exist between individuals can offer insight into the varying degrees of health and efficiency that exist for individuals in the worlds of education family and sport The research presented in this book are the latest explorations of how self concept translates into and has an effect on these far reaching and unavoidable aspects of life

The Self Explained Roy F. Baumeister,2022-04-12 The idea of the self is immediately familiar to everyone yet elusive to define and understand From pioneering researcher Roy F Baumeister this volume synthesizes a vast body of knowledge to provide a panoramic view of the human self how it develops and functions why it exists and what problems it encounters on the journey through life What are the benefits of self knowledge and how attainable is it Do we have one self or many What is the relationship of self and society In 28 concise chapters Baumeister explains complex concepts with clarity and insight He reveals the central role played by the self in enabling both individuals and cultures to thrive Self-Concept, Motivation and Identity Frédéric Guay, Herbert Marsh, Dennis M. McInerney, Rhonda G. Craven, 2015-06-01 The concept of the Self has a long history that dates back from the ancient Greeks such as Aristotle to more contemporary thinkers such as Wundt James Mead Cooley Freud Rogers and Erikson Tesser Felson 2000 Research on the Self relates to a range of phenomena including self esteem self concept self protection self verification self awareness identity self efficacy self determination etc that could be sharply different or very similar Despite this long tradition of thinkers and the numerous studies conducted on the Self this concept is still not very well defined More precisely it is not a precise object of study but rather a collection of loosely related subtopics Baumesiter 1998 Also in the philosophical literature the legitimacy of the concept of self has been brought into question Some authors have argued that the self is not a psychological entity per se but rather an illusion created by the complex interplay between cognitive and neurological subsystems Zahavi 2005 Although no definitive consensus has been reached regarding the Self we emphasis in this volume that the Self and its related phenomena including self concept motivation and identity are crucial for understanding consciousness and therefore important to understand human behavior Self concept motivation and identity Underpinning success with research and practice provides thus a unique insight into self concept and its relationship to motivation and identity from varied theoretical and empirical perspectives This volume is intended to develop both theoretical and methodological ideas and to present empirical evidence demonstrating the importance of theory and research to effective practice Research in Indigenous Chinese Psychology Research in Indigenous Chinese Psychology Research in Personality Transformation and Modernity Research in Indigenous Chinese Psychology Self-Concept John Hattie, 2014-03-05 The aim of this book is to discuss the notions of self concept self esteem and related terms from an educational and psychological perspective Specifically this book is concerned with developing a model of self concept and corollaries to this model that assesses the dimensionality of self concept reviews tests of self concept discusses the relationship between self concept and other variables particularly achievement describes the development of self concept and evaluates programs to enhance self concept Throughout this volume emphasis is placed on ordering the many studies using recent methodological advances such as meta analysis and the analysis of covariance structures After detailing a conceptual model of self concept the book offers various experimental and statistical discussions of the model Unlike many other models the claim is not that this model is the correct one but that it may serve as a useful coathanger until a better one is devised A STUDY OF SELF-CONCEPT OF INTERMEDIATE STUDENTS IN RELATION TO THEIR FEELING OF SECURITY CHERUKURI NARAYANAMMA, 2020-10-14 The Concept of Self Kenneth J. Gergen, 1971 Self Concept, the Enemy Within Kevin Everett Fitzmaurice, 1989-09-01 Handbook of Self and Identity Mark R. Leary, June Price Tangney, 2012-01-01 Widely regarded as the authoritative reference in the field this volume comprehensively reviews theory and research on the self Leading investigators address this essential construct at multiple levels of analysis from neural pathways to complex social and cultural dynamics Coverage includes how individuals gain self awareness agency and a sense of identity self related motivation and emotion the role of the self in interpersonal behavior and self development across evolutionary time and the lifespan Connections between self processes and psychological problems are also addressed New to This Edition Incorporates significant theoretical and empirical advances Nine entirely new chapters Coverage of the social and cognitive neuroscience of self processes self regulation and health self and emotion and hypoegeic states such as mindfulness

