centric version of history dominated Afghan history and the political process from 1880 to the 1970s Alternative discourses made no appearance in the fledgling state which lacked the scholarly institutions and any sense of recognition for history thus providing no alternatives to the narratives produced by the British whose quasi colonial influence in the region was supreme Since 1970 the ongoing crises in Afghanistan have opened the space for non Pashtuns including Tajiks Hazaras and Uzbeks to form new definitions of identity challenge the official discourse and call for the re writing of the long established narrative At the same time the Pashtun camp through their privileged position in the political settlements of 2001 have attempted to confront the desire for change in historical perceptions by re emphasising the Pashtun domination of Afghan history This crisis of hegemony has led to a deep antagonism between the Pashtun and non Pashtun perspectives of Afghan history and threatens the stability of political process in the country