Introduction to Personality Walter Mischel,Yuichi Shoda,Ozlem Ayduk,2007-09-10 This Eighth Edition reflects the new developments within personality psychology and gives the student a picture of the field as a cumulative integrative science that builds on its rich past and now allows a much more coherent view of the whole functioning individual in the social world This revision subtitled Toward an Integrative Science of the Person is committed to making that integration and its practical applications and personal relevance to everyday life even more clear and compelling for our students In this new edition the focus is placed on distilling how findings at each of the six major levels of analysis of personality trait disposition biological psychodynamic motivational behavioral conditioning phenomenological humanistic and social cognitive still speak to and inform each other and how they add to the current state of the science and its continuing growth

Self-Knowledge and the Self David A Jopling,2002-09-11 In this clear and reasoned discussion of self knowledge and the self the author asks whether it is really possible to know ourselves as we really are He illuminates issues about the nature of self identity which are of fundamental importance in moral psychology epistemology and literary criticism Jopling focuses on the accounts of Stuart Hampshire Jean Paul Sartre and Richard Rorty and dialogical philosophical psychology and illustrates his argument with examples from literature drama and psychology

The Nature and Nurture of Learners Meryl Englander,2010-04-21

Prospective and in service teachers are the intended readers of this book Teaching involves much more than dispensing knowledge Teaching is a process of arranging activities that will enable individuals to learn and behave appropriately The appropriateness of the activities depends on the degree they interact with the status of the targeted individuals Just as physicians need to know about the nature of the human body and carpenters need to know about the nature of wood teachers need to know about the nature of people that is related to learning and behavior Thereby the focus of this text is the relevant personal characteristics the intellect motivation and sense of self each of which influence learning and behavior Research findings and models within educational psychology are used to define the relevant human personal characteristics In order to arrange meaningful activities teachers strive to achieve selected objectives The text identifies four broad objectives within which specific lesson objectives can be identified The objectives themselves and more particularly the proposed activities must be oriented around the personal characteristics of the targeted learners Age grade level ethnic background and gender are insufficient indicators of learner qualifications Relevant information for learning are within individual learners as exhibited through behavior Observations are the key indicators of learner readiness to learn The text recommends that students begin now to develop skills for identifying the status of learners and classroom conditions through interviews noting various classroom behaviors and analyzing the findings by developing portfolios Small group discussions are encouraged so that students can share skills in analyzing real problems and thereby develop habits and skills for working with colleagues

Origins of the Right of Self-Defence in International Law Tadashi Mori, 2018-02-12 This book examines a long standing dispute regarding the prerequisite for the exercise of the right to self defence and aims to offer a possible better alternatives for interpreting the significance of the precondition provided for in the Article 51 of the United Nations Charter by taking a historical perspective on the development of that concept from the mid 19th century to 1945 The book defines the right of self defence as understood in and before 1945 suggesting the typology which represents the strata of the concept It will contribute to the current debate regarding the right of self defence in contemporary international law including that against terrorism by providing a framework to analyse the state practice since 1945 Cultural Conceptions of Mental Health and Therapy Anthony J. Marsella, G. White, 1982-04-30 Within the past two decades there has been an increased interest in the study of culture and mental health relationships This interest has extended across many academic and professional disciplines including anthropology psychology sociology psychiatry public health and social work and has resulted in many books and scientific papers emphasizing the role of sociocultural factors in the etiology epidemiology manifestation and treatment of mental disorders It is now evident that sociocultural variables are inextricably linked to all aspects of both normal and abnormal human behavior But in spite of the massive accumulation of data regarding culture and mental health relationships sociocultural factors have still not been incorporated into existing biological and psychological perspectives on mental disorder and therapy Psychiatry the Western medical specialty concerned with mental disorders has for the most part continued to ignore socio cultural factors in its theoretical and applied approaches to the problem The major reason for this is psychiatry s continued commitment to a disease conception of mental disorder which assumes that mental disorders are largely biologically caused illnesses which are universally represented in etiology and manifestation Within this perspective mental disorders are regarded as caused by universal processes which lead to discrete and recognizable symptoms regardless of the culture in which they occur However this perspective is now the subject of growing criticism and debate
